The 4th Regiment Band will be in attendance at the Valentine Masquerade in the big Arena tonight.

All can enjoy a delicious Valentine tea tomorrow evening at Zion Church schoolroom.
The Wesleyan says that Dr. Bordson and Dr. Campbell have returned to Sackville from St. John, where they were in the interest of Mt. Allison and that friends in that city have contributed $10,000 for the endowment of a St. John chair at the University which is so favorably known in this Province.

Mike Murphy must have benefited greatly during his suspension. He said he was in good condition when he returned, and he proved it. His wonderful stick-handling Tuesday night was a revelation to Halifax people. Mike made some of the Crescents look like infants for several seconds.—Halifax Exc. (Mike belongs to Charlottetown.)

The death occurred in Chihuahua, Mexico, recently of James J. Morrison, a native of St. George's, P. E. I., and for many years a resident of Los Angeles, Cal. He was a graduate of St. Dunstan's College and after going to California he engaged successfully in the lumber business and soon built up a thriving firm. His death was due to heart failure.

Large and enthusiastic was the meeting of the Maple Leaf Farmers Institute of Alberry Plains on Thursday evening, the 8th of Feb. After the regular routine of business was transacted a number of members addressed the meeting dealing largely on improved seeds and improved stock. The automobile question was also discussed. The speakers voiced their protests against their use in this province and the following resolution was adopted:—resolved that we, the members of the Maple Leaf Farmer's Institute are in accord with the other institutes of this province who are in favour of having the present act prohibiting the use of Autos in this province upheld, and request that no change in the act respecting the use of autos be made. The next meeting will be held in Alberry Plains schoolhouse on Thursday evening, the 15th of Feb., for the purpose of taking in orders for spring needs. All members are requested to attend.

On Wednesday evening last about twenty friends and neighbors, laden with baskets and musical instruments, assembled at the home of W. and Mrs. Lane, Melburn. All received a most hearty welcome and soon were settled to enjoy the program of games and music. The motion songs, harp solos and step dances of "Professor" George Robertson are worthy of special mention. These numbers raised such enthusiasm that the general host was only prevented from attempting the sword dance by the remark that the floor might not stand it. Curiosity regarding the baskets soon became so strong that their contents were spread on the tables for inspection and samples, but such was the quality that the whole piece rapidly followed each sample in "downward" succession. This refreshed, the program was continued to an early hour when all betook themselves by various routes to their respective homes. In departing the guests expressed the hope that Mr. Lane's new and commodious house would, on completion, be properly dedicated, and suggested that a few extra beams be put in the kitchen floor so that the host might be able to indulge himself in practising the "light fantastic."

Should James Paton been unable to call to see every voter before election day remember he has sent all voters a frank letter guaranteeing a practical, progressive business administration and he says further that he pledges himself to a Fair, Square deal to all.

There was a large attendance at the last weekly meeting of the New London Literary Society. The entertainment for the evening was a debate, which was the greater influence talent or wealth? The debate was opened by G. F. Ferguson in favor of talent and was replied to by John Stuart who in an able speech took the side of wealth. A very interesting discussion ensued. Among others who took part were Miss Edna Delaney, Watson Jost, Will Johnstone, Long River, and John D. Warren. A vote being taken on the matter it stood for talent 34, wealth 13. The entertainment for the meeting next Wednesday will be a general program.

A happy event took place here on the sixth instant when John Casford of this city was united in marriage to Miss Annie Doyle of South Shore, N. S. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. McLellan, rector of St. Dunstan's Cathedral. Miss Lillian Doyle, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and the groom was supported by Lorne Doyle, brother of the bride. After the marriage ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's parents at South Shore where a sumptuous dinner was served. On returning to the city in the evening the happy couple were greeted at the home of George Casford, father of the groom, by upwards of fifty invited guests. An enjoyable evening was spent in dancing and music and justice was done the excellent supper provided. The presents to the bride were numerous and costly and the co-workers of the groom at Davis & Fraser's packing house presented him with a Morris chair, a plush settee and other gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Casford have taken up their residence in their home on Elm Avenue with the good wishes of many friends.
