LIFE. The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, inebriety to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist: for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

THE CAPITAL OF THE WEST

Miss Carry A. Nation crossed by the Northumberland yesterday for Norton, N. B.

Miss GEORGE GREEN arrived home last evening from New York to spend the summer here.

There were about about 1800 bags potatoes among the shipments by the Northumberland yesterday.

James Robertson, Mrs Robertson and family of St. John, were passengers by the Northumberland last evening for St. Peter's Bay, where they will rusticate for a few weeks.

MISSES MARIA and Mary Doull from New York, formerly of Summerside, were passengers by the Northumberland last evening. They proceeded to Charlottetown by the express.

The steamer City of Ghent arrived here yesterday about 7 a.m. and left at 1 p.m. with 500 bags oats and sundries for Halifax. Miss Phoebe Mulrhead of this town was a passenger for Isaac's Harbour.

Two corpses were brought over in the Northumberland last evening, the remains of Daniel McQueen, from Holland, Maine, for Cardigan, and the remains of Mrs. Alice R. G. Hunt from Reading, Mass., for Bloomfield.

Edward Woodman, accompanied by Mrs Woodman and daughter, of Boston, arrived by the Northumberland last evening and proceeded to Alberton, where they will spend the summer in their new summer residence.

Steamer Campana was in port yesterday morning from Montreal with a large freight of general merchandise and about 100 passengers among whom were Lady Cochrane, sister of Lord Dufferin with her maid, accompanied by Miss Clark of Toronto.

St. John's Church, St. Eleanor's, narrowly escaped ruination by fire Thursday evening. A blaze in one corner of the building was discovered by the rector Rev. W. B. Siam who happened along just in time to get assistance and save what surely would have resulted five minutes later in the whole church being a mass of fire, as the blaze had already made rapid and threatening headway. It is thought the fire may have originated from someone having thrown a burning match alongside the building.
