Army, Navy In Deciding Semi-Final Game Tonight

Army and Navy hold the spotlight tonight at the Forum when the two rivals tangle in the third and deciding game of the City League semi-finals to determine the team that will go into the final against Saint Dunstan's for the league title.

And what a battle it promises to be tonight as the chips are down, there will be no second chance, and the losers and both camps let it be known yesterday that they will go all out every minute in their efforts to be returned the winners.

Army, due to their top-sided 10-0 victory on Tuesday night are being regarded as slight favorites as the team that will advance to the final. Tuesday they looked as good if not better than any team in the league and if they flash the same form tonight they are going to be hard to stop.

Navy, still smarting from that shutout, are nevertheless confident that they can turn the tables. To do this they know full well that they will have to stop the dynamic trio of Whitlock, Jackson and Cludman and they feel that they can do this with plenty of close checking thrown at the line that has been accounting for the biggest part of the Army's scoring.

But however it goes fans are sure to witness a fast, rugged encounter. There is no love lost between them as is well known, but the two flareups in Tuesday's game and tonight neither team will pull any punches, as they fight for a spot in the final.

The scene will get underway at 7:45 sharp and again the Beach Clubmen will furnish music between periods and for the skate that takes place after the match.

Saint John Beavers To Meet All-Star Team From City League On March 15

Announcement that the St. John Beavers would meet the Charlottetown All-Stars here in an exhibition encounter at the Forum on March 15th has caused a lot of air and excitement in local hockey circles and although the game is billed as an exhibition encounter nevertheless a lot of interest is being taken in its appearance of the New Brunswick team.

The All-Stars will be picked from players competing in the City League and with the hockey ability being shown all through the schedule a strong team can be expected to give the visitors a battle of it all the way. In addition to those picked the Charlottetown team will also be strengthened by the presence of Pete Kelly who has been transferred to the local R. C. A. F. station. Pete, who used to patrol right wing for the Beavers in the days of the Big Four and who since has had a lot of National League experience will be in tip top shape and his presence should add a lot of strength to the local lineup.

The Beavers will bring with them such widely known stars as Gregor, Garry, Butler, a trio well known to Charlottetown fans who performed in the City League and who were scheduled to play the visitors a battle of it all the way. In addition to Max Schmeling, leading heavyweight boxing challenger by virtue of his knockout victory over Joe Louis, arrived in New York from Germany seven years ago today to challenge Jimmy Braddock for his world's heavyweight championship. Braddock, however, met Louis and was dethroned by the negro. Schmeling received a chance for the title in June, 1938, but he was polished off by Louis in one round.

Both teams are confident of winning and a red hot battle is expected to be witnessed on the night of the 15th.

The game is being sponsored by the R. C. A. F. station and fans are asked to take note of the date; it will definitely be played on March 15th and not March 8th as originally planned.

FOR SHAVING COMFORT YOUR BEST BET IS BLUE GILLETTE BLADES

Ted Husing
Ace Reporter on Gillette's "Cavalade of Sports" says:

"YOU see, every Blue Gillette Blade fits the Gillette Razor exactly and protects you from the irritation of misfit blades. One reason is that the slot in the Blue Gillette is precisely centered so that the blade's edges are exactly parallel with the razor guard and have just the right degree of exposure. Your razor breezes through your whiskers. No drag! No pull! Your face looks well-groomed and feels refreshed."

One of the most versatile fighters of modern times, McAvoy lost to John Henry Lewis in a world championship fight in New York. Known as a middleweight, he was a weight puncher, his real name is Joe Bamford. Now in the Royal Air Force, his home is at Westie, Lancashire.

Len Harvey, former British and Empire heavyweight champion, termed McAvoy "the toughest man I've ever fought."

Boxing spectators always wondered why Jock bit both his thumbs between every round of a fight. Some thought it was a show of temper.

The reason, however, was that McAvoy had both thumbs fractured while working in a cotton mill. Since then they have been stiff at the joints and he looses them by pulling them with his mouth.

A fellow Welsh miner who rates as a leading contender for the title vacated by McAvoy came off the floor four times to snatch a victory from the country's hardest-worked boxer.

It was the third straight victory for Tommy Davis of Cwmgorse village over coffee-colored Lefty Flynn, amateur champion who is in Britain's merchant marine. Lefty was far ahead on points when the battle was stopped after the sixth round because of a knee above the Negro's eye.

The fight, at the Queenberry Club in Soho, was seldom spectacular. Davis showed himself susceptible to Flynn's greatest short body blows while the injury showed again that to prevent facial cuts, Sutt cuts previously have lost him bouts in which he was leading on points.

New Glasgow Defeats Truro

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., March 1.—(CP)—New Glasgow Bombers scored a 4-1 defeat over Truro Beavers tonight to take a 2-1 game lead in their best-of-seven challenge for the championship of the A-P-C senior hockey league.

LONDON, March 1.—(CP)—Jock McAvoy, recently-retired British middleweight champion left the ring because he was "disgusted with the whole boxing business."

The 36-year-old McAvoy, says he all began two years ago when he signed a contract to defend his title against Ginger Sudd at Norwich. There was a dispute over the purse because of an increase in the entertainment tax and McAvoy called the fight off.

Boxing Board officials decided in favor of the promoter, and ordered McAvoy to pay a $300 forfeit. He refused.

"I feel that after nearly 20 years in the ring I have been treated unfairly," Jock told newsmen announcing his decision to hang up the gloves. "I am retiring as undefeated champion on a matter of principle."

Freetown 2 Summerside 1

The Freetown Stars took the lead in the South Shore semi-finals at the Rink on Monday night, by edging out the Summerside Olympians 2-1 in a very evenly fought encounter. As the score would indicate, the game was a close checkered, although a close checkered, missed some great chances to add to the score.

The winners, making their first start in almost three weeks, seemed to be the worse for the lay-off, and by their performance, stamped themselves as strong contenders for the South Shore Championship. The Olympians, who specialize in fast breaking combination play, could not seem to break loose from Freetown players.

A goal period was the order of the game, with Sommer scoring for Summerside in the opener, and Simmons and Gardiner combining on and last period.

Summerside will have their backs to the wall for the second tilt in the best-of-three series, while Freetown will be gunning for a second win, and the right to play the Middletown for the championship.

Express Delivery For Official Mail

LONDON, March 1.—(CP)—An express letter delivery service which links London with service stations throughout the Middle East and thence to Africa, India, Australia and New Zealand, has been set up by the British military authorities.

Controlled by the Royal Corps of Signals, it conveys Urgent, Secret and other official documents which could not be sent through the ordinary army post office. Through a network of communications by road, rail, sea and air, it provides a constant contact between all branches of the service is assured. A certain amount of B. E. F. and naval mail is also handled.

The hub of the organization in the Middle East is in Cairo. Private mail is banned, but occasionally suspicious-looking parcels are opened, and recently the sorters found some squash racquet balls in one parcel and a couple of bottles of whisky in another. Other "finds" have included women's silk stockings and lingerie.

About 200 men, working a day-and-night service, handle an average of 9,000 letters and parcels daily. Short-distance letters are delivered in Egypt by fast trucks which cover more than 2,000 miles daily and dispatch riders.

Aircraft are used for the service to the west, to Malta, Italy, Gibraltar, and England, to the north they fly to Palestine, Beirut and Aleppo and to the east and south to the Empire air routes to Africa, India, thence to China, Australia and New Zealand. There are also connections to Russia and North and South America.

Land Survey Act Discussed

An interesting discussion took place in the Legislature on Tuesday evening, the House being in committee, with Mr. Cullen in the chair on an Act to amend the Land Surveyors Act.

The promoter, Hon. Mr. Hughes explained the purpose of the bill, which provides: Any surveyor qualified to practice in the Province and authorized by the Executive Council to make a survey of the Province, may for the purpose of making such survey enter upon any lands or premises which he may deem necessary, doing no greater damage than is reasonably necessary for the purpose of making such survey.

Mr. Hughes said there is an item of $10,000 in the budget in connection with this matter. There are a number of Surveyors' Acts which have never been repealed, and some examination will have to be made of the status of the legislation. "This is for the purpose of doing a little exploratory work this year, he said.

Mr. McPhee: "Ten thousand dollars suggests a pretty ambitious program. I think the House is entitled to a little more information on the subject."

Mr. Hughes explained that the original survey of the Island by Capt. Holland in 1764-65 did not go much further than establish different lot lines. Subsequent surveys were made in the registry office and basement there is a substantial amount of information which has never been gone into. The first thing to be done is in the nature of a re-survey work in this connection.

The Hon. Mr. Hughes said that should be re-run. The trouble with all the surveys in the Province was that there were never any markers put up. He cited instances of the confusion caused by this neglect. The proposal now is to re-run the lot lines, put markers on them, and connect these by a proper traverse survey.

The situation in the vicinity of Charlottetown and Summerside, where the land is almost entirely taken up and fenced, is not a matter of importance because the boundaries are fairly well known. But in the country it is almost hopeless. Sometimes live trees were since disappeared. Now with the demand for pitprops and pulp wood we are going to be faced with a greater difficulty in some of the lines.

Mr. Heath Strong cited instances of the difficulty of finding locations with regard to the survey. He also stressed the difficulty of getting land surveyors.

Mr. Hughes: "There are no surveyors clear of the street with engineers and Prof. H.H. Shaw. The Hon. Mr. Hughes added, was very well. If the government were with field experience. He cited his own experience in surveying. Part of the government vote will be used to secure proper instruments. They will cost about $1,000.

Mr. Heath Strong said the man should be employed on the staff of the Public Works Department so that he would be available for the general public.
