Memorial service At Clyde River

A memorial service was held in Burside Church at Clyde River, August 31st, 1941. A large number came from far and near to this service. The church was filled to its capacity. The Minister, Rev. W. Goodwill, took as his text the 48th Psalm, one of Isaac's National Hymns, from which he preached an eloquent sermon. In the course of his address he referred to several prominent men and women whose names are in the adjoining calendar, among whom was the late Rev. W. J. MacLeod, who passed away in May, 1939, at an early age and who was a college mate of the speaker. Mrs. J. J. MacLeod, daughter of the late Rev. W. J. MacLeod, who was a hand and card dealer by profession, was also present. The selections chosen for this service, Mr. Miller MacFadyen gave the following history of this church:

The land was purchased from the late Angus MacFadyen in the year 1869. The church was built shortly after this and was called "Burside Church". The lumber used for the frame of this church was hewn by hand in the woods. Then it was hauled here by the men of this vicinity, who were worshippers of the same. The carpenters employed were Messrs. John Auld, John Darrach, John McPhail, Colin MacPhail, and Archibald MacFadyen. Mr. George Dixon, grandfather of George Dixon, who is now a resident of Clyde River, sawed the shingles and boards. The first one buried here was Mr. William Livingstone, uncle of James Livingstone, who is now an elder of this church. The next one buried was Elizabeth MacFadyen, daughter of the late Archibald MacFadyen and aunt of Pte. Norman C. MacFadyen, who is also an elder and is at present serving in the Veterans' Guard at Valcartier. The third one buried was Mrs. John Brown. Among others buried were Hugh Millan and Dr. A. J. Murchison, both of whom were elders and Superintendents of the Sabbath School for a number of years. Buried here also is Mr. William Auld, who, before an organ was purchased in this church, led the singing for several years. Mr. Auld was the grandfather of the late Allison Auld. Before Dr. Murchison and Allison Auld were greatly interested in the renovation of this cemetery and until the time of their deaths were trustees of this church. The other trustees were Messrs. John MacNevin, Fred Bear, Harry MacLean, Hugh MacLean, Kenison MacKinnon, Fulford Darrach and John Docherty.

This church was first opened by the Rev. James Allen of Covehead, who was the grandfather of Dr. Wylie Allen of Charlottetown. Then, as the congregation grew, this building was enlarged by the addition of the wing. This wing was built about 5 years ago. The carpenters were Joseph Hyde and Edward MacCallum. Among the ministers who preached here in the early days of this church were Rev. George Sutherland, Rev. Alexander Falconer. Next was Rev. William Ross who was inducted here in was that she didn't like. She was as cheerful, as friendly as a collee-pup, and she seemed instantly when she happened to be with lacked the same friendliness. This man, despite his expressed desire to interview her, was not friendly. He was cold, aloof, he almost behaved as though he didn't like her. And that she told herself severely. Was a silly thought, because why should she be so? She'd never see him again, anyway — and that would be all right, too — she added firmly.

W. C. T. U. Hold Provincial Convention

The Provincial Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in Cornwall United Church on Wednesday Sept. 17, with a good representation from the different unions.

The afternoon session opened with a very helpful devotional period by Cornwall members.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the reports from the Unions showed that time and effort had been given to the various phases of the work.

The L. T. L. Secretary Mrs. Wm. Clark spoke of the work carried on among the children and young people. Two Loyal Temperance Leagues have been organized in connection with the mission bands. One at Bedouque and the other at North Wiltshire. The children seem much interested in the work and it is hoped that Mission Bands in other places will also organize. Any needed information can be obtained from the Secretary.

Mrs. Harrison MacFarlane reported on the Evangelistic work. This subject said the speaker means not only the devotional part of our meetings but means also our going out and reaching other people who need to be taught about the need for total abstinence and the awfulness of the drink habit.

As a nation we have been so often called on to set apart a special day for prayer for victory, but one wonders how we dare ask God for anything, for a country that keeps on sending so many to destruction each year by its blindness and greed for gain. It seems to me that what we need most, is a day for prayer for our Government and our country at the head of our National life, that their blind eyes may be opened to the awful menace of strong drink, and the havoc resulting among the young men in our training camps.

Mrs. Frank Deacon reported on Temperance in Sunday Schools as carried on through the National Temperance Study Course. 90 papers were sent in an increase of over last year. The papers were for the most part well written and showed careful study on the part of the scholars.

Four received prizes and four others honorable mention from the Dominion headquarters on lessons commenced again this fall on the first Sunday of October and continue for five Sundays. They will be printed as usual in the Sunday School Papers and in the Charlottetown Guardian. After the contest closes the papers are to be sent to Mrs. Frank Deacon, Freetown. Watch the paper for further particulars.

The afternoon meeting closed with the hymn "O God of Bethel." In the evening the worship service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Woodside, assisted by Rev. A. E. Todd, North River.

The reports of the nominating and Resolution Committee were heard and Rev. Woodside installed the new officers with prayer. Following is the list: President Miss Edith Sterns Charlottetown 1st. Vice Pres. Mrs. Hazen Howard Cornwall; 2nd Vice Pres. Mrs. Heath Vessey York; Rec. Secy. Mrs. George Jardine, Freetown; Corres. Sec'y. Mrs. Douglas Youngker, North Wiltshire. Treas. Miss Mildred Callbeck, C. Bedouque; Tidings Editor, Mrs. Harrison MacFarlane, Bedouque; Scientific Temperance, Mrs. William Clarke, N. Wiltshire; Temperance in S. School, Mrs. Frank Deacon, Freetown; Fisheries and Light-houses, Mrs. Fred Shaw, Bonshaw; Evangelistic Secy., Mrs. Hammond Johnson, Summerside; L. T. L. Secy., Mrs. John Prizell, C. Bedouque; Travellers Aid, Miss Emma White, Charlottetown.

The Special feature of the evening was the Oratorical Contest. Challenge from Bedouque North Wiltshire, York and Charlottetown took part. The readings were well rendered and the Judges had a rather difficult task in choosing the winners. Prizes were presented to the following:

Juniors—1st. Austin Bowman, North Wiltshire; 2nd. Arthur Toombs, Bedouque; 3rd. Doris Easter North Wiltshire.

Intermediates—1st. Ruth Wright, Bedouque; 2nd. Shirley MacLean, N. Wiltshire; 3rd. Gladys Crockett, York.

Seniors—1st. Ruth Turbush, Charlottetown; 2nd. Daphne McPhee, Charlottetown.

The Judges were Rev. E. B. Woodside, Edison MacDonalld, Mrs. Frank Deacon. The following resolutions were read:

I. Whereas we desire to cooperate with our Government in their repeated request to set apart a special day of prayer for Victory, but feeling that such an act is as long as our country in its blindness and greed for gain is degrading our youth and crippling our war effort by the sale of intoxicants, resolved that we entreat our government to heed our oft-repeated prayer to abolish the wet and to prohibit the sale of this menace to the manhood and womanhood of our land, at least for the duration of the war.

II. Whereas we feel that the appalling increase in drinking among our youth and the taking on of the prohibition law are due to the lack of temperance education in childhood; resolved that we urge upon public school teachers, 85 teachers and Supl. Pastors and all responsible, the vital need of this education and their moral responsibility and their moral responsibility thereof.

III. Resolved that we express our appreciation of the faithful and painstaking efforts of Miss Emma White, Charlottetown, in providing the excellent material published each week in the W.C.T.U. column of The Guardian.

IV—Resolved that we tender the thanks of this convention to the ladies of Cornwall Union who provided a most beautiful supper to the delegates, to Mrs. MacMillan who so kindly placed her home and beautiful grounds at the disposal of Mr. Woodside, the pastor of Cornwall Church, and all who contributed to the success of this Convention.
