MYSTERY SOLVED.—In regard to suspicious visitors on St. Peter's Island as reported in The Guardian of Saturday the mystery has been solved. A young man and his wife wishing for an outing at Borden Point started Saturday to make their way there. The sea becoming rough they were forced to land on St. Peter's Island. Finding a suitable place in the shape of a cook house of a lobster factory they made themselves comfortable and being so decided to have their outing where they were. As they were strangers to all about them they didn't pay any particular heed to those about them and this it appears was what led them to be viewed with suspicion. It is pleasing to know that they are persons who were in no way leagued with the universal enemy—the Kaiser.

Something Different Soap Dyes

That cleanse and dye garments in a single operation.

Conservation is a word that has been pretty badly overworked—but it applies so well to the use of SUNSET SOAP DYES that we cannot refrain from repeating it here.

The use of these dyes conserves time, labor, and valuable garments. The housewife likes to use them, because the work is so simple—all of the labor connected with the use of old fashioned dyes is eliminated.

In Canada, we scarcely realize how largely barley and rye figure among the contents of the world's bread basket. In Russia, in South Eastern Europe and in parts of Asia barley and rye are the raw material of the bread of the masses. Take these crops together and they would fill more than two million freight cars, enough to circle the earth at the equator.

In Japan barley is the food of the poor and social distinction is drawn between the rice and barley-eating natives. It is interesting to note that the famous goose pie of the Merry England 57 long ago was made from barley.

And to bring the story up to date, barley is one of the substitutes that bakers and house keepers are asked by the Canada Food Board to use in bread-making.

Patience is frequently lauded, but tenacity is what gets there.

The first self-moving gun carriage was invented in France in 1776.
