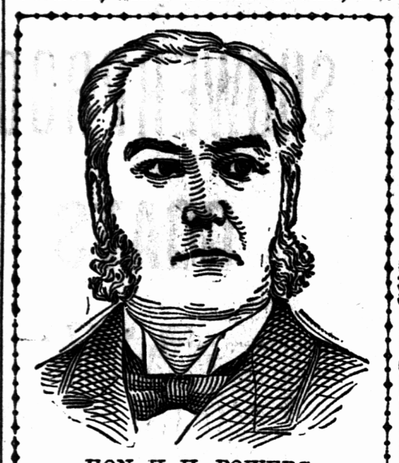
A FAMILY REMEDY.

Pe-ru-na in Use in Thousands of Homes.

Congressman H. Henry Powers, of Vermont, writes from Morrisville, Vt.:



HON. H. H. POWERS.

"Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."---H. Henry Powers.

John L. Burnett, Member of Congress, Seventh Alabama District, writes:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a good, substantial tonic, and a very good catarrh remedy."

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh,

Half the ills of life are due to catarrh and catarrhal derangements. Peruna is the only internal, systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

THE CAPITAL OF THE WEST

Latest from Summerside and Prince County.

Mrs. J. A. Gourlie leaves this morning for Montreal to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law the late William Patterson.

THE cargo by the Northumberland yesterday included 600 lambs, shipped by S. H. Jones, 400 cases eggs and about 100 barrels oysters.

Sheriff Wright who had been confined to his bed through illness for about two weeks is, his friends will be pleased to learn, steadily improving.

Cold weather underwear for men is now in order. Fleece lined underwear at 70c, 90c, $1,00, and $1.25 per suit. Heavy ribbed at 75c. 90c, $1.00 and $1.15, per suit. Stanfield's underwear, unshrinkable $2.00 to $2 50 per suit. Turnbull's fine wool $3.75 to $4.50 per suit. All sizes at Sinclair & Stewart's.

A TELEGRAM received by J. A. Gourlie yesterday morning brought the sad news of the death of William Patterson, Montreal, which occured on Tuesday at 5 p. m. Deceased was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Gourlie. He leaves besides a sorrowing widow two sons and two daughters to mourn. Mr. Patterson and family visited Summerside about a year ago and has many friends here who will sympathise deeply with the bereaved.

The Drinking Orchid.

A plant termed by English "Public Opinion" the most extraordinary ever discovered has been brought to light by the exertions of Mr. E. A. Suverkrop of Philadelphia, who during his trips to South America has been for some years contributing to the collection of his friend, Professor N. E. Brown, of the Herbarium, Kew Gardens, London. The wonderful plant which Mr. Suverkrop has now found is an orchid that takes a drink whenever it feels thirsty by letting down a tube into the water. When not in use the tube is coiled up on top of the plant.

One hot afternoon, says Mr. Suverkrop, I sat down under some brushwood at the side of a lagoon on the Rio de la Plata. Near at hand was a forest of dead trees which had been choked to death by orchids and climbing cacti. In front of me, stretching over the waters of the lagoon and about a foot above it, was a branch of one of these dead trees. Here and there clusters of common planta del aire grew on it, and a network of green cacti twined round it.

Among the orchids I noted one different from the rest, the leaves, sharp lance-head shaped, growing all round the root and radiating from it. From the center or axis of the plant hung a long, slender stem about one-eighth of an inch thick and one-fourth of an inch wide. The lower end of this was in the water to a depth of about four inches.

I went over at once to examine my discovery, and was surprised when I touched the plant to see the center stem gradually contract and convulsively roll itself up in a spiral like a roll of tape. I found on examination that the stem was a long, slender, flat tube, open at the outer end, and connected at the inner end to the roots by a series of hairlike tubes.

By subsequent observation I found that when the plant was in need of water this tube would gradually unwind till it dipped into the water. Then it would slowly coil round and wind up, carrying with it the quantity of water that the part of the tube which had been immersed contained. When the final coil was made, the water was poured, as it were, directly into the roots of the plant. The coil remained in this position until the plant required more water. But should the plant be touched while the tube is extended, the orchid acts like the sensitive plant, and the coiling is more rapid.

I found many of these plants, all directly over the water, or over the place where he water had been. In the latter case it was almost pitiful to see how the tube would work its way over the ground in search of water that was not there.

Nervous Prostration.

A Common Trouble at This Trying Season--An Example of How This Ailment is Cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The first indication of nervous exhaustion and prostration is a tendency to neglect your daily work and to lose interest in the affairs of every-day life. Nerve force is becoming exhausted, and it seems too much trouble to concentrate the mind and to set about the task before you. When you feel your energy and ambition waning it is time to take action to restore wasting vitality. The evidence of many of the most reliable people in Canada points to Dr Chase's Nerve Food as the most effective means of restoring exhausted nerves.

Mrs. Willis Taylor, Hensley Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I., states:—"I suffered from nervous prostration, could not sleep and frequently had attacks of nervous headache, in fact, my whole system was run down and my health was in anything but a satisfactory condition. Since having used three boxes of Chase's Nerve Food I can say that I never tried any medicine that did me so much good. It has built up my system, strengthened the nerves, and enable me to sleep and rest well. It is now a considerable time since I had a headache, and I can truthfully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a splendid preparation."
