Woman of Seventy Makes Her First Trip By Airplane

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—A seventy-year-old grandmother, who had sufficient confidence in the ability of her own sex to fly here from Atlanta with a woman pilot, said it had been a "marvellous experience" when she landed yesterday at Floyd Bennett Field. It was the first time she ever had been in the air.

She is Mrs. Katherine Letter, of Atlanta, and she flew here with Viola Gentry, well known woman pilot, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Tillie Gorman, of Brooklyn.

"I'd have been flying long ago if I had known it was like this," she declared enthusiastically as she stepped out of the plane. "I wasn't the slightest bit frightened and I enjoyed every minute of the trip."

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Begins Campaign

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 27—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt takes the stump here today as Democratic party worker. The candidate for United States Congress of an old friend, Mrs. Caroline O'Day, brings her into the New York political battle.

Mrs. Roosevelt will carry her appeal for Mrs. O'Day the length of the state in five speeches. She has explained she will campaign as an individual.

Jenny Lee Marries Without a Ring

LONDON, Oct. 27—No wedding ring was used when those two stalwarts of British labor, Aneurin Bevan, M. P., and Jenny Lee, former Member of Parliament, were married today at the Holborn register office.

The proceedings were entirely informal. The bride and bridegroom strolled along together to the office, in everyday dress. Both were hatless, and neither wore gloves.

They were surprised to find the office full of newspapermen and photographers.

Asked why they were not using a wedding ring, the vivacious Jenny replied: "Why should I? I don't know that I shall ever wear one. I simply do not like them."

There is a difference of opinion among clergy as to whether the ring is essential to marriage in the church itself. One clergyman of a fashionable West End church considers the ring an external token of betrothal rather than actual marriage, but another declares the words which accompany the giving of the ring are an integral part of the service.

Jenny intends to retain her maiden name too, so far as her political career is concerned at any rate.

There are of course stout precedents for this. The wife of Baron Passfield, former Secretary for Dominions, is still better known as Beatrice Potter or alternately as Mrs. Sidney Webb, the latter being the name by which she is listed in who's who.

Jenny Lee is 29 years of age. She was labor member for North Lanark from 1929 to 1931 and is well-known as a lecturer in Canada and the United States.

Bevan is 36. He has been labor member for Ebbw Vale since 1929. Both are the children of coal miners.

QUINTUPLETS USED TO LIFE OF LUXURY... GALLANDER, Ont., Oct. 27—Like boathouse plants, the famous Dionne quintuplets have flourished in an atmosphere of careful attention, but Dr. A. E. Duce, their physician believes a return to the rough-and-ready regime into which they were born would produce a danger-set-back in their condition. The kindly, middle-aged north country doctor who has struggled with his five tiny charges until they reached the age of 21 weeks and two days, said today that while the babies had reached the normal life expectancy of a single newborn child, elation over the fact was subject to qualification. They had that expectancy, he declared, only as long as they remained in the environment of the hospital built especially for them and received the care to which they had become accustomed.

"They have become so accustomed to luxury," he said, "they would not be able to do without it now. They must remain under the conditions in which they have been living, with the best food obtainable for them and skilful nursing." The doctor revealed that no attempt had been made recently materially to increase the quantity of food the babies take, but that small amounts of cooked cereal were being added to their diet of human milk.

U.S. Girl Scouts Told of Work To Be Accomplished

BOSTON, Oct. 27—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and her predecessor in the White House, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, sat together on the same public platform here yesterday without apparent recognition of each other.

Mrs. Roosevelt addressed the 20th annual convention of the Girl Scouts of which she is honorary president and told her hearers that the girls of the United States constituted one of the most powerful forces for peace.

But while they did not speak or nod in the view of the crowded assembly hall, the present and past first ladies of the United States, did meet briefly before the start of the program and later were guests at the same luncheon. Mrs. Roosevelt inquired of Mrs. Hoover when her

PROPOSE TATTOOING TO IDENTIFY SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Every American soldier would be tattooed under a plan now before the War Department.

As a means of identifying dead and wounded, tattooing is advocated by Lieut. G. L. Whitte of Fort Ontario, N. Y., in the Infantry Journal, official publication of the Infantry Association. High officers view the idea sympathetically.

Whitte says it was impossible to identify hundreds of killed and wounded in the world war, because

Grey Hair Is Asset to Elegance

CHICAGO, Oct. 27—"That's gold in them their feminine complexions" and, said Doris Lee Leeds, principal speaker at the annual convention of the L'Ine Cosmetics and Beauty Culturists' Association, new fall face powder shades are designed to bring out the golden tones.

What's more, the popular hair shades of the moment are gold or silver.

Gray hair, especially silvery gray, is quite the thing. "No longer is gray hair a badge of age," Mrs. Leeds said. "It is an asset of elegance."
