Whitehall Notebook

By JAMES MCCOOK

LONDON, March 20 (CP)—Independent-minded molecatchers, along with their friends the hedgers, ditchdiggers and shakers, caused a ripple of concern in the panelled committee room where the National Insurance Bill is being examined clause by clause.

James Griffiths, Minister of National Insurance, therefore felt free to seek advice as he admitted the other day that application of national insurance to self-employed persons will be something of a problem.

One committee member said he had spoken to a few molecatchers and their friends, but they had professed little interest in national insurance benefits and said self-employed persons should be excluded.

Ottawa Gunman Dies On Gallows

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP)—Eugene Larmont, 24-year-old Ottawa gunman, died on the gallows today at 12:39 a.m. E.S.T. (12 A.M. A.S.T.) for the murder of Thomas Stoneman, well-known Ottawa detective in a street shooting last Oct. 24.

Sentenced Jan. 23 by Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow of the Ontario high court of justice, Larmont was the third person to be hanged in Ottawa.

He died on the historic gallows at the County Jail on Nicholas Street which was first used in 1868 to hang Patrick Whalen, assassin of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, one of the Fathers of Confederation, who was shot on a downtown Ottawa street.

The last time the gallows was used was in 1932, when William Seabrook, 32, was hanged for the gasoline-station slaying of Paul Lavigne.

As the time of his execution approached, Larmont remained outwardly calm and played chickens with prison guards. He hoped for a last-minute reprieve, but it was learned an appeal by his lawyer, W.E. Haughton, had been refused by the Secretary of State Department.

Plan Revolutionary Railroad Trains

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Plans for two revolutionary railroad trains, which will carry their own motion picture theatres, lending libraries, news tickers and telephones were disclosed today by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company.

Carl E. Newton, retiring C & O president, ran down a list which included individual radios built into each seat, special facilities for caring for children, flowers to stimulate a more home-like atmosphere and art exhibits, motor-operated doors which would open at a touch, an air purification system that would allow smoking throughout the train, lounge facilities in every coach and super-sanitary toilet facilities.

And, Mr. Newton added, "we have worked out a system that will definitely eliminate all waiting for meals." The system, he said, was a company secret for the time being.

The first two trains will operate between Washington and Cincinnati.

No Decision On Loans To Veterans

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP)—The question of business and professional loans to veterans "has been studied steadily by the government and the Veterans' Department" but no conclusion has been reached, the veterans committee of the Commons was told yesterday.

Cap. Walter Tucker, chairman and parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister MacKenzie, tabled a 70-page report compiled between parliamentary sessions by a three-man inter-departmental committee.

The report disclosed that loans to veterans to establish small businesses were supported, in one form or another, by the Canadian Legion, the National Council of Veterans Associations, the Toronto Citizens Rehabilitation Council of Vancouver.

It disclosed, too, that witnesses for the Canadian Bankers Association testified that "the banks never refused applications from 'credit-worthy' borrowers, that in their judgment a Government guarantee would not greatly improve the borrower's chances and that there was no great demand or need in Canada for assistance."

The Legion said there was "a general conviction that small enterprises must be set up in every part of Canada" and urged use of the industrial development bank to finance veterans in small businesses.

The National Council of Veterans Associations urged that veterans be given assistance in establishing small businesses roughly similar to that given men under the Veterans Land Act.

J. E. Hogan, head of the re-establishment credit division of the Veterans Department, testified that by Jan. 31, applications for credits for purchase or establishment of business numbered 982 of which 529 were granted, amounting to about $248,000.

Reveals 5-Year Plan For Ontario Farmers

TORONTO, March 7 (CP)—In a speech ranging over virtually all phases of farming, Agriculture Minister Kennedy yesterday in the Ontario Legislature unfolded a 5-year plan designed to guarantee farmers a standard of living comparable favorably with that enjoyed in the urban centres.

In outlining the five-year plan, Mr. Kennedy forecast a "great development" of co-operatives for marketing and for more cold storage warehouses. Legislation had been amended to provide for larger loans under the Co-operative Marketing Loan Act, and "I look for a much greater development of farmers' co-operatives in this I see our greatest hope for the improvement of our methods of marketing farm products."
