BLIND BILLY'S STAND at the Bank of Nova Scotia's corner will soon be under new management, owing to the regrettable ill-health of Billy. The C. N. I. B. who sponsored Billy in this stand, will continue to look after his welfare by bonusing him in another enterprise. The new occupant of the stand will be another Islander, Mr. Daniel McLean of De Gros March, a man well up in years who has been blind from early manhood. It is to be hoped the public will continue to extend their patronage to Mr. McLean as they did to Billy. The stand is now undergoing thorough spring cleaning and will be re-stocked.

Zion Girls Win W.C.T.U. Prizes

On Sunday, April 8th, prizes were awarded to the winners in the course of studies sponsored by the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Miss Laura MacLaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rankine MacLaine, won third prize for the province and this was presented by Mrs. (Rev.) W. A. Thompson, Provincial President, who spoke to the pupils of Zion Sabbath School and complimented Miss MacLaine for her splendid success with the studies. Miss MacLaine also merited the first prize offered by the local W. C. T. U. of this City, but since the Union are not issuing duplicate prizes this year, just the one award was allowed her. Winners of the prizes offered by the local Union were Misses Rose White and Margaret Morrison, and J. M. MacLeod, President of the Charlottetown division, W. C. T. U. Other awards will be presented by the Sabbath School of Zion Church on Sunday.

FROM THE ISLAND

You may take him from "The Island, Out, or off, and far away, But you cannot take the Island out of him. You may take him to the tropics, "Where the flying fishes play," You may take him to the Arctic circle's rim,

You may take him to the prairie But you'll find he's just contrary, For you cannot take the Island out of him. Aye, though English, Scotch or Highland,

You may take him from the Island But you cannot take the Island out of him.

Tho' he's Irish, French or Spanish, Tho' she's gentle, chic or mannish And the Island breath is in her, or in him, And they came from that old Island land, Aye, from my land or from thy land, You can never take the Island out of them.

And there aren't any Spanish English, Irish, Scotchmen, danish When we meet, us, off the Island when they say—"Well, and so you're from the Island—"

How are things down on the Island— Down on old Prince Edward Island—

Out your way? —James M. MacLean, 2140 Nelson Road, New Westminster, B. C.

HOT DOG SALESMAN HAD $11,000 ESTATE

DANBURY, Conn., April 10.—Michelle Valluzzo was a familiar figure in Danbury for many years and his hot frankfurters were tasty and appetizing. But no one ever believed he made more than a scant living from his apparently ill-chosen business. He lived alone in a house belonging to a nephew and prepared his own meals. Sickness came with old age and, claiming his relatives refused to care for him, he told Paul Spano, a friend, he would remember him in his will if he would permit him to live at his home. Spano consented. When Valluzzo died it was learned he had left an estate of $11,000 to his friend. Relatives contested the will and their claims were denied.

Below the Equator

The sun always shines on Enterprise Products. Mr. D. Stuart Campbell of the Enterprise Foundry Co., Ltd., Sackville, N. B., who is in the city, said that this enterprising firm is actually exporting their ranges as far south as Capetown, South Africa. This is truly a remarkable achievement for a Maritime manufacturer and serves to demonstrate the superior quality of Enterprise Ranges. Their agents in Capetown report excellent results and are certainly putting Enterprise on the map of South African business. No wonder the Foundry at Sackville is such a busy spot these days with all their staff back again on the pay roll and working full time.

The firm of R. T. Holman Limited are sole agents for Enterprise stoves, ranges and furnaces, in this Province and thousands of their customers are using the Enterprise—a proven product. Mr. Campbell states that business is definitely on the up-grade with prices about to advance, now is the time to call at Holman's and select a beautiful Enterprise Range for real cooking and heating satisfaction.
