PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT'S MESSAGE TO FOX BREEDERS

The Premier and Government of the Province wish to express through our Department, their thanks and appreciation to the judges and exhibitors of the Fox Show. We realize the advantage your show has of bringing to the front, the outstanding quality of the better class of animals.

The Government is more interested in the Fox Industry at the present time, than it has been for sometime past, as they are undertaking to spend considerable sums of money with the idea of increasing the quality of foxes held in the different ranches in the Province for breeding purposes.

In order to accomplish this, we have engaged our Fieldman, Mr. W. F. Burke, who has this work in charge under our Department. Up to the present time our success has been far greater than we could hope it might be. We have established already in the vicinity of twenty (20) Fox Study Clubs, in the Province and we are daily receiving letters inquiring about the formation of new Clubs, and in many cases, letters from parties who have already instituted their Clubs, giving us names of their Executive.

I would earnestly ask the fox ranchers through the Province, to give to our Fieldman, that hearty co-operation and support, which he has received up to the present time. We also wish to express our gratitude to the representatives of the different Fur Pools in the Province, as well as to the staff of the Experimental Fox Station at Summerside, and also to the press and all others who have materially assisted in making this undertaking such a phenomenal success.

India Remarkd Canada's Claims Regarding Trade

By G. E. POWELL

(Canadian Press Correspondent)
CALCUTTA, Nov. 2—(CP)—British Indian newspapers did not fail to notice the remarks reported to have been made by Charles Dunning, Canadian minister of finance, in the House of Commons early this year. Canada's imports from this country were last year three times the value of this country's imports from Canada, and whereas Indian goods have a customs preference in the Canadian market, this country gives the Dominions' imports no corresponding concession.

Mr. Dunning reminded the House that the Canadian government had the power to withdraw preferences that were not reciprocated.

This statement of facts is not denied here. The Government of India, which has control of British India's customs tariff, has two sets of duties: preferential, applicable to many products from the United Kingdom, the Dominions and Colonies. The other standard is imposed on imports from other countries.

The present finance minister, Sir James Grigg, is believed to hold the opinion that India's customs duties need revision, some being too high. But relief to the importer and his clients has been slow in coming because, five-twelfths of the Government of India's revenue is derived from customs duties, and while the economic depression was at its worst, the government was presumably unwilling to weaken so valuable a support of its revenue system, especially as there was for several years a deficit on the railways and each increase in income tax rates was bitterly opposed in the Legislative Assembly.

The pace of economic recovery in India is now quickening. Railway and income tax receipts show a welcome increase, the burden on income tax payers has been lightened and the importer and his Indian correspondents are on stronger ground in asking for relief. This the import duty on newsprint was, in response to the newspaper's request, reduced.

At the same time it would not be right to pitch hopes too high, for, as the Government of India has pointed out, the rise in prices, a symptom of world and Indian economic recovery, has necessitated the government paying more for what it brings in itself.

Negotiations With Canada

To turn from the heights of the Indian customs tariff as a whole to Indo-Canadian trade in particular, it is thought unlikely the Government of India will consider negotiations until the present discussions between the Indian and the United Kingdom trade delegations in London have come to a definite conclusion.

These were rendered necessary by the Legislative Assembly's voting, last year, in favor of terminating the trade agreement between the United Kingdom and India, negotiated at Ottawa in 1932. This agreement has been attacked by large sections of Indian opinion, notably in the Central Legislative Assembly by the Congress and the Independent Party led by M. A. Jinnah, president of the All-India Muslim League.

Members of these parties argued that at Ottawa the Indian delegation did not take up a strong enough stand against British claims, a much better bargain could have been driven with Great Britain, the actual agreement had to a diversion of India export trade from other countries into the British market, and that other countries had, by penalizing Indian shipments to their ports, retaliated against the preferences accorded to the British importer in India.

The government, they said, should explore the possibility of negotiating bilateral trade treaties with other countries. Already the government has announced arrangements with South Africa pending the conclusion of a formal treaty, there are trade talks in progress with Siam, Muscat and the Dutch East Indies, others with Ceylon are in prospect, and a new trade agreement has been concluded with Japan.

Thus Indian politicians are definitely in favor of trade treaties with other countries. As regards Canada, the following passage appears in a pamphlet issued this year by Nalmi Ranjan Sarkar, who is regarded as a leading economist of the Nationalist school and now is finance minister of Bengal:

either the same preference as is enjoyed by the United Kingdom or some intermediate preference for her motor cars."

Earlier, Mr. Sarkar admits that "the possibilities of a large exchange of commodities between India and the Dominions are limited by the fact that they are like India, large exporters of agricultural goods. In the case of Canada the proximity to the United States is another important factor."

Canada Leads In Newsprint

OTTAWA, Nov. 2—Canada leads the world in the production of newsprint, contributing more than one-third of the world output during 1936. Newsprint paper produced in Canadian paper mills amounted to 3,225,386 tons valued at $105,214,533, and made up about 85 per cent of the total reported tonnage of paper manufactured in Canada during the year. For the first six months of 1937 Canada's output of newsprint is estimated at 1,753,350 tons, an increase of almost 295,000 tons or about 20 per cent over the corresponding period of 1936.

Canada is also the world's leading exporter of newsprint. Her exports of newsprint are now second only to her exports of wheat and are greater than the newsprint exports of the rest of the world. In 1936 Canada's exports of newsprint paper totalled 2,993,099 tons valued at $103,539,534, of which 2,389,672 tons valued at $83,545,931 went to the United States.

The pulp and paper industry is one of the most important industries in Canada from the standpoint of employment, heading the lists in wage and salary distribution since 1922.

Officers and Directors

Greetings from the CITY OF CHARLOTTETOWN

Through the faith, courage and vision of Island pioneers in fox-ranching the world was given a new industry where the first experiments in domestic breeding of foxes was carried on; the industry has weathered many vicissitudes and still maintains its place as one of the Province's most gainful fields of production. At the very outset the infant industry suffered greatly from an almost frenzied period of speculation. Then came the World War and the crash of world markets. More recently fox ranchers have felt the effect of the world-wide depression, now happily giving way to a brighter era. It speaks well for the steadiness, adaptability and common sense of Island ranchers that throughout good times and bad the industry has been maintained and that Island foxes are still the finest offered at the great European auction sales. The annual Prince Edward Island Silver Fox Exhibition is a great contributing factor to our continued world leadership. It is a meeting place of our most progressive ranchers and offers splendid opportunities for the interchange of ideas on all phases of the industry. Recognizing the importance of this annual show the citizens of Charlottetown gladly welcome the exhibitors to the Island's capital, with the hope that the years ahead will be years of expansion and progress.

REGISTRATION CANADIAN NATIONAL SILVER FOX BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION

Headquarters:—SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I.

Good advice to a rancher anxious to get dependable foxes to stock his ranch or to improve his herd is to attend such a show as the Charlottetown FOX SHOW sponsored by the Prince Edward Island Silver Fox Breeders' & Exhibitors Association

which Organization permits the entries of only registered foxes owned by Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association members. Of such foxes readily available pedigrees may be traced for generations. Pedigree is of the highest importance to a good stockman in upholding and improving the quality of his foxes. Registration of foxes in the Canadian National Live Stock Records of Canada affords the best known means of maintaining correct pedigree so essential to progressive breeders.

The membership fee is now at the reduced rate of $3.00 while certificates are required for only what foxes are kept as breeders of stock that may be registered or sold to persons who require certificates. Advanced Registration is available for foxes of high-standard quality that are producers of litters of at least four pups also of high-standard quality. For fuller information see article 25 of the Constitution.

BABEL IN SHORTHAND

BOMBAY, —(CP)—Increased use of Indian languages in the new provincial legislatures has increased the difficulty of reporting speeches and a national conference of shorthand writers is being held to attempt to solve the problem.
