Attractive New Feature
FOR
GUARDIAN READERS

The Handy Man's Hobbies in House and Garden
How Amateurs Can Become Experts

In the "Handy Man's Corner"—a notable new series commencing in our issue of the Guardian, the handy-man will find an abundance of suggestions for varying the scope of his skill. But he will find much more than this. The author of these essentially practical articles works in a little model workshop of his own and will take his readers step by step through each working process, pointing out all potential "snags" that may be encountered, and demonstrating clearly and simply, with straight-to-the-point diagrams, the manner in which they can be successfully overcome.

Whatever the nature of the handicraft described, whether making the new or mending the old, whether constructing a gasometer or repairing the garden fence, each job of work to be dealt with in this unique new series has been carried out by the author with no more elaborate tool-chest equipment than is at the disposal of the average handy-man.

The field to be exploited is as varied as it is fascinating and practical; and will ensure not only the fullest possible enjoyment of a profitable hobby, but the solution of innumerable household economic problems, from reviving the domestic mangle, fitting up the bathroom with all manner of useful gadgets, not to mention the construction of pergolas, tents, and rustic furniture for the garden; and a new lease of life for the overworked gramophone.

If the handy-man cuts out and preserves each article in the series he will possess an invaluable guide and reference file. For it should be emphasized that the "Handy Man's Corner" is specially designed for the handy-man who feels a need of the expert advice that eliminates the discouragements of craftsmanship; advice that, faithfully followed, will impart to the work of the amateur a truly professional finish. Look out for the first article of the series, appearing in "The Charlottetown Guardian" today.

Thornton Full of Optimism

(Special to The Guardian)
 TORONTO, March 12.—Canada is due to enjoy an era of prosperity of some duration; the C.N.R. is steadily improving financially and likely to do still better; there is no need of rushing railway lines into Red Lake district as yet; Toronto viaduct is steadily going ahead in point of construction work; nothing new on Alberta coal rates until Premier Ferguson has his say. These were the salient points of an interview given this Star today by Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways who spent a few hours in Toronto before proceeding to Hamilton where he speaks at a C. M. A. dinner tonight.

Sir Henry was biographically optimistic. The hint of spring in the March air seemed to have touched his blood. He was confident of Canada and of the rapid development of the nation and its resources. Speaking from the text of the joyful tidings, of a $150,000,000

LOCAL HIKERS TO LEAVE ON MONDAY

Generous co-operation
Given by City Merchants—Cross-Continental Walkers Will Carry Letter of Commendation from Lt.-Governor.

To be the jumping off place for a pair of trans-continental hikers is quite a unique distinction for Charlottetown and there should be quite a lot of interest taken when Jack Roberts and Robert Harris, two young men belonging to Halifax, set out on Monday on their long and arduous rip on foot to the Pacific Coast.

Since intimation of the hike was first given in the Guardian, both hikers have been preparing for the start, and are now almost ready. Much of their outfit was presented to them gratis by the merchants of this city, to whom the hikers are indeed grateful. Mr. A. A. Alley, of Alley & Company sent in a special order to a shoe factory for two pairs of proper hiking boots. Prowse Bros. contributed a generous supply of wearing apparel and underwear. Mr. S. A. McDonald supplied walking breeches, and Moore & McLeod's and Parsons, Ltd., a generous donation of socks. Henderson & Cudmore's Haberdashery supplemented the kit thus procured with several pairs of warm gloves.

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor has presented the hikers with the following letter of commendation.

March 10th, 1926.
 TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
 This is to certify that the bearers, Mr. Jack Roberts and Mr. Robert Harris, both of Halifax, Nova Scotia, electricians by profession, are known to me.

These two young men are starting out from Charlottetown in the Province of Prince Edward Island, with the very ambitious notion of walking from Charlottetown, one of the most eastern cities in Canada, to the City of San Francisco, California.

It is their intention to begin their long hike on or about the 15th. of "or. 1926 and will be given an official start from the fine building in which is housed the Editorial and Printing offices of the Guardian Publishing Company, one of the largest morning newspaper printing establishments in the Maritime Provinces, and under whose auspices in a way this adventure is being taken.

A great deal of interest is manifested amongst all classes in this city, and the people feel that every encouragement should be given to these boys in order that they may "in through."

Any courtesies that can be extended to them will be greatly appreciated by me.
 I have the honour to be,
 Sir,
 Your Obedient Servant,
 (Signed) FRANK R. HEARTZ,
 Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Prince Edward Island.

DOUBLE-HEADER WITH FAST ICE ENTERTAINS FANS AT THE ARENA LAST NIGHT

West Kent Defeats Summerside High School 5-2—Red Macs Lose to Abegweit Sisters 5-1.

Showing class in every period and forcing the play from start to finish the West Kent School ex-cel-lently defeated the Summerside High School at the Arena last night by a score of 5 to 2. The visitors, although playing a losing battle in nearly every period showed flashes of speed at times that was credit-able and had they been able to maintain the pace a much different score would have undoubtedly resulted. As it was they put up a determined front in every period and fought gallantly to the last whistle.

In the first period West Kent got the jump when Bevans after a scintillating piece of stick-handling, barged the cor for the opening score. The locals forced the pace for the greater part of the period, but the stellar work of F. Moore-side in the net prevented further scoring.

In the second period Summerside showed their best hockey to the extent of two counters, W. Woodside and Pritchard doing the scoring, while Squarebriggs and Bevans added two more putting the locals on the long end of a 3 to 2 count at the second period bell.

In the third session West Kent had things pretty much their own way, and again Woodside proved the stumbling block to a one-sided score, as it was Bevans and Murie; added two more tallies to cante home to an easy win of 5 to 2.

"Dempsy" Diamond referee very satisfactorily, having the game well in hand in every period. "Abbie Sisters" Red Macs 1.

This game perhaps was the most interesting fixture of the night, and notwithstanding the one-sided score, every period was hard fought and the Red Macs have nothing to reproach themselves with.

Weeks and Owen the goal get-ter, of the Abbie lineup last night excelled themselves as never before, their skating and stick-handling, combined with good shooting brought well deserved applause from the fair sized gathering of fans. Miss Weeks notched the two first scores of the evening on individual work, also annexing another in the third period with one assist. Miss Owen demonstrated a wicked drive in this period by banging the fifth counter into the twine from thirty feet out, the disc settling waist high behind Maud McGuigan, the Red Mac goalie.

The Bourke sisters appeared listless in the two first periods, but woke up in the last, session, and their offensive work helped in no little way to paving the road for the one-sided victory.

For the Red Macs, the Misses Benoit, Mullen and Praught played their usual effective game, the first two mentioned had Unsworth working overtime in the Abbie net in the last period to keep her team on the big side of the event. To Hilda Praught goes the laurel wreath for clever defensive work, her checking at times being so pronounced that referee Kelly had to hand out one penalty and several warnings, nevertheless this did not dampen her ardor any and throughout played a truly remarkable game. Mary Maddigan, her team-mate also worked well on the defence, but being closely watched all evening had its short-comings. With the result that she was tied up every time she annexed the rubber. E. Connolly another Red Mac showed stellar hockey, but like Maddigan she was marked all evening and could not get within scoring distance.

The score by periods was: First period—Abbie Sisters 2; Red Macs 0. Second period—Abbie Sisters
