PRINCE EDWARD

SIX TIMES STRONGER FOX NETTING

Prince Edward Fox Netting is made principally for use in the salt-laden air of the Maritime Provinces and is extra heavily galvanized before weaving and after, making each twist in each mesh a braided and oxidized immovable joint; every mesh is true to size and strongly woven, while the Netting is further strengthened by extra strands of wire on top, bottom and ends. Every roll has a guaranteed length of 150 feet, and opens out flat and smooth, making a straight non-bagging and non-sagging wall when erected.

"Some can manage 40, others even reach 45 before they get too old," Macartney replied. "The world is short of fast bowlers at the moment," he said. "In Australia they are always on the look out for new blood, but I can't tell what material they'll have for the next Test." Macartney said that his visit was entirely for sight-seeing—to show his wife the Old Country. "She went to Australia when she was very young," he explained. "She is a native of Belfast."

Australian Cricketer Off On A Holiday

LONDON, May 19. — C. G. Macartney, the famous Australian cricketer, has arrived in London with an Irish wife, but he has no intention of playing cricket. "Although I shall be here until September," he informed a reporter, "I don't think I shall play a single game. And I'm not hurrying back to Australia for the season. I have retired."

"At what age does a cricketer's life end?" asked the reporter.
