DAIRY EXHIBIT

The dairy exhibit section with Warren L. Brenton, dairy superintendent in charge, makes an interesting corner for those connected with dairying. The walls are covered with instructive charts, representing dairy pictures, etc.

The butter entries are not as large as would naturally be expected in a province where the butter, cheese and ice cream manufacturing means so much.

All cheese factories operating this year had their entries filled and New Brunswick had three entries.

The judging was capably carried out by Messrs. W. J. Davies and G. W. Parker, Dominion dairy produce graders for the Maritimes.

The quality in both butter and cheese compared favorably with any previous years. Some of the winners are as follows:

BRUCE STEWART & CO. LTD.

On the south side of the upstairs promenade in the Exhibition Building are displayed some eleven models of the famous "Westinghouse" Electric and Battery radios. All the latest 1938 model improvements are featured and present a very beautiful array of modern cabinet styling. These radios are becoming more popular each year, and this is no doubt due to the fact that they are backed by the outstanding firm of Canadian-Westinghouse Co. Ltd. The distributors for P. E. Island are Bruce Stewart & Co. Ltd.

Outside back of the main building one's attention is drawn to the new "Silver King" gasoline tractor. The head offices of the manufacturers of this king of farm machinery is located in Sarnia, Ontario, and the sole distributors for this province are Bruce Stewart & Co. Ltd.

This great achievement in the tractor field has a four cylinder engine, develops 20 horsepower on the pully and 16 h.p. on the drawbar. The "Silver King" has a speed range of from one to twenty-five miles per hour. It will turn in a radius of nine feet and comes equipped with pneumatic or steel tires as desired. Self-starter and headlights may also be attached.

In charge of the above displays are Mr. James B. Jay and Mr. F. A. A Mutch, provincial salesmen for Bruce Stewart & Co. Ltd.

CARTER & CO. LTD.

The third booth to the right on entering the building is that of Carter & Co. Ltd. in which are featured the various stock and poultry feeds manufactured by Blatchford. Mr. Henry Hillion, Maritime representative for Blatchford products is in charge of the booth and is ready to supply all information regarding the display.

Here is shown a new type of egg meal for poultry with VI-TAL-IZED Conkey's Y-O. The "Y-O" stands for yeast and oil.

This is processed so as to seal in the vitamins of the cod liver oil. As is well known this oil is most rich in vitamins but this vitamin content loses its potency through contact with light and air under ordinary circumstances.

The new scientific process of sealing the vitamins has until recently been protected by a United States patent which has now been secured by Blatchfords in Canada. The above mash contains vitamins A, B, D. and G, and a stock mash is also available containing the additional vitamin E. This latter is fed to foxes in the fall and winter months for the purpose of increasing litters and has been most successfully proven by the leading ranchers of this province.

PALMER-ELECTRIC

In the south-east corner of the building may be seen the possibilities of a modernly arranged basement. Shown here is the famous "Imperial G. & B." Oil Burner installed in a modern type furnace.

This burner is now widely accepted as the crowning achievement in oil heating engineering. It is adaptable to all homes and any type furnace, and gives equally splendid results with hot water, hot air, or steam heating systems. The Imperial G. & B. is entirely automatic and over thirty of them have already been installed throughout the city and are giving genuine satisfaction.

The new "Electrolux" oil-burning refrigerator is also on display here and is commanding the enthusiasm of out-of-town visitors, who see in it the answer to a long-felt want in modernizing the rural home.

Full information on all oil burner problems will be gladly furnished by Palmer Electric, 155 Great George Street, and all householders should not miss this opportunity to inspect these scientific commodities on display.

BROOKVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY LTD.

The only lime booth at the Exhibition is that of the Brookville Manufacturing Co. Ltd. (H. G. S. Adams, Manager, Brookville, Saint John County, N.B.) and they are displaying their various products, namely, ground limestone, hen grit, chicken grit, limestone, and also spraylime which is manufactured by their associate company, the Saint John Lime Company.

This firm reports increasing demand from the Island and those who have used ground limestone in the past claim that they are now unable to farm successfully without it.

The slogan of the Company is: "It Brings The Clover" and that is being demonstrated by the fine fields of clover to be seen all over the Island.

The Company advocates buying grund limestone in the Fall whenever possible. Fall application of the lime means greater yield of grain the following year whereas if the lime is applied in the Spring it has not had sufficient time to become thoroughly incorporated in the soil.

The Brookville Manufacturing Co. claim they are producing ground lime more finely pulverized than any other in the Dominion and at the present low delivered price it is well within the reach of every Island farmer.

The plant representative, Mr. H. B. Frost, is in charge of the booth and will be pleased to talk over with prospective users, the advantages of ground limestone.

The lime booth is located on the ground floor to the left of the main entrance.

BUILDING PRODUCTS LTD.

Building Products Limited have an attractive booth, of particular interest to home owners, builders, and householders in general. A neat model cottage features their display to the north of the Paton Pavilion entrance. The booth is in charge of Mr. N. A. McLellan and Mr. T. W. Bedwin, sales representatives for the Company.

Three internationally known trade-marked materials are displayed—Bird, Rubberoid and Vulcanite, asphalt shingles, insulated brick, and shingle effect sidings for outside walls of homes, and insulboard for interior walls and ceilings, also asphalt tile flooring, etc.

The walls and model house are covered with "Insul-Bric" siding, a modern material over one-halff inch thick, giving a very attractive appearance of real brick. Insul stone blocks complete the balustrade out in front. Beautiful green blend shingles adorn the roof and with attractive flower boxes and bright colored verandah furniture the general appearance is very pleasing.

Building Products materials are handled by the Macdonald-Rowe Woodworking Co., Stanley, Shaw & Pearden, and the Rogers Hardware Co. Ltd.

jesty's ships are authorized to counter-attack the submarine."

Attacks on shipping, both by air and by submarine, in the Mediterranean have been frequent of late. The latest reported was the sinking of the Spanish Government freighter Ciudad de Cadiz in the Dardanelles straits on Monday. Turkish papers interpreted this as an attempt by the Spanish Insurgents to blockade the straits to traffic between Soviet Russia and the government.

Ambassador Sir Henry Chilton, in residence at Hendaye, on the French-Spanish border, was instructed to inform the Spanish Insurgents on Monday that His Majesty's Government did not accept General Francisco Franco's disclaimer of Insurgent responsibility for the dropping of 40 bombs near the British tanker British Corporal in the Mediterranean last week.

Canadian Pilot Searches For Lost Plane

(By The Associated Press)

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 17—A lone Canadian pilot, Bob Randall, dared frowning northern skies today to search the Arctic ocean rim for the lost Soviet transpolar plane of Sigismund Levaneffsky and five comrades.

While low-hanging clouds, fog and rain below the Arctic circle stymied impatient rescue fliers here, Randall was reported to have left Aklkavik, Northwest Territory, and landed at Demarcation Point, on the Alaska-Canada border, to inaugurate his phase of the hunt.

Wireless advices said he would question natives along the Arctic coast line as to whether they had heard or seen the missing plane. He operated a plane chartered by Russian diplomatic officials.

Anxious rescuers considered every minute precious because winter was approaching with its invariable train of storms. Signs of the long night were beginning to appear, even in Fairbanks, 1,400 miles south of the Pole.

The rescue fliers still were without definite word from the missing plane, which left Moscow Friday for a 4,000-mile non-stop flight to Fairbanks and last reported its exact position early Saturday morning when it was over the North Pole.

Soviet representatives concluded the plane came down in the Arctic ice somewhere between the Pole and the northern Alaska coast.

Jimmy Mattern, United States flier who hopped 2,600 miles from Oakland, Calif., to Fairbanks Sunday to join the search for his friend Levaneffsky, chafed at the weather-enforced delay. So did Joe Crosson, famous Alaskan "mercy flier" and several others.

TORONTO, Aug. 17 — Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Canadian airman of the Arctic and Antarctic, prepared tonight for another hazardous undertaking, a search of the northern wastes for six Russian fliers missing on a trans-Polar flight from Moscow.

With him will be Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer and adventurer. In the background is Vilhjalmur Stefanssoon, famed Manitoba-born explorer, who today obtained a flying boat with a 4,000 mile cruising range for the flight from New Eolk.

KING GOV'T

been delayed while he discussed with Premier Aberhart of Alberta the suggestion that the acts be referred to the Supreme Court of Canada and that their operation be suspended in the meantime.

Today the government had before it Mr. Aberhart's reply which was a refusal to suspend operation of the measures which were to become effective Aug. 27. Notice o fdisallowance and a copy of the Justice Minister's recommendation will be forwarded to the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, and also published in a special edition of the Canada Gazette. Disallowance is effective immediately.

In taking this action Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the government was acting not only for the people of Alberta but for the people of all Canada. The legislation concerned, he said, deprived the citizen of his right of access to the courts.

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, Aug. 17—Constitutional responsibilit es placed upon the Federal government by the British North America Act left no other course than to disallow the Alberta banking legislation, Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared in a prepared statement issued tonight.

Section 90 of the B. N. A. Act which confers the power of disallowance, "casts a clear responsibility upon the Federal government," the Prime Minister said. The legislation in question, he believed, "constitutes a clar invasion of the federal field of responsibility."

Appropriate and legal means existed, the Prime Minister said, by which the constitution could be amended as against "arbitrary and unilateral action." He was convinced the people of Canada wished the orderly method to prevail.

The government, however, recognized the need to consider, in the light of developments since Confederation, need for changes in the constitution, the Prime Minister said, and to that end had appointed a royal commission to study and report so that a permanent solution might be reached.

expedition now moving across the China Sea or assembling at ports of embarkation in Japan.

The rival air armadas held the centre of the stage yesterday, although there were only temporary lulls in the battles of land and the Japanese warships blasting at shore positions.

Several fires started. Three of the largest raged on into the night, one in Chapei and the other two in the Japanese cotton mill district to the northeast. These burned on unchecked, no firefighting apparatus being available.

Thirteen bombing planes came out of the northwestern sky, circled slowly and did their bombing with devastating effect on the vital railway establishments around the north station and the junction of the Shanghai-Nanking and Shanghai-Hangchow railways.

Twenty-five direct hits were scored, said a reliable eye witness. Seven more Japanese planes joined the 13 for a final half hour's bombing.

Foreigners who watched the earlier Chinese raid from a skyscraper near Soochow Creek saw two planes drop two bombs near the Japanese headquarters but they were brought down in flames in Hongkew Park.

Each appearance of Chinese fliers called forth frenzied bursts from Japanese guns on the warships or ashore. Falling missiles raked a wide area.

Four shells struck the international settlement jail on Ward Road, killing an unknown number of prisoners. The jail usually holds several thousand. Part of a wall was blown out.

Prices Fall On N. Y. Exchange

(By Frederick Gardner, Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—Volume and buying power dwindled in the stock market today as speculative forces displayed apprehension over the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Prices fell briskly at the opening, with steels and motors particularly in supply. Support arrived later and extreme losses of fractions to 2 or more points were pared or cancelled in many instances. The comeback lacked vigor and small declines were in the majority at the close.

The principal activity of the day was in the first hour. Transfers totalled 658,060 shares compared with 618,690 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .04 of a point at 69.8, duplicating its decline of the previous session.

Gains and losses were divided among Canadian stocks. Walkers advanced 1 1-4 points to 50 1-4 as Distillers-Seagram, Dome and Canadian Marconi rallied fractionally. Brazilian dropped 1-4 points to 26 1-2. International Nickel, Canadian Idustrial Alcohol and Lake Shore eased fractionally. McIntyre, Imperial Oil and Hollinger

CHURCH RALLY—The yearly rally of the different Young Peoples Societies that constitute the eastern division of the Young Peoples Union of the Presbyterian Churches of P. E. I., was held at Belfast on Friday afternoon, August 13th. A very heavy downpour of rain shortly after noon threatened to mar a wonderful outing but cleared off shortly and a perfect evening followed. There was a splendid gathering of young people present besides several of the congregation of St. Johns. A large number took advantage of having a dip in the afternoon and came back feeling very fit to partake of a bounteous picnic lunch served on the Church grounds. After lunch Mr. Reginald MacLean Vice-Pres., of the Y. P. U., called all the groups together and Rev. Mr. Wadland gave greetings and a hearty welcome to all and asked all to have their names placed in the visitors book. A short account but very interesting of how the different Societies carry on their meeting was given as follows: Caledonia by Miss Martin Dundas by Miss MacLean, Wood Islands by Goodwill MacDougall. Cardigan by Miss Florence MacNeill Deaconess. Belfast by Mrs. Wilfred MacWilliams. After this part of the programme a social get-together was held and games were played ending with all the group having their picture taken. The time passed all too quickly till the Church bell called all inside and a very splendid meeting was enjoyed by all. An address on "Prayer" was given by Miss MacNeill Deaconess Cardigan also one on "Why I am a Presbyterian" by Mr. John Young, student pastor at Caledonia. A short address was also given by Rev. R. Hensley Stavert to the young people in which the striking statement was made that the rarest commodity in the world today was "True Manhood and True Womanhood", and threw out the challenge to the young people present to go back to their respective societies with more consecrated lives for Christ. Meeting closed with Hymn 595, and the crowd all went to Hallidays wharf where a huge bonfire was made and made a fitting ending to a perfect day. A number of the Wood Islands Seranaders were present and their music was much enjoyed. A short address was made by Rev. Mr. Douglass of Murray Harbor North who was unable to be present at the afternoon meeting. The President then called on Rev. A. A. MacLeod of Nova Scotia who represented the Sons of Temperance and made a very stirring appeal for total abstinence among all the young people. After his address all joined hands in singing "Auld Lang Syne, follwed by the National Anthem

Night Show At The Provincial Exhibition

Details Of Today's Program — Races Promise One of Best Cards of Entire Meet.

Last evening's show, the first of a series of four at the Provincial Exhibition, was certainly quite up to the management's expectations, as being the best they have ever given. The acts balanced up well, and everyone was good, the final, the Four Kings of the Air, being a real thriller. Roberta's Animal Circus went over big also the Rexolas, and the comic Young and Ladell troupe, while the Flying Behrs, the daring young men on the flying trapeze, came in for a large measure of applause. Every act stood out better than last season, by reason of magnificent lights which were concentrated on the actors.

The Horse Show, of which more particulars are given elsewhere, including the results of the judging, was a very popular feature, and the various winners were well applauded. The horses of the Charlottetown Riding Club turned out in beautiful condition, reflecting the greatest credit on those in charge of them. The riders too were perfectly costumed, and it is not an exaggeration to say that one would have to go far to see a better display of horsemanship.

The Fireworks were a stand out, as predicted. The American set pieces were much admired, and certainly different from anything ever shown here before. At times one would think the scene was Spain, with a battle on between the Insurgents and the government troops, but it was a harmless sort of warfare, although the bombardment was for seconds quite terrible.

Tonight's Night Show will be even better than last night's because the actors will have rested up and can give a better performance than they have done in the past. The Horse Show will be very fine indeed, and the Fireworks will contain a number of new set pieces and other features never shown before to a Maritime, or in fact a Canadian audience, because they are American goods. Those who missed tonight's show at the Provincial Exhibition will certainly put themselves out of a real treat.

TODAY'S RACES.

Today's races will be one of the best programmes of the entire meeting. In the Three Year Old Futurity there are 10 starters, including Neta Volo, Anne Worthy, Leland, Margaret Abbe, Fairy Waltz, Hillside Jack, Buddy Volo, Volo Scott and Major Bowes.

The 2.17 Trot and Pace will be a real humdinger, every pacer in it has a chance, and each has been in the limelight and race. Peter Onward has broken two or three track records through New Brunswick and Quebec; Ann Trogdon, right here from Philadelphia, is an unknown quantity; Frank Hanover has won a race at Cornish, Maine in 2.10 1-4; Hanover Courier being a frequent winner. Calumet Duke set a track record at Inverness, Cape Breton, Peter Reaper was good enough two weeks ago to pass in 2.08 1-4. Quaker Girl will be remembered as winning this class here last year. Trixie Volo won the third heat from Peter Reaper at Alberton a few weeks ago, and she is better now. McElwyn the Great has been stepping miles in 2.11, just like nobody's business last week.

This afternoon, in addition to the harness races, there will be a running race and a full vaudeville programme.
