RESPONSIBILITY.

A man cannot choose his own life. He cannot say, "I will take existence lightly, and keep out of the way of the wretched, mistaken, energetic creatures who fight so heartily in the great battle." He cannot say, "I will stop in the tents while the strife is fought, and laugh at the fools who are trampled down in the useless struggle." He cannot do this. He can only do, humbly and fearfully, that which the Maker who created him as appointed for him to do. If he has a battle to fight, let him fight it faithfully. But woe betide him if he hides in the tents when the tocsin summons him to the scene of war!—M. E. Braddon.

Charming Children are plump and rosy.

If pale and sickly, something is wrong, and the signal should not be neglected. It's often the case that food does not contain the certain elements which Nature requires to meet the demands of the rapidly developing body and brain. One food which can be depended upon is

Grape-Nuts

It is made of wheat and barley, and contains true tissue-building elements including the Phosphate of Potash especially needed for promoting healthy brain growth. A dish of Grape-Nuts and cream each morning for a few weeks often works a marvelous change in the health of a child, and children like it.

TWELVE MISTAKES TO AVOID.

Avoid looking for perfection in yourself. Do not expect everyone to be of your own opinion. Avoid thinking that other people's enjoyment is in the same measure as your own. Do not give way to anger over trifles. Avoid boasting a booster generally speaks falsely. Do not blame lack of judgment and experience in youth. Avoid impatience with the weaknesses of others. Do not think a thing impossible because you are not able to do it. Avoid doubting others. Take what you are told in good faith, unless there is a very strong reason for distrust. Do not go against your own conscience, whatever the gain. Avoid neglecting to relieve distress whenever you come across it, no matter whose fault.

FAILURE.

The strongest ship may breast the gale, And still be driven back, What though to reach the part she fail, Shall we declare she cannot sail Because she has to tack?

Do winds of fate blow fitfully? And toll't that 'gainst the tide? Ambition's goal may ne'er be won By thee yet thou has nobly done, 'If thou hast nobly tried.

The strongest forts to scale, The strongest forts to scale, Sometimes the bravest heroes fall, Sometimes the truest lives of all Are lived by those who fail.

A SONG OF TRUST.

(National Magazine.) Keep trusting; 'neath the withered leaves of autumn, 'Ere yet the lingering winter months are flown, In rarest beauty, rich with spicy fragrance, The Mayflower blossoms, Soon thou shalt be shown. How, with each cross Of pain or loss, God sends a priceless blessing for His own.

Keep trusting, through the darkest clouds of overshadow, The path that seems today too dark to thread, The sun in all its brightness may tomorrow, illumine every step. Be not afraid To do His will; He will fulfill, Abundantly, each promise He hath made.

Keep trusting; He is reaching through the darkness, His hand in love to guide thee, hold it fast. His voice in tones of sweet compassion calleth, 'When doubt and struggle are forever past, The victors crowned, My throne around, Take up the victors' song that ye shall last!

A Quebec exchange has the following: After a meeting held last night for the purpose of dealing officially with the proposed new hockey league, the executive of the Quebec hockey club this morning sent a letter to Riley Hearn, declining with thanks the offer to join the new organization. Secretary Quinn, who was present, said the six men team would be played again this winter. As already announced some first-class men only intend to run the same chances as they did last season, in carrying such a small reserve list.

The following, from a Halifax exchange, will be of interest to followers of Big League Hockey: "That the Wanderer hockey club does not fear another league this season was expressed last night at the annual meeting. The Wanderers finished in third place a year ago and look to be nearer the top this season. The only new man signed up so far is Walter Miller, who comes from the maritime provincial league. Miller is a defense man and is credited with being one of the best in the league in which he played a year ago. Many of the players know him and look for him to make good."

A thrilling tale of a convict's wild dash for liberty was the subject of much comment among the audiences at the People's Theatre, Charlottetown last evening. This reel, entitled, A Beast at Bay, was most spectacular in its featuring and from the onlookers' standpoint was a lesson well taught. The spider's web gave warning to the unwary specialist those who try the trick of "get-rich-quick." But what was perhaps the most popular picture screened at the Theatre for some time was the beautiful, hand-colored masterpiece, Silent Castle, a quiet, enthralling film that appealed to the better part of the people before whom it was unrolled. Miss Chapman did credit to herself and the management in her new songs.

MONOPLANE AGAIN CAUSE OF FATALITY.

LESS RAIN IN NOVA SCOTIA THAN ELSEWHERE.

OTTAWA, October 4—The Dominion meteorological office reports that cool weather prevailed throughout Canada during the greater part of the month, with a resultant mean temperature below the normal in most districts. The average was slightly exceeded in southwestern parts of British Columbia and also locally in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Precipitation was excessive throughout Canada, except in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and very locally in Ontario, where the average amount was not recorded. Exceptionally heavy rain falls occurred in Quebec and New Brunswick, and also more locally in Ontario. The pronounced feature of the precipitation of August was the large number of days on which it occurred being in most localities more than fifteen.

TAKE TIME FOR THE BIBLE.

As we drift along the swift, relentless current of time towards the end of life, as days and weeks and months and years follow each other in breathless haste, and we reflect now and then for a moment that at any rate for us much of this earthly career has passed irrevocably, what are the interests, thoughts—Ay, the books, which really command our attention? What do we read and leave unread? What time do we give to the Bible? No other book, let us be sure of it, can quite avail and prepare us for that which lies before us, for the unknown anxieties and sorrows which are sooner or later the portion of most men and women; for the gradual approach of death; for the period, be it long or short, of waiting and preparation for the throne and face of the Eternal Judge.

MY FATHER'S AT THE HELM.

"'Twas when the sea, with awful roar, A little bark assailed, And pallid fear's distracted power, O'er each on board prevailed. Save one—the captain's darling child, Who steadfast viewed the storm, And cheerful with composure smiled, At danger's threatening form. 'Why sporting thus,' a seaman cried, 'While terrors overwhelm?' 'Why yield to fear?' the child replied. 'My Father's at the helm!' Christian! from Him be daily taught To check thy groundless fears; Think on the wonders He has wrought, Jehovah's ever near.

CHILD-FLUNG TO STREET

QUEBEC, Oct. 1—Two houses situated on St. Oliver street were destroyed by fire, together with their contents. A double alarm summoned the brigade to the scene, but despite all they could do the flames ate their way until nothing but the walls were left.

Several of the occupants of the two houses had difficulty in making their escape from the burning structure, and had narrow escapes, while a child was thrown out of the second story window, but it was caught by persons standing in the street and consequently escaped unhurt.

MAN AND BOY ARE MISSING.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 5—On Wednesday morning Jeremiah Colby, an old and well known resident accompanied by a young boy named Dorwin Branson, set out on a fishing trip on the bay in a twenty-foot gasoline launch. They have not been heard of or seen since, with the result that great anxiety is felt for their safety. Yesterday a number of motor boats set out to cover the bay, but returned last evening having been unable to discover any trace of the missing couple. It is feared that the motor went wrong and that the boat becoming unmanageable was capsized by the stiff breeze that was blowing.

MAY AMEND IRISH BILL.

LONDON, Oct. 5—The correspondent at Dublin of The Times says he learns that Lord MacDonnell, the Earl of Dunraven, and other influential men are making a gallant effort to save the Irish Home Rule bill on the basis of radical amendment of the clauses most objectionable to the Irish Unionists. The correspondent adds that he believes that William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, is greatly interested in the movement.

WHAT MATTERS.

Matter does not matter. Mind and soul are all that really count. Worth is not in things. Their presence or absence makes comparatively little difference to him who has right estimates of relative importances. Robert Burns is correct when he says that "the man of independent mind looks and laughs" at the ribbons and stars and tinsel shows that foist themselves into popular notice as though they were some oreal consequence and necessarily had merit behind them.

THE LAW OF SACRIFICE.

The law of sacrifice is fundamental in human life. Hundreds of men and women went down to a watery grave, but because of that, life will be safer for millions in the days and years to come. It was an awful price to pay but it wasn't necessary, we may say, but greater carefulness and safe-guarding and protection to multitudes will be the result. And so it seems it must be nearly every step that is taken in the pathway of human progress, someone has to pay the price. And the man who insists that he will pay no price, that he will make no sacrifice, is shutting himself out of God's program for the betterment and the enrichment of the world.

WAS A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC Now Finds It a Pleasure to Enjoy Meals

Here is a case which seemed as bad and as hopeless as yours can possibly be. This is the experience of Mr. H. J. Brown, 384 Bathurst St., Toronto, in his own words: "Gentlemen—I have much pleasure in mentioning to you the benefits received from your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and can cheerfully recommend them. I simply had confirmed dyspepsia with all its wretched symptoms, and tried about all the advertised cures with no success. You have in Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets the best curative agent I could find. It is now such a pleasure to enjoy meals with their consequent nourishment that I want to mention this for the benefit of others." The fact that a lot of prescriptions or so-called "cures" have failed to help you is no sign that you have got to go on suffering. Try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and see how quickly this sterling remedy will give you relief and start your stomach working properly. If it doesn't help you, you get your money back. PRINTS AND COLORED MUSLINS. Prints and colored muslins should never be soaked for any length of time before they are washed. Half an hour is the extreme limit, and the addition of salt to the water in which they are immersed does much towards fixing the color. The articles should then be wrung out, and dropped at once into a good lather of warm, but not hot water. After squeezing and working them thoroughly with the hands, first on the right and then on the wrong side, they should be again wrung out, placed in cold water, then finally rinsed in the starched water until they feel the starch the too hot or it will material. They should never be hung out on a windy day.

All muslins should be starched wet. In starching colored muslins do not soften the colors. In thinning the line by the ordinary clothes-pine, as these are apt to stretch and tear the are required for starching. Should no starching be required, the articles should be wrung out and then dried. Colored muslins and prints may be put to dry in the open air, but a shaded place must be selected, as sunshine would bleach the colors and entirely spoil the appearance of the fabrics. In the case of blue and mauve muslin or cotton articles, the proportion of two teaspoonfuls of vinegar should be added to two pints of rinsing water. Delicate articles, such as fine muslins, lawns and batistes, should never be fixed to the drying-starch, cold water may be used.
