To the Electors of the City of Charlottetown

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

Agreeable to the request of electors representing every Ward in the City, I shall place myself in nomination for the office of Mayor at the Civic Election to be held on February 1st and take this opportunity of soliciting your influence and support on that occasion.

Having been closely identified with the financial affairs of the city as auditor—for many years, and after a service of EIGHT [illegible] years at the Council Board as Councillor for Ward [illegible] each time I served two years as Chairman of the Finance Committee, two years as chairman of the Water and Sewerage Committee, and a member of the Market Committee for [illegible] years and for four years was a member of the Public Utilities Commission, I respectfully submit that my [illegible] the administration of the affairs of the City.

Owing to the drastic changes [illegible] undergone a wonderful change [illegible] Whether this change is true the financial burdens have increased and will be completed that two of the [illegible] given at a time when most needed.

For the next two years at least [illegible] programs entailing large expenditures [illegible] me in linking up our principal [illegible] tension and side streets with [illegible] ted during the last few years [illegible]

There is also a great [illegible] y should be put down at once [illegible]

A STRANGE HAPPENING

Chapter 41

Affairs seemed to go from bad to worse in the newly poor household of the Buchanans. Mrs. Parke went about with the pursed lips and virtuous manner of one who is doing her complete duty.

Her complete duty consisted in doing rather more than her half of the household work, and in doing very, very little else. Once or twice a day, such little things as even a good housewife does up only a few times a week.

In consistent also in going behind Millie, doing after the [illegible] had been careless about. Mrs. Parke was the type that [illegible] fears by leaving the vestiges of work all over the rest of the house and making the [illegible] part of the [illegible]
