LET SOMETHING GOOD BE SAID

"When over the fair name of friend or foe
The shadow of disgrace shall fall;
Of words of blame or proof of thus and so,
Let something good be said."

These are the words of James Whitcomb Riley, and how they do find the vulnerable point in the armor of our charity! Few indeed are those so charitable that they will not wag their heads, once a neighbor is convicted of wrong, and add their "proof of this and so."
"I always had my suspicions," we say, self-righteously, "but I didn't want to talk scandal, so I held my tongue. Now that I know how just my suspicions really were I don't mind telling you—." And so on and on and on through the miserable details all supposed to glorify our own quickness of perception and our wonderful restraint in having so long maintained silence on the matter.

On the same principle we resolutely refuse to criticize the action of a neighbor in the ears of her friend. "I don't want to break up any friendships," we say, virtuously, and it is virtue, too, as far as it goes, but once we find a fellow-critic how we do revel. "She doesn't like her anyway," is the justification. "I'm really doing no harm, and it eases my soul to just blurt out what I think of that woman."

Very human—all this—but isn't it "hitting a fellow when he's down?" Isn't it the very place where we wince, if we have any of the sportsman spirit that we sometimes claim, can we try it out? If we have forebore so long to speak, can we not stick it out a little longer and not add one quanta to the weight that crushes? Can't we go further, even, when we:
"Forget not that no fellow-being yet
May fall so low but love may lift his head;
Even the check of shame with tears
is wet
If something good be said."

THE CENTRAL GUARDIAN

It Pays to buy in this Province.

(From yesterday's Evening Guardian) NORTH RUSTICO.—At the Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening Nov. 2nd there will be preaching at 7.30.

BUSINESS TRANSFERRED.—The North Atlantic Fisheries Ltd., have transferred their Branch office "in North Rustico, to Lower Woods Harbor, N. S., and have retained as their accountant Mr. Thorne MacNeill who was in the branch-office here. This is one of the largest fish firms doing business in Canada and Mr. MacNeill holds a most responsible position.

WEDDING BELLS.—Robert Banks of North Bend, Oregon, was married to Miss Margaret Fisher, formerly of Fort Augustus, P. E. Island, at the Paulist Church, San Francisco, on Sunday evening, October 12. After honeymooning in this state for several weeks, the happy couple will make their home in North Bend, where Mr. Banks, who is a native of Popular Point, P. E. I., is a member of the well known shipbuilding firm of Krueze & Banks.

MISSED OPPORTUNITY.—The North Sydney Herald says that a pair of foxes, one red and the other a pretty good silver patch, were brought here on the steamer Bellaventure by Capt. Rendell last week, from the Hudson Bay. The animals were advertised to be sold by tender, and were purchased by Claire Austin, for the ranch at Whyocomagah, which is owned by a syndicate, of which he is one. The price secured by Capt. Rendell was $3,700, which will amply repay the commander of the Bellaventure, who, it is said, secured the foxes for something in the vicinity of $700. Mr. Len Wood, of Charlottetown, arrived here a few hours too late to bid on the animals. He would have given a few hundred higher for to have one of the foxes.

NEW FOX COMPANY.—The North Sydney Herald says:—We have been favored by a visit by Mr. A. C. Jardine, of St. John, N. B., the treasurer of this company, who is here for a few days in connection with the business. Mr. Jardine is a well known and prominent citizen of St. John, and the directorate of the Company are all well known men, and their references, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and the Union Bank of Canada, are well known institutions. We have looked over the Company's prospectus, which is business-like, clear and forsooth information. The history of fox farming in Prince Edward Island shows it to be wonderfully profitable. Mr. Taylor, the manager of this company, is well known in P. E. Island, and is a successful fox breeder who has made a fortune in the business. The success of the Smith ranch, of which he was manager recently, paid a forty per cent. dividend, a fact which is largely attributed to the management.

PATRIOTIC MEN.—The Boston correspondent of The Typographical Journal has the following personal mention in the October issue of that publication: Mr. A. McInnis of Oakland, Cal., a delegate from No. 36 to the Nashville convention, has been visiting craft friends in Boston while on his way to Prince Edward Island, the land of his birth. McInnis conducts a very much up-to-date printing office in the bustling California city. Like most Prince Edward Islanders, he is intensely loyal to the land of his origin, and his fealty finds an outlet in the publication of The Maple Leaf, a monthly magazine designed and prepared solely for the edification of the many Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick people now dwelling in the El Dorado State. And here comes another Prince Edward Islander, Hedley H. Bagnall of Chicago, now reading proof in the printing department of Sears-Roebuck, has been visiting relatives and friends in Massachusetts, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Mr. Bagnall worked in Boston thirty years ago, and will be remembered by many of the old-timers. He is a brother of Cecil T. Bagnall, editor of the Turner's Falls (Mass.) Reporter.

S. S. TEACHER TRAINING.—In reference to the report given in yesterday's Guardian of the Teacher Training Department of the S. S. Association work, it may be stated that Department explained that the work of Rev. A. J. McNeill, (of Murray River) his predecessor, had a good deal to do with the present good standing of the Department. For, while Mr. McNeill was superintendent several classes were organized and several had written the first books of the T. T. Course, and now some who had finished the whole course were receiving diplomas—the work extending over two years. The class at Tryon had 24 members, Inspector Boulter was the teacher. Rev. Geb. Orman was the teacher this year for Cornwall and Kingston classes. Rev. H. Miller was teacher of the Montague class this year. He had been teacher at Cornwall and Kingston prior to Mr. Orman. Rev. R. P. Murray did not prepare examination papers. He was the examiner. He exercised the greatest care in examining the papers in order that no candidate should receive credit for work he had not done well. Those receiving the International Diploma were: Mr. Hugh McMillan, Miss McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hyde and Mr. John Hearty, Cornwall. Misses Bessie McLure, Susan Murray, Debbie Linkletter, Annie Linkletter, Harry Linkletter, Miss Myrtle Stewart, Miss Janie Murray, Miss Harker, Miss Edith Arthur and Miss Mabel Murray. Rev. C. E. Armstrong was their teacher. The graduates were warmly applauded as they came forward and received their Diplomas from the hand of Dr. McElfresh.

(From yesterday's Evening Guardian) VERNON RIVER CIRCUIT.—The pastor will exchange with Rev. Hugh Miller of Montague next Sunday. Services will be held in Vernon River Church at 10.45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Also in Cherry Valley Church at 2.30 p. m.

McLEOD-MILLS WEDDING.—A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, 30 Compton Avenue, Halifax, on Wednesday, Oct. 15th, at 1.30 p. m. of Miss Greta L. McLeod and Alex. E. Mills of Glenelg, Guysboro, N. S. The bride wore a travelling suit of brown woolpelt with velour hat to match. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leon H. Jewett, of Murray Harbor, P. E. I., brother-in-law of the bride. Mrs. R. Roy Campbell played the wedding march. After refreshments were served the happy couple left amidst showers of confetti for a trip by the Maritime express. They will be "at home" after 1st November, at Campbell.

PRESENTATION.—Rev. T. J. Deinstadt, pastor of Carmarthen St. Church, St. John, formerly of P. E. Island who completed fifty years of active ministry in the Methodist Church, at the Conference of 1913, was waited upon last week by his brother ministers in the city, and in the name of the Conference presented with a handsomely printed and framed address, appreciative of his character as a man and his work as a minister. As a preacher, Mr. Deinstadt has been definitely evangelistic and many extensive revivals have attended his ministry. The address concludes: "Your conference delights to know that after these many years of labor you are still found in active service and it offers its prayers that you may be long spared to stand in the ranks with those who engage in warfare for the triumph of Christ's kingdom on earth; that the great spiritual good may be the portion of yourself, your wife and family, and that the remaining years of life may be blessed with the companionship and favor of our Father in Heaven." Many friends outside his conference will join in these good wishes.

Invest in a Proposition where Dividends are SURE and Moderately Large

You are today offered a chance to invest in the reserved Treasury Stock of a sound, profitable business—one of the leading companies of its kind in the Maritime Provinces—namely

Bruce Stewart & Company, Limited Makers of the Famous Imperial Motors

The company has been paying a good dividend and the records show a net profit of nearly 20 p. c. each year. But the one great drawback all along has been lack of available capital. It is estimated conservatively that the issuing of this reserved Treasury Stock will make possible a saving of $4,000,000 a year in expenses, not to include the assured increase in business that is inevitable.

Need for More Capital	Facts Talk Louder than WORDS	Present Value of Stock
The Company has been compelled very often to lean rather heavily on its bankers, at times having secured the accommodation of $40,000 or so.	Imperial sales alone increased 700 p. c. in 4 years. Last year's business, $153,700. Increase for past three years, $65,700. Wage list totals $45,000 a year. Cash discounts on purchases would amount to $2,000.	The addition of our Profit and Loss Account (less 6 p. c. dividend) and Ret. Account showed the stock to be worth 129.7 p. c. at old capitalization ($90,000). With the new issue ($125,000) the stock is worth 121.3 p. c. But each of the 350 shares—new capitalization—of the reserved Treasury Stock is now offered you at par, $100 a share—an advantage that all judicious investors can readily see. The stock is being sought for and you should seize this—your opportunity. Mail and send the attached coupon.
But even with this it has been impossible to take full advantage of all cash discounts.	Stock, former capitalization, worth $129.70 a share (par $100), with new issue worth $121.30 a share. Just 350 shares of Treasury Stock are offered for sale—and at par, $100 a share.
With sufficient capital, the Company could save $2,000 a year loan interest and another $2,000 on cash discounts. We could do a tremendously increased business, employ sufficient skilled labor, cut down expenses—and pay, assuredly, a larger dividend.
