

SUPREME COURT AT GEORGETOWN

(Special by Phone) GEORGETOWN, July 17.—Supreme Court resumed here at 10 a.m. and the case of the King vs. McInnis was again taken up.

The first witness examined was Dr. W. J. McMillan, who had performed the autopsy on the body of the deceased Gallian J. McInnis. His evidence was practically the same as that given by him at the preliminary trial.

In cross examination he produced the heart of the deceased and showed the jury how diseased the coronary arteries were and stated that it was a heart just about able to do its ordinary every day work with a very small margin to go and come on.

The next witness was Dr. Augustine A. McDonald, who supported the statement made by Dr. McMillan. This closed the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Johnson then opened the case for the defence. The prisoner was called and deposed that he was 46 years of age; had taught school and farmed. He practically agreed with all the statements that had been made by the witnesses for the crown, except that he had only taken Gallian McInnis out of bed once and not twice as stated by the wife and daughter of the deceased.

Mr. Johnson addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner and Attorney General Mathieson on behalf of the crown.

CITY COUNCIL SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night to discuss several matters of urgency that are before the Council. His Worship the Mayor (Mr. C. Lyons, Ald.) presided, and all the other members of the Council were present, with the Recorder (Mr. K. J. Martin) and the City Clerk (Mr. W. W. Clarke).

The first matter taken up was the question of regulating the running of motor cars and motor vehicles in Charlottetown and Common, including Victoria Park and Roadway. The meeting decided to keep in operation the by-law which was brought into force when the motor cars were first here, and the City Clerk was instructed to call the attention of those using motor-cars to the existence of the by-laws, which are published in full in another part of the present issue.

There ensued some discussion as to the amount of license to be levied on motor cars. The Mayor expressed the view that those who owned motor cars would not be averse to paying a reasonable license.

Councillor Riley said he did not see, if they charged $3 for a horse and carriage, why they should not charge twice as much for motor cars. The Mayor: I don't think it is a good policy to make it high.

Mr. McKenna thought the license should be $5 a year. Mr. McKenna suggested $15. The Mayor said that those persons who would get automobiles were all wealthy, and as they were anxious that they should be allowed to run them they would be willing to pay a tax to be allowed to do so, if only a fair and reasonable tax be asked of them.

It was stated that the motor cars were hard on the roads. The Mayor said that besides that consideration they would have to take into account the fact that there were some people who did not want the motors here, and that their running would interfere with ladies going out for drives. Still it would not do to make the license too high.

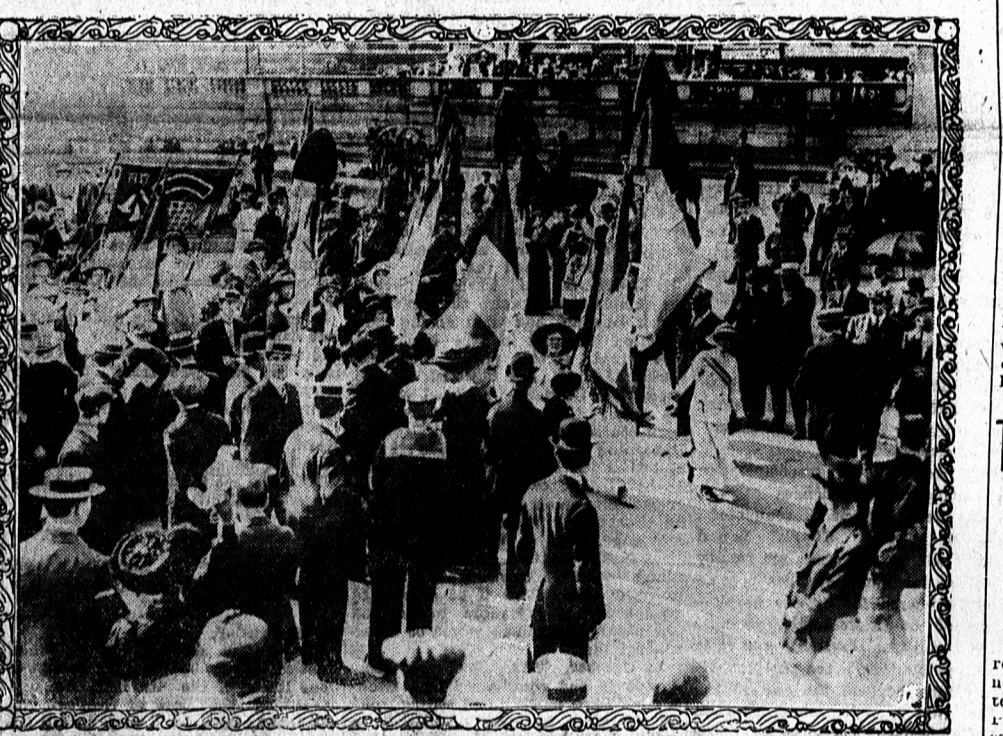

CHURCHILL DISCUSSES CANADA'S NAVAL BILL

Rejection of Bill "a Serious Event" Gap Must be Filled by Accelerating This Year's Shipbuilding Programme to Ensure Safety of the Empire

(Canadian Press) LONDON, July 17.—Right Hon. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, making a statement in the House of Commons this afternoon on the shipbuilding estimates, dealt at the outset with the question of the use of oil fuel in the navy. He said there were now built and building more than one hundred destroyers solely dependent upon oil for fuel.

Turning to the shipbuilding programme Mr. Churchill said that earlier in the season he dealt fully with the Anglo-German relations and had no reason to modify what he had said. He must refer to the question of overseas responsibility. Apart from the question of the safety of home waters he had no new facts to report.

Kingdom, would be three ships short of the admiralty requirement from the end of 1915 onward. As soon, therefore, as the news was received of the rejection of the bill, the government determined that immediate action was necessary. There were two courses open to us; we could have laid down three extra ships in place of the three Canadian ships; we could do so still but it is not at present clear that this step, which would mean the addition of eight and a half million pounds to the naval estimates is necessary, and certainly it ought not to be done unless it is necessary.

SUFFRAGETTE DEMONSTRATION AFTER RAID ON DOWNING STREET, LONDON

Mrs. Pankhurst who was sentenced to three months imprisonment for exciting the mob has been released from jail as the result of a hunger strike.

Beside carrying the usual banners with the "No Vote No Tax" mottoes the militants introduced an innovation and carried with them revolutionary caps on poles, which may be seen in the accompanying photograph. In the Downing Street riots, dock workers joined the women and rioted with them. It was only after a considerable display of force that the police were able to disperse the mob. Broken up in Downing Street, the speeches were made from the Nelson Column.

The letter was sent with in the report of Monday night's Council meeting. Councillor Riley thought the city had no right to make a written agreement until the city had received a similar agreement from the company. He said he had learned on good authority that the firm had no capital, and were anxious to get their stock subscribed here. They should state what they would do and how long they would run their business.

City Council would be doing its duty to the citizens of Charlottetown if it took backwater and allowed those people to dictate to them and say exactly what tax they should pay. They had been good enough to reduce the tax from $300 to $200. They were doing business the same as any other concern and it was only fair they should pay the tax. If the city allowed this firm too large a concession any other concern doing business in the city would have a right to ask for a reduction of tax also.

THE ROLLED OATS PROPOSITION The Council took up the petition of the small dealers in oil in respect to the withdrawal of the Imperial Oil Co's free delivery tank wagon, on read the letter he had received from Messrs. McLean and McKinnon, re-imposed by the Council. Councillor representatives here of the Colonial Oil Riley said he did not think the
