was down stairs, is living at the home of the grandfather. He is expected to be one of the chief witnesses when Mrs. MacIntosh, who was charged with the murder yesterday, appears for preliminary hearing next week.

Young MacIntosh told a coroner's inquest his father's death had been preceded immediately by an argument between the parents "over this Elizabeth racket." He told also of finding a blood-stained knife in the pantry of the house. MacIntosh's English-born wife did not appear at the inquest, but from her hospital bed she dictated to police a statement which the jurors received. Its contents were not disclosed with other evidence made public following two closed sessions in the MacIntosh home.

ENJOYED MOTOR TRIP

Among the motorists from Summerside to Charlottetown last Saturday were Mrs. J. S. Hinton, Mrs. (Dr.) Harry Allen, Mrs. Schaefer, Mrs. John Howatt, Mrs. Marion Campbell and Mr. R. S. Hinton. They called at the "Birchwood Flower Gardens", Cornwall, to view and enjoy the wonderful display of thousands of tulips and other flowering plants and shrubs. Wonderful smooth lawns with the beautiful blue waters of the West River in the distance, is certainly a sight to move one to higher thoughts, and to feel as Browne did when he wrote "A Garden is a Lovesome Place, God wot." From there the party proceeded to East Royalty, where they were the guests of Mr. B. L. Howatt.

The dispute probably will end before the Supreme Court of Canada but the assembly today sidestepped legal complications.

A committee headed by Rev. W. G. Brown, Saskatoon, Sask., former Moderator, recommended a motion re-affirming the church's claim to the name. It was withdrawn finally after several delegates said it would weaken, not strengthen the cause of the church. The name was being used, had been used and, despite motions, would continue to be used until a court ordered its discontinuance.

Supporting the Canadian Legion, the assembly today passed a resolution requesting the Dominion Government to proclaim Thanksgiving on a Sunday and establish Remembrance Day as a public holiday.

RECITAL LARGELY ATTENDED

The recital given last evening in Zion Church Hall, by the pupils of Prof. Thompson was a very pleasing event, and was given to a large and appreciative audience.

Part one, consisting of eleven numbers was given by the younger pupils who performed their numbers admirably. Their appearance and deportment were charming. Mention perhaps should be made of the chorus, Sullivan's "O Hush Thee My Babe". The shading was well done and the two part singing in the refrain was very effective.

Part two consisted of piano, vocal and organ selections by the more advanced pupils. The piano pieces and songs were all well known and favorite selections. Brilliant execution, style, sympathetic touch and expression were noticeable features of the piano playing, while the vocal numbers afforded a pleasing variety of style.

The rule of "No Encores" had to be broken in two of the songs.

The organ solo, Batiste's Offertoire in D Minor, played by Mr. Alec McLean made a fitting climax to a very enjoyable program.

The stage was charmingly decorated with ferns and a variety of early summer flowers, kindly given by Mrs. John A. Williams and others. The stage furniture was kindly loaned by The Holton Furniture Company.

On Trial For Alleged Theft Of Silver Fox

The case of the King vs. Harris Pye, charged with breaking and entering a fox ranch in Lot 16 and stealing a female fox was opened at the Supreme Court, Summerside yesterday morning, before the Chief Justice and a jury. Mr. J. A. McDonald, K. C., and Mr. E. H. Strong, K. C., were acting for the Crown; Mr. Thane A. Campbell, K. C., and W. E. Darby appeared for the defense.

The jury sitting on the case are George B. Wess, Foreman, Parnell McMahon, Chester Howard, Percy Allen, James Williams, Beatty Crozier, Joseph L. Gallant, Arthur Wright, Alexander Deighan, Bruce Curtis, Harry Oullette and Claude Delaney.

The first witness called was Miss Hazel Miller, the owner of the fox alleged to have been stolen which was a light silver female. The fox had been ranched on witness' father's place, Mr. Wm. Miller, at Lot 16. It was placed in the ranch in October and was there until Dec. 11th. On the 12th it was missing. Witness valued the fox at $100 as she kept it for breeding purposes.

It was in the pen on Sunday evening, Dec. 11th and on the 12th it was missing. She saw the pet of the fox in a house in Freetown on April 21st. She recognized it. It had not been dressed at that time. Alvira Miller, sister of the previous witness corroborated her sister's evidence. She noticed the wire had been cut in the pen where the fox had been kept. Mr. William Miller also testified to the fox being missing and the wire cut.

The afternoon session was taken up with the hearing of the crown witnesses; Thomas D. Carruthers who gave evidence as to the value of the fox pelt and identification. Other witnesses were Percy Miller, Charles R. Stavert, Goulding Reeves, Corp. K. W. H. Engel, constable Charlis W. McArthur and Col. Uirie G. Dawson.

Mr. T. A. Campbell K. C. opened the case for the defense after which the court adjourned until 10.30 this morning when the prisoner will go on the stand on his own behalf.

The Standing Committee on Agriculture held 30 meetings on the milk-enquiry and took the evidence of 40 witnesses, the evidence comprising 1,000 pages of printed matter.

ANNUAL MEETING

The adjourned annual meeting of the Island Guardian Publishing Co. will be held in the office of the Company, Charlottetown, P. E. I., Friday, June 30, at 2 p.m.

D. A. MacKINNON, Lt.-Col. Secretary.

FIRST GENERAL

organization referred to was a nation-wide organization, employing a permanent secretary.

A letter with reference to a good-will air tour sponsored by the Associated Flying Clubs, was read.

It was moved by Mr. E. M. Phillips and seconded by Mr. J. P. Hillon that the Club become affiliated with the Canadian Flying Clubs Association. The motion was carried unanimously.

Dr. Jenkins stated that it was probable that the instructor would be permitted to go to points outside the city to give instruction from a licensed field provided there were sufficient students.

Mr. A. R. Brennan, Summerside, reported a strong sentiment among business men in Summerside in favour of the establishment of an airport there. Mr. Pope had given an outstanding demonstration of air-mindedness. Mr. Brennan believed that the air travel would come as surely as had travel by automobile.

A letter setting forth a tentative itinerary received by Pilot Fowler from Mr. Ross, President of the Associated Canadian Clubs, was read. The date suggested for Charlottetown was August 21. Pilot Fowler thought that the Canadian Airways according to custom would co-operate with the Club and stand behind the pageant project.

Dr. Jenkins made a motion that the Secretary be instructed to write the Associated Flying Clubs and convey the information that the Club was desirous of having the pageant here.

A committee to provide entertainment for the visiting airman was appointed, composed of Dr. Jenkins, Messrs. Walter Fowler, and Herbert Brown, Councillor B. R. Holman and Mr. E. M. Phillips.

Councillor B. Roy Holman made reference to the work done by Dr. Jenkins in the interest of flying, in the building of an airport without cost to the city or province. The value of the air service for business purposes was stressed by the speaker. He would do all he could to help flying in any way.

Dr. Jenkins made reference to the presence of one of the lady students at the meeting. The press had been very helpful, but the public had not been sympathetic.

Three years ago Capt. Boyd had visited here and as a result the speaker became air-minded. The Board of Trade desired an air service, but found that an airport would be necessary. A committee of the Board had waited upon the speaker and he had agreed that he would provide the field free of cost. Last year the Upton Airport had been leased to the Canadian Airways. Every citizen of the Province should get behind the service, Dr. Jenkins believed. The speaker thanked Councillor Holman for his presence, and expressed surprise that various organizations had not representatives present. Through lack of vigilance, Dr. Jenkins believed, Charlottetown had lost out on the visit of the Italian flyers, who were going to Shediac, N. B. The plan was to put a Transatlantic service in operation, and Charlottetown should have been the base in this section of Canada. He believed that a committee should interview the leader of the Italian squadron and make strong representations to have the Charlottetown Airport favourably considered.

Training for aviation could be provided more cheaply than for any other profession, Dr. Jenkins stated, while discussing flying instruction.

It was moved by Dr. Jenkins and seconded by Councillor Holman, that the thanks of the Aero Club be extended to the Minister of Public Works, Hon. G. S. Sharp, for assistance given, and to his predecessor in office, Mr. J. P. MacIntyre.

Councillor Holman suggested that a monthly meeting of the Club should be held in conjunction with a dinner or luncheon.

The suggestion was referred to the incoming executive.

Following were the officers elected:

Honorary President — Dr. J. S. Jenkins.

President — Mr. W. S. Grant.

Vice-presidents: Prince, Mr. A. R. Brennan; Kings, Mr. J. P. MacIntyre; Queens, Councillor B. R. Holman.

Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. Ivan Reddin.

Executive Committee—Messrs. J. P. Hillon, Fowler, E. M. Phillips, Mr. Justice Arsenault, Harry Barrett, Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, W. H. V. Dunbar.

The President complimented the various pilots who had been on the air route, particularly Pilot Fowler. He expressed thanks to the Press and the City Council.

QUEBEC, June 15—(C.P.)—Hon. Wesley Gordon, Dominion Minister of Labor, has not supplied the Quebec Government with necessary information to take action against alleged coal combine operators in this Province, Premier L. A. Taschereau said in a statement issued here today.

THREE DAY

Import or export of either goods or currencies, Mexico advocated the rehabilitation of silver.

Senator Joseph Connolly of the Irish Free State suggested the bank for international settlements should be made a clearing house for international exchange. Growing out of this organization he would like to see an international clearing house for commodities. Latvia argued overproduction in overseas countries had contributed to the fall in the prices of raw materials.

Premier G. W. Forbes of New Zealand was the last speaker. He held there must be a scaling down of public and private debts alike.

"It is proper that I should state," he added, "that producers in New Zealand are most reluctant to agree to limitation either of exports or production. We look to the removal of trade barriers and to the restoration of purchasing power to enable the increasing supplies to be absorbed. It was in anticipation of expanding her markets that New Zealand borrowed to the extent she has, for capital development."

LONDON, June 15—(Canadian Press and Associated Press Cable)—After being blocked for three days by opposition of the French, heading the gold standard countries, the United States tonight finally won the important key post of chairmanship of the Monetary Committee of the World Economic Conference. It was widely reported in conference circles that in return they had promised an important degree of dollar stabilization.

At the same time Anglo-American financial experts forecast early stabilization of the dollar and the pound. Financial quarters believed that stabilization of the dollar and the pound had been all but accomplished already, for the pound fell from $4.12 early in the day to $4.05 in terms of United States funds at the close, after persistent rumors that $4.05 had been decided upon as the figure at which stabilization would start.

The objections to the choice of Governor James M. Cox of the United States delegation as Chairman of the Monetary Committee evaporated after a conference between the former Ohio Governor and James P. Warburg, also of the American group, with Finance Minister Georges Bonnet of France, who had been a candidate for the post.

Soviet Resolution

In line with the recent speech of Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, the Soviet delegation today proposed to the conference a resolution which in effect is an amendment to the tariff truce. Under it all signatories would pledge themselves to "withdraw reciprocally irrespective of the motive underlying them, all legislative and administrative measures already passed by them and still in force having the nature of economic aggression or discrimination against any one country, such as: Special customs duties placed on goods from any country, prohibition of export to and import from any one country; all special conditions for the same and boycott of trade with any one country."

So far this sweeping Soviet resolution has received merely formal mention before the conference.

The general contributions to the final debate came after Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada had aligned himself "wholeheartedly" with the policy set forward by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on behalf of the United Kingdom yesterday.

Premier Bennett declared the two greatest trading nations of the world—the United Kingdom and the United States—should stabilize their currencies without delay, and Canada would endeavor to stabilize her dollar likewise. He urged the tariff truce be supplemented "in the next few weeks" by general tariff reductions. And he pleaded the special case of Canada as the fifth greatest trading nation in the world, as one of the world's greatest wheat exporting countries. The huge carryover of wheat which continued to depress wheat prices should be absorbed by steps taken by the exporting nations to contract the available supply, chiefly by reduction of acreage, he urged, and simultaneously the wheat importing nations should consider the feasibility of increasing their purchases.

Other Countries

Repeated attacks on economic nationalism, repeated declarations of a desire to free the channels of international trade, featured the closing speeches. Turkey was taking steps towards abolition of quota restrictions on imports, said Tewfik Aushdi Bey. Albania prided herself on being one of the few countries which had put no limits on itation of production coupled with serious consideration by importing countries of feasible methods for increasing their purchases.

Mr. Bennett held the accumulated world carryover of 350,000,000 bushels, still barring any major price advance, could be absorbed effectively only by international agreement involving possible limitation of further production until the carryover has been used. He suggested importing countries take complementary measures to enlarge their purchases coincidentally with contraction of supply.

The British delegation was reported in reliable quarters to view Canada's attitude with favor, holding itself ready to give consideration to "any workable scheme it suggested. Its attitude was described by the Canadian Prime Minister as "reassuring."
