Would Curb Sensational Gold Reports

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 6—The Commission Government is taking every precaution to guard against gold rushes that peter out and leave thousands of prospectors and miners stranded in the wilds after spending their last dollar for equipment and supplies.

Following sensational reports from Rose Blanche, Claude Howse, assistant government geologist, was sent into the territory to investigate, and today he announced that results of analysis for gold in 22 samples was "nil".

"It is unfortunate that wild rumors concerning this area were allowed to circulate," Mr. Howse said. "Certainly there is no reason to expect an Eldorado and it is only by scientific investigation that we can determine whether or not an area has any potential value whatever as a gold producer."

The Department of Natural Resources has been gathering samples of ore from all promising districts and careful examination will be made.

Prof. A. K. Snelgrove, government geologist, investigated a "strike" at La Poile Bay and asserted that the district had "interesting possibilities" but did not warrant any great "rush".

CANADIAN SALT HERRING COMMANDS CHINESE MARKET

China gets her dried salt herring from Canada where it commands the market in Central China. The demand for fish products in this market increases with the advent of cool weather, the chief varieties of fish in demand being salted (dry and wet) salmon, mild cured salmon, and Scotch cured herring, states the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. With the resumption of active trading with Soviet Russia, the local market has been materially affected and there are reports of considerable shipments of the latterly mentioned fish products from Soviet Russia.

FIRST WOMAN IN SENATE PRESS GALLERY IN U. S. IS DEAD

EXETER, N. H., Nov. 7—Mrs. Yrs Webster Richards, of this town, who had a remarkable career as a Washington correspondent for newspapers in New England, died here today.

Two weeks ago she suffered a broken hip in a fall at her home and death resulted from complications which followed this injury.

Mrs. Richards was widely known in Massachusetts and New Hampshire as a speaker at political gatherings and women's clubs.

She was the first woman admitted to membership in the Senate Press Gallery at Washington and for 10 years was the only woman member of that organization of writers for daily newspapers.

She was accredited to the Worcester, Mass., Telegram and Evening Gazette and had a record of 25 years continuous service in Washington for those newspapers.

She also wrote a column for the weekly newspaper in this town and the column failed to appear a fortnight ago for the first time in 24 years.

MINING

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Nov 7—Bulls were in the driver's seat in the late trading today on the mining section of the Toronto Exchange and they succeeded in giving the whole market an upward flurry with base metals holding the leadership. The big gold shares made the most cautious response, volume in the group continuing small except in Teck Hughes which traded heavily and closed down 4 cents at $4.15.

McIntyre in small trade gained 1.85 to 44.10, followed by Dome, up 75 cents to 39.50, Hollinger, up 60 cents to 20.60, Lake Shore, up 26 to 55.25 and Wright Hargreaves, up 10 to 8.95. God's Lake again steamed up to board a net advance of 17 cents to 2.25 on a trade of 35,000 shares, gains of 6 to 13 cents were chalked up for Ventures, Siscoe, Read Authier, Pickle Crow, Cariboo and Beattie. Gunnar added 5½. Buffalo-Ankerite, Sylvanite and Central Patricia 5 cents each and Conlarum closed 30 cents up at $2.

MOTOR CAR INDUSTRY BOOMING UNITED KINGDOM

The motor car industry in Great Britain is booming. One manufacturer in Birmingham district is working full time, is employing over 17,000 men and unable to satisfy foreign demands, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. It is expected that the automobile exhibition in London will bring the 1935 deliveries to all-time high records. Iron foundries and engineering works report greater activity and there is an increasing number of enquiries from abroad. Manufacturers of office equipment also report an increase in activity.

CROWDS FOLLOW

tries were of a high standard. It took a lot of shifting around on the part of the Judge before he finally arrived at the decision to place Edwin C. Johnstone, Charlottetown, first, Brown Bros., Stanley Bridge, second and George E. Brown, Kensington, third.

DARK MEDIUM SILVER MALE PUPS—Many were the comments made on this fine class of young foxes. They had color, clear silver, and were exceptionally well furred. It is therefore a matter of congratulation to J. R. Lockerby, Hamilton, to have the honor of being at the top and to L. W. Hancock, Summerside, for being the runner up. Beautiful animals were displayed by W. W. Brown, Charlottetown, John B. Roper, Charlottetown and Johnston Bros., who followed in the order named. As a matter of fact there was little to separate any of the winners.

DARK MEDIUM SILVER FEMALE PUPS—This was one of the best classes of dark medium pups the writer has ever seen displayed on a table. They see-sawed back and forth for quite a time before being finally placed, then Stewart & Lewis, Summerside, were announced as winners, T. Arthur Dawson, Albany, copping second and third and Gorden McMillan fourth.

MEDIUM SILVER ADULT MALES was a very fine class, plenty of fur and most of them with clear, sparkling silver. John Roper occupied the top of the table with a beautiful animal until almost the last minute when C. C. Baker and Edwin C. Johnstone were placed ahead of him. All the entries were of exceptional quality even to the tenth winner, while many that did not get awards would be highly prized by any rancher.

MEDIUM SILVER YEARLING MALE was the largest class judged up to this time and some magnificent specimens appeared. Walter M. Gregor had the proud honor of being first with A. L. Rogers second, Brown Bros. third and George E. Brown fourth.

MEDIUM SILVER ADULT FEMALES—These were a classy lot and Judge Callbeck had his hands full and had to do a lot of thinking before he finally awarded the ribbons. W. W. Brown, Charlottetown, was first with a large, silky, beautifully clear specimen, Ray Carr, Stanhope, who has been doing exceptionally well at the Show, second, and Cudmore Bros. third.

MEDIUM SILVER YEARLING FEMALES—This was another large class and a dandy one too. Ray Carr landed at the top. Many friends of H. G. Muttart, Summerside, showered congratulations on him for being second. It was a stiff fight for first, second and third places. In fact for all the places. Brown Bros., Stanley Bridge, were third, J. R. Lockerby fourth.

MEDIUM SILVER MALE PUPS—There were 24 of these shown and looking from our elevated position down on them there did not seem to be very much difference. They were all good, but of course there are variations in color, texture, wealth of fur, and other points that go to make up a prize winner. It took three-quarters of an hour almost to separate the winners from the losers. Edwin C. Johnstone was first, Stewart & Lewis second with the Johnston Bros., who have been cleaning up so many prizes at the show in the dark classes, third and fourth.

Judging will start this morning at nine o'clock sharp and all exhibitors and attendants must have their foxes ready at that hour. Today's classes will be exceptionally heavy as mentioned before three of them totalling nearly 100 entries. There is a probability that the pale silver adults will be on the table and judged in the afternoon.

This Silver Fox Show will be a widely advertised one from the fact that moving pictures were taken yesterday when the largest class, the Medium Silvers, was on the table. The seats were all filled and standing room was at a premium when the "shots" were made. Many local people will be "seeing themselves" at the Prince Edward later on, either as spectators or as foxmen.

Cat's Standing Still Disputed

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

REGINA, Nov. 6—Plain Tom-cat or a £1,000-male tortoise cat? That is the question.

Despatches today from Charlottetown say the feline entered in the Royal Winter Show at Toronto as a more than rare tortoise male cat is nothing more than a plain tom cat to Mr. J. P. Irving, Cherry Valley, P. E. I., who provides the home for it. However there is still plenty of doubt as to whether the newspapers know what they're talking about—in the mind of A. P. McRae Chaplin, Sask., brother of Mrs. Irving who has entered the cat.

Reached again over the long-distance telephone at Chaplin, 95 miles west of Regina, Mr. McRae heard the despatch through in silence and then said he thought maybe the Charlottetown newspapermen had got hold of the wrong Mrs. Irving, his sister. But he heard the name again and decided maybe it was the right one. He asked again about the part referring to Mrs. Irving's statement that her cat is a grey and black in color—not the black, red and cream of the tortoise shell cross between a black and a red cat.

"Hmmm," said Mr. McRae. "I thought that the cat was black and red and buff. It's several years since I saw it last but I'm sure I've got those colors right.

"I shouldn't doubt but that one of the papers down there will send a man out to look at the cat and then we'll know just what color it really is. That's if he get's the right Mrs. Irving."

Queried, too, on Mrs. Irving's claim that her brother had not informed her he was going to enter the cat in the Toronto show, Mr. McRae said it was quite true she would not know. He had not told her though the two wrote weekly.

"Didn't know all this fuss was going to be picked up in the newspapers about the cat. I intended to go down there quietly and see about it that's all," said Mr. McRae.

But Mr. McRae is not going to rely on the newspapers for all his information. He is going to carry out his plan to go east. He expects to leave next week sometime. "My brother is very ill down there and I want to see him anyway so I'll be going," he said.

"But I still think the cat's colors are red and buff and black."

PORT OF BRISTOL HAS MAINTAINED CLOSE ASSOCIATION WITH CANADA SINCE THE DAYS OF JOHN CABOT

The port of Bristol is closely associated with the discovery of North America as it was from that port John Cabot sailed to discover the New World, and Canada in particular, in 1497, landing in Aspy Bay, Cape Breton Island, June 24th that year. The port of Bristol throughout the years has continued to be prominently connected with Canada both in the tobacco trade and in grain. The port of Bristol is today one of the most important of the grain receiving stations in the United Kingdom. There is a transit granary with a capacity of 12,000 tons and three storage granaries with a combined capacity of 50,000 tons and at Portisheed Dock there is a granary and grain shed having a capacity of 80,000 tons. The port is served by two railway lines, the Great Western and the London, Midland and Scottish. Grain pours in through Bristol from all the grain producing countries of the world, states the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. Last year grain imports were drawn from eighteen different countries, the principal suppliers being Argentina, Canada, Russia, Roumania, Iraq, and Australia. Other important suppliers were the United States, Germany and New Zealand.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 6. — Nine liquor bills, one of which would credit net profits from the operation of state liquor stores to communities in proportion to their state tax, were tyled today with the Maine Legislature which convened in special session to enact a liquor control law.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Stocks took the upward path today after hesitating at the crossroads in the forenoon as Wall Street digested the election results.

A comparatively heavy wave of buying in the last hour swelled the day's turnover to 1,111,090 shares, the largest since Oct. 11, in contrast with 759,000 Monday, before the election holiday.

Most speculative markets gave expression to inflationary impulses, attributed partly to interpretation of the new deal victory at the polls as meaning additional heavy government spending.

Favored by an improved technical position as result of recent declines, some commoditions outdistanced stocks in vigor on the advance. Wheat futures rose 2 1-2 to 4 1-8 cents a bushel at Chicago. Cotton futures rose 2 1 2 to 4 1-8 cents a bushel at Chicago. Cotton gained 80 to $1.10 a bale. Hides and rubber were among the strong markets.

United States Government Bonds eased but most corporate bonds were steady to firm in quiet dealings.

Brokers with foreign connections said there had been increased demand for United States shares from Europe. They ascribed the buying from that source in part to precautions against the possibility of a breach in the gold bloc's front.

Nervousness over the French political crisis again was evident in foreign exchange, with the franc remaining at a point which permitted further shipments of gold to New York from Paris.

The Democratic sweep to victory did not surprise the financial community, as was apparent in the slow, routine movements of shares in the forenoon. But, in the absence of liquidation, fresh buying of speculative issues quickened interest in stocks and the recent slow advance was resumed at a faster pace in late trading.

American Can, U. S. Steel, Du Pont, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, American Smelting, Anaconda Copper, Bethlehem Steel, Sears Roebuck and other important industrial shares rose 1 to 2 points.

A variety of issues in the building field were bought on prospects the administration would put new vigor into its efforts to revive construction on a big scale. A number of speculative preferred stocks with thin markets scored sharp gains.

Silver shares were strong, with U. S. Smelting up 4 1-2. Rails and utilities participated in the general advance but were not conspicuous. Profit-making held back liquor shares and so-called California stocks, since traders had anticipated elections results affecting those groups.

Shares of companies well supplied with cash were bought by some traders on the possibility they might consider increased dividends or stock payments. Coca Cola, Eastman Kodak, Ligett & Myers and American Chicle sold at new 1934 peaks on gains of 1 to 2 points or so.

Trade news was meagre. The weekly electric power production figures and the mid-week iron age report were delayed by the election recess. Business commentators continued to stress the potentialities of building revival. Chain stors reports confirmed recent accounts of brisk retail trade. F. W. Woolworth showed an increase of 5.7 percent in dollar value of sales last month compared with October, 1933.
