Ice Conditions Much Improved

"Ice conditions generally are much improved since Friday's observation," Mr. Angus Brown, official ice observer for the Department of Transport, reported last night on return from yesterday's aerial ice patrol.

The ice is pretty well cleared from the Gulf of St. Lawrence, although there is still considerable amount of drift ice off Cape Ray, Newfoundland, which is flowing down through Cabot Strait, and this area should be navigated with caution.

The Strait of Canso is looking good, Mr. Brown reported, and the Northumberland Straits are also good, although navigation between Borden and Wood Islands should be carried out with caution.

The steamer track between East Point, P. E. I. and the Magdalen Islands is also open and in good condition, and some shipping is now operating along the St. Lawrence steamer track.

Summerside Harbour is not completely open yet, but is breaking up fast, Mr. Brown stated.

Navy League Annual Meeting

WINNIPEG, April 18 - (CP) - A call for greater watchfulness against the "ugly, red head of Communism" was issued by Capt. A. P. Musgrave, Royal Canadian Navy, of Ottawa, addressing the 30th annual meeting of the Dominion Council Navy League of Canada during the week-end.

Capt. Musgrave, director of Sea Cadets, said Communism was "rearing itself within our midst."

There now were three times as many Sea Cadets as were enrolled before the war.

Delegates approved expansion of the Sea Cadet movement, the continuation of club and hostel operation for merchant seamen; the combatting of all subversive influences and the enlargement of the League's educational program.

Passenger May Have Caused Wreck

CREWE, England, April 18 - (AP) - Police worked on a theory tonight that a train passenger in a hurry to get home caused a wreck which killed 24 persons.

The smashup occurred early Saturday at Winsford, near here, when somebody slipped on an express by pulling the communication cord. A fast mail train struck the express from behind. One of the 34 injured died in a hospital today.

An officer assigned to the investigation told reporters: "If anyone stopped the train to alight at Winsford instead of travelling the additional 10 miles to Crewe they would have themselves a whole night's wait at Crewe for a morning bus or a train back to Winsford."

George Curzon, whose house is across a field a quarter of a mile from the tracks, said he was awakened by the sound of running footsteps just before he heard the crash.

Looking out the window, he said, he saw a man with a brief case hurrying across a field, jump a fence and run out of sight.

In an appeal for the person who pulled the cord to come forward, police pointed out that the maximum penalty for the offence is £5 ($20).

Mackenzie King's Cold Almost Better

OTTAWA, April 18 - (CP) - Prime Minister Mackenzie King, his cold almost better, expects to be back at his Commons' desk tomorrow, a spokesman said tonight.

Woman Dies In Effort To Rescue Husband

ORILLIA, Ont., April 18 - (CP) - A 79-year-old Indian woman died in a vain attempt to save Alexander Ingersoll, 85, her bed-ridden husband, from the flaming kitchen of their Rama Reserve log cabin, eight miles east of here Saturday.

Patricia Ingersoll, grandchild of the couple, escaped from the flames to tell of her grandmother's heroism. The girl was sleeping in an arm chair when she woke up to find papers burning in front of the stove.

"Grandpa had been sick and he was sleeping on a bed in the kitchen. Grandma was pouring water on the burning paper and soon the fire spread all over the floor beside the stove. I stayed with them for a while, then grandma told me I had better get out and get help."

Here, of Alexandria, invented a whirling steam-actuated engine. Twenty-one centuries later in 1883, it reappeared as the Parsons steam turbine.

been discovered that for $55 or its equivalent in food, goods or gold, a dweller in a displaced persons' camp suffering from tuberculosis can get a duly-attested x-ray photograph of a chest, indicating that he is in perfectly healthy condition. Similar forged plates and documents have been used as proof that the would-be emigrant is free from other diseases which he may have and which would bar him from the Dominion.

Forged identity cards complete with photograph and fingerprints are also available in the vicinity of these camps at black market prices.

With the assistance of British, American and French officials, Canadians dealing with displaced persons are now re-checking their lists of those either en route or already established in Canada.

With new information at their disposal, authorities hope to comb out "spies," Nazis, Communists and impostors of all sorts.

In Canada's daily newspapers this week, advertisements have been inserted seeking recruits for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. It is anticipated here that new recruits will be posted to routine guard and other duties and that many experienced constables and non-commissioned officers will be transferred to the "red" and "subversive" squads of the force.
