"JASSY" TOP ENGLISH FILM HERE!

Cinegoers everywhere will long remember the dual triumph of Margaret Lockwood and Patricia Roc in that Gainsborough favourite "The Wicked Lady." Now the two actresses are co-starred once more—again in a Gainsborough picture—but this time a Technicolor production—in another romantic period drama, "Jassy," which will be showing at the Prince Edward Theatre today.

But since "The Wicked Lady" both stars have had a change of heart. Margaret Lockwood, whom you will remember as the unscrupulous and faithless lady of the title role in the earlier film, retains the title role in "Jassy," but Jassy is an unselfish gypsy girl who makes many sacrifices for the man she loves. On the other hand, Patricia Roc, who had her man stolen from her by the Wicked Lady in the earlier Gainsborough success, and yet remained faithful to him, is the fickle Dilys in "Jassy" who plunders with the affections of the man Jassy loves.

The film is Gainsborough's first Technicolor picture and also marks the debut of Margaret Lockwood in color. Appearing in the film are many stars, the cast includes Dermot Walsh, Dennis Price, Nora Swinburne, Basil Sydney, Emma Cannon and Linden Travers. Sydney Box produced and Bernard Knowles directed.

Going Home

(After an absence of thirty-five years)

Going home, yes I'm going home, And thru the Garden I will roam;— The Garden of the Gulf I mean Which for years I have not seen.

To my old home at Montague I will visit long with you, I will descend the old creek hill And find the spring and drink my fill.

Across the stepping stones I'll skip And give my feet a little dip, I'll see the friends I used to know, Thru all those years I loved them so.

Upon the bridge I'll stand once more, As oft I did in days of yore, I'll watch the sunset's golden ray As o'er the river shadows play.

Oh how happy I will be When the Island I will see, When I'll behold its crescent form And feel the Gulf's breeze soft and warm.

—Lena Vessey
Formerly of Montague, Portland, Maine.

RECORD ENROLLMENT—A new enrollment record has been established at the Montague High School with almost 260 students enrolled for the grades from I to XI. The increased enrollment during the past few years has necessitated the opening of two new rooms, and a new laboratory and at present conditions are such that another new room is warranted, since some rooms have an excess. Grade X alone has almost 40 students, and other rooms run to 38 and 35 with also 50 in the primary room. Fortunately present arrangements have alleviated the situation to some extent; however, thought must be placed to the future when the enrollment will far exceed present facilities, as it is quite possible in the not too far distant future. Notable progress has been made in the Montague School during the past two years, and it is not to be unexpected that such progress will continue, and the growth of the school will serve to indicate the growth of the community, so that all assistance given to school development will serve to be of great benefit to the community.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
