CHAPTER 6... BUCK JONES—RED RIDER

Jack Holt And Mona Barrie
In Excellent Comedy At Capitol

Revealing an unsuspected flair for comedy, the grim, swaggering Jack Holt arrived yesterday at the Capitol Theatre in a delightful romantic comedy under the interesting title, "I'll Fix It." In it Holt presents the characterization of a political "fixer"—an unofficial go-between with more actual power than the elected puppets. All goes well with him until Bobby, Holt's kid brother, enacted by young Jimmy Butler, fails to pass his algebra exams and the screen's mad of action attempts to influence Bobby's winsome young school teacher, the beautiful Mona Barrie, employing the tactics he would use in swinging a political deal his way.

"Evensong" Portrays The Colorful Life
Of Prima-Donna At Prince Edward

Evelyn Laye is seen in the leading role of "Evensong," the Gaumont British picture which is now the attraction at the Prince Edward Theatre and sponsored by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

It is the story of an operatic diva's career, the theme being taken from the book and the play of the same name, the former by Beverly Nichols, and the latter by Edward Knoblock. The picture gives a brilliant and colorful exposition of the rise and the triumphs of an opera star, and shows in contrast the despair of the woman who has departed love out of her life, in favor of a career. It is said to be drawn from the real life experience of one of the famous divas of grand opera. Strongly dramatic in its pivotal scenes, and handsomely produced, the drama unfolds against a background of song. Many favorite melodies and famous arias are rendered by Miss Laye, who is possessed of an unusually beautiful soprano voice, including the difficult aria, "The Song of the Lark," from the opera La Boheme. Conchita Supervia, in the role of a rival also sings with the same force of her numbers being a boisterous Spanish drinking song, "Evensong" was directed by Victor Saville, whose direction of "I Was a Sailor" recently seen with Madeline Carroll, made a great hit.

BALTIC SCHOOL CONCERT

A most enjoyable school concert was held in the Baltic school room on Wednesday evening, Dec. 18th, with a large number of parents and visitors present. The schoolroom was beautifully decorated for the occasion with Christmas garlands, streamers, bells and holly. Mr. Keir, principal, presided as chairman. The program was varied and appropriate to the occasion, all the numbers being rendered in a manner creditable to the pupils and their teacher, Miss Ellen Harrington. A special feature of the program was the excellent instrumental music furnished by Messrs. Holmes and Bearlto, on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Pigeon on the guitar. After the program Santa called and distributed gifts to the pupils and teacher, the pupils receiving a bag of candy with their gift.

Montague Hockey

The first hockey tilt of the season for Montague took place in the rink on Thursday evening, between the Charlottetown Maroons and Montague Primroses. The game ended in a score of 7-3 in favor of the Primroses.

Owing to three days of rain the ice was in a soft condition with a heavy fog over the top which made playing very difficult. Before starting the players were advised to do so with the exception of two Primroses who preferred to stay on dry land. In addition to unfavorable ice conditions, heavy fog set in making it impossible for the goalies to see the approaching puck until it was almost in the net and making it difficult for the fans to follow the play. The fog was also the cause of a regrettable accident at the end of the third period when the Maroon goalie was knocked out when the unseen puck hit him in the face. The game opened with lots of spray flying, the players looking like ghostly shadows, flitting swiftly about. In the first period, Ken Beer gave a thrill when he did a clever "saw" dive into the Maroon cage, carrying the disc with him. In the second period one of the Maroons gave a splendid exhibition of the brass stroke but was somewhat hindered when a Primrose got a death grip on his paddle. Throughout the entire game S. Vickers did some exceptionally fine sculling, while Waterworth insisted on giving each player a shower bath. All in all it was a unique game and fans look forward to seeing the sporty Maroons in action on good dry ice. Cudmore starred for the Maroons while Beer and Vickers held honors for Montague.

Following is the lineup:

Primroses	Goal	Maroons
T. McEwen	Goal	C. Woods
McCarroll	Defense	McDonald
Waterworth	Forwards	Cameron
Beer	Forwards	Darrach
Poole	Forwards	Cudmore
N. Grant	Forwards	McCarville

Canada Grows Up In Lively Chart

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—(C.P.)—By means of the new "animated map," Lawrence V. Burpee, Ottawa, tonight took members of the Canadian Institute of Surveying step by step over the routes followed by the early explorers of the northern part of North America.

Beginning about the year 1000 with the voyages of Leif Ericson, whose ships were the first known to reach this continent from Europe, his screen picture showed the map of Canada coming into being with the first tiny fringe of Labrador located by these Norsemen. Then it carried on through the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes indicating the work of explorers such as Cartier and Champlain.

The outline of the Pacific Coast was seen shaping up through the discoveries of Captain Vancouver and his contemporaries. Hearings of great northern waterways of which men like Thompson and Mackenzie were graphically shown. Sir John Franklin's explorations in search of the northwest passage, which ended with tragic loss of life and entire expedition in Arctic waters a century ago, could also be seen as the map added the outline of Canadian northern shores. Amundsen's contribution to the early history of the present century in the schooner "Gjøa," the first and only ship to ever sail from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean by the northwestern route, were also indicated.

Sixty Miles Off

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—(C.P.)—How infra-red photography was aiding the geological survey in the north country was described today by W. H. Millar, Geological Survey of Canada, before the Canadian Institute of Surveying.

Combating the smoke and haze ever prevalent during the summer months, investigation into the use of plates in connection with phototopographical surveying in the Yukon had been carried out over a period of three years. Mr. Millar, he added, that this newest form of photography had been adopted as standard for all work of this nature by the Geological Survey of Canada.

In photographs taken in this way, he declared, haze was non-existent and the hills up to 60 miles and more distant showed up quite clearly. In the case of the hills the average of the nearby slopes was a very distinct improvement over that obtained with the regular plates. Increase in the number of days made available for work during the average season by this method was very definite.

Experiments also had been carried out by the Forestry Department with a view to finding out the advantages of using photography for distinguishing the different types of forest growth, said Mr. Millar.

CROWNED QUEEN FOR LUCIA DAY

(By The Canadian Press)
STOCKHOLM, Jan. 16.—Sweden rendered homage to its fair harbinger of Christmas, the "Lucia," a blonde northern beauty, riding through the streets of the capital city crowned with candles and surrounded by a resplendent retinue of knights—in waiting mounted on stately horses. The custom dates back to the Roman legend of Santa Lucia from the earliest Christian era.

The Lucia of 1934 was as usual created by Stockholm daily paper Stockholms-Tidningen by the popular vote among its readers. The popular vote was the fair winner a fine pendant and as a prize organized the elaborate, picturesque and successful public festival.

This year no less than 150,000 persons lined up to see the crowned queen in procession. The crowning event was the meeting between Luigi Pirandello, this year's winner of the Nobel prize for literature, and Lucia. Pirandello was so inspired by the beauty of the festival that he asked for pen and paper to write a greeting.

DONALDSTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The annual meeting of the Donaldston Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Court. Nine members were enrolled. The meeting opened by repeating the Creed in unison. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted, also the regular monthly minutes were read and adopted. The retiring president, Mrs. Leonard Court, presented a report on the work of the institute. The secretary's financial statement was also very satisfactory. The election of officers for the following year was as follows:

- President—Miss Charlotte Rowe.
- Vice-president—Miss Edith Court.
- Secretary—Miss Betty MacKay.
- Directors—Miss Sophie Arling, Mrs. Leonard Court, Mrs. Edith Court and Mrs. Theo. Ellis.

Money was voted for the teacher to buy plasticine for the school, and the Carnegie Library at Mount Stewart was bid at $16. A mahogany veneer hole desk, carved and fitted with nine drawers and said to have been used by Mr. Breamore, sold for $175, while a beautiful Persian rug, with rose field decorated in floral motifs, with central medallion and matching spreads and seven borders was run up to $70.

Baby Girl Born
Without a Throat

(A. F. By Guardian's Special Wire)
CHARLOTTETOWN, Jan. 17.—A tiny girl born here without throat opening tonight faced life and that none too certain with only a rubber tube for a throat, unless surgical skill can give her something better.

The baby, now four days old, was doing "very well" taking food through the tube. It was inserted through an incision made in the stomach by surgeons at the Maryland general hospital when the throat was found to be closed by a congenital stricture.

Dr. S. E. Proctor, Hospital superintendent, gave the lot "shot a 50-50 chance to pull through" and said if she did efforts would be made to provide her with normal throat functions.

"The tube is not connected with the mouth, though," he explained, "and she of course would never be able to taste food at the same time she ate it. Still others have made out very well this way."

The name of the baby was kept secret.

APPIN ROAD CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The semi-annual examination and Christmas concert was held in the school at Appin Road on Friday evening, Dec. 21 with a large number of parents and visitors in attendance.

Face Looked Miserable with Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face looked miserable with pimples. They were large, red and hard at first, and afterwards came to a head. They were scattered over my face and it was disfigured. The pimples were itchy and after coming to a head they burned, and I lost rest at night. This trouble lasted about five months.

"I used different remedies before trying a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In a few days my face was healing so I bought more, and now my face is completely healed." (Signed) Miss Marie Kapach, Delmuir, Alberta, Dec. 29, 1934.
