NOTED PUBLISHER DIES IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 28 (CP) — Sir Arthur Holbrook, who died recently at the age of 96, was a many friends in Canada, with whom he kept in touch right up till his last illness. He was a well-known provincial newspaper proprietor and founder of the "Southern Daily Mail". He was president of the Newspaper Society, 1913-1914, and attended the Imperial Press Conference in Canada in 1920, afterwards making a protracted tour of the Dominion.

He represented the Basingstoke division of Hampshire in Parliament from 1920 to 1929 as a Conservative, and was a prominent Freemason. Sir Arthur was head of a family with a fine service tradition. He himself boasted the longest connection with the British Army of any man living, having joined the 3rd Volunteer Battalion of the Hampshire Regiment as a drummer boy in 1880 at the age of 10. He was appointed to command the regiment 38 years later.

He served as a colonel all through the First World War, being promoted that his age was 40, whereas it was in fact 49. After the war, he was appointed honorary colonel of the 44th Divisional R. A. S. F., also served, the family winning 12 British and Allied decorations between them, including a Victoria Cross, two D.S.O.'s and two Legions of Honor.

B. C. PIANIST LAUDS CANADIAN TEACHERS

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28 (CP) — Zadel Skolovsky, gifted concert pianist who thinks Canada boasts talented music teachers with great ability south of the border, returned to Vancouver in a genuine local-boy-makes-good role. Although his parents were neither musical nor well-off, Skolovsky, now 30, was encouraged to play an antique pedal-organ owned by his family. First indication of musical talent came when he stepped into the aisle at a local concert and "mimicked" the orchestral conductor. At the age of seven Skolovsky left Vancouver for San Francisco. When he was 11, his mother took him to Los Angeles with the hope that some visiting artist would hear him. Benno Moisevitsh, pianist, was delighted to oblige the youngster. On the recommendation of Moisevitsh, the boy was admitted to the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, one of the youngest scholars there.

Since then he has played as concert pianist with the New York and Philadelphia Philharmonics, toured the United States three times, and made a name for himself in Hollywood. He was guest soloist with the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra during his visit here.
