Gridiron Notes

Strong Squad

Indications are that the Wanderers, last year's Maritime champions, have a very strong team this year. We figure thus: Mount Allison defeated Dalhousie 10-4, Wanderers defeated Mount Allison 16-4. The Mounties and Dal invariably put teams on the field which are among the leaders in the Maritimes; hence we conclude that the Halifax City team will be in line for premier honours.

Large Turnout

Yesterday saw a large turnout of the Red and Black clubs for practice. While little formation work was carried out, the boys went through a series of heady passing and tackling drills. Conditioning seems to be a great necessity in the squad, but there are a number of points on which the boys should polish up, as Monday's game with the Saints demonstrated.

Appointment

Glen Partridge's many friends will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed physical director of the Y. M. C. A. Glen, who is not only a first class director, is also a stellar rugbyist and a member of this year's Abegweit lineup.

Another good turnout is expected today at 5 o'clock, when a good hard practice is scheduled. It is hoped to run through a number of the more important formation plays, and incidentally remedy some of the points in which the team has proven itself to be weak. Harold Gross is expected to be out today with a few "tips." An Upper Canadian player of some repute, Gross knows a thing or two about the English game. Henceforth, it is planned to have somebody out "on the whistle" each day.

Revelations

Monday's game between the Abbies and Saints, although the opening, revealed the fact that the old tendencies of the teams are still alive. The University squad showed careful training and excellent team work, while the Abbies relied on the individual players, and on experience.

The forwards, as formerly showed inability to work with the back-field men. The possibility of passing the ball back to the halves seemed never to have entered the heads of the forwards. At the same time inaccurate passing by halves and quarters, fumbling, and slowing down to receive passes were painfully evident among the halves and quarters. A little praise, however—The Red and Black squad played a splendid defensive game, tackled vigorously, although perhaps not always in orthodox style, and watched the play carefully.

RIFLE MATCH

What promises to be a shoot of more than ordinary interest will be held tomorrow afternoon, October 15th, starting at 1.30 o'clock at the Charlottetown Rifle Range, when the crack team of the P. E. I. Highlanders will take the mound in defence of their laurels against the team from No. 2 Signal Company. Both teams have been looking for this chance to settle a long standing argument regarding their strength, and here it is.

Teams will be composed of six men each, and the match will be shot over the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges, seven shots at each with one sighter.

The Highlanders team will likely line up as follows: Capt. A. W. Allan, Sergt. Percy Hooper, Sergt. G. G. McLennan, Sergt. A. J. McCabe, Capt. James Coles and Sergt. Roy Coles, and this team looks like a good bet, all experienced and consistent shots, three of whom have made the Bisley team at different times.

The Signals team will be composed of: Major F. B. Conrad, Sig. J. S. McDonald, Sergt. A. Gormley, Capt. W. A. Smith, Sig. P. J. Landrigan and Q. M. S. J. S. Moore. This team, although not having the experience of their adversaries, nevertheless feels confident of snagging enough points to give them victory, each man has had a good year and has shattered the century at least once during the summer.

It is understood that the losers will be given the opportunity of playing hosts at a dinner later on.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

It is now less than a month till Remembrance Day. On that day at every point where a Branch of the Canadian Legion exists suitable memorial services will be held for those who fell in the service of their Country. At other points, especially where War Memorials have been erected, the Legion officials hope the Clergy and School Teachers will take steps to have a brief service with an appropriate address. Patronage of those selling poppies is also requested. The proceeds earned by the Legion on such sales are used for the relief of needy veterans or their dependents.

Where Legion Branches do not exist school teachers are urged to write Mr. George E. Sherron, Provincial Secretary of the Canadian Legion, Charlottetown, in regard to the number of Poppies they will require by October 25th. The price for small Poppies is ten cents each and for the large Poppies twenty five cents each.

INTERESTING ABOUT A CARNIVAL

Binns Defeats Nickerson By Knock Out In The Fourth Round.

The fight between Bennie Binns and Kid Nickerson was the drawing card at the Carnival at the Forum last evening. Although Binns won by a knockout in the fourth round, his victory was by no means an easy one, as his opponent had garnered up a store of points in earlier rounds.

Bill Gillespie, resourceful and ever on the alert keeps the carnival and exhibition going strong, and has things moving fast at all times. The 600 prize last evening was won by Mr. Frank Andrews, Pownall Street.

To-night the Labourer's Protective Union has charge of proceedings, a fact in itself to guarantee the success of the evening. The boxing bout of the evening has for participants Gus Longaphie, local light-weight and "Young" Mitchell of Montreal. The boys will box six three minute rounds. This fight promises to be a real humdinger with plenty of excitement.

SUBSTANTIAL

HUGE TOTALS

"Under favorable marketing conditions," said Mr. Bennett, "and with a price maintained continuously above the cost of production, Canada has potential possibilities for the production of 8,500,000 hogs by 1937, permitting of an export volume of 300,000,000 lbs. of bacon and 10,000,000 hogs by 1942, permitting of an export volume of 50,000,000 lbs. of bacon and hams. "The declaration in Article 6 and the undertaking that in any legislation submitted to the United Kingdom Parliament for regulating the supplies of bacon and ham from all sources into the United Kingdom, provision will be made for free entry of Canadian bacon and hams of good quality up to a maximum of 2,500,000 cwt. (280,000,000 lbs.) per annum, is of vital importance to the Canadian swine industry."

CUT RESTRICTIONS

Removal of restrictions on the importation of live cattle from Canada into the United Kingdom should result in increased trade, Mr. Bennett said. The restrictions have proved a severe handicap in the past as practically the only cattle admitted to the interior markets and farms from Canada were store cattle.

The effect will be to put Canadian cattle on the same footing as cattle from Ireland except for the special duties now levied on Irish cattle owing to the dispute with that country.

With the United States market now closed to Canadian cattle, the opening up of another outlet is of great importance, Mr. Bennett said.

MILK PREFERENCES

Preferences on concentrated milk will prove valuable, Mr. Bennett said. Canadian production last year was 63,037,221 pounds but the existing plants are capable of an annual production of 200,000,000 pounds and this figure could be attained within a period of five years. "The proposed treaty should result in a general increase in the price of creamery butter," said Mr. Bennett. "In which case Canadian agriculture will benefit not only from the increase in price but also from the increase in production which will result."

On cheese as on most other dairy products Canada will enjoy free entry into the British market for a period of three years certain.

DRIED APPLES FREE

Free entry is provided for dried apples as against 10s. 6d. per cwt. The former general tariff rate being 25 per cent ad valorem which is approximately equal at present prices to a specific duty of 7s. We should safely look to a considerable increase in our dried apple trade as a result of this preference. "The Canadian pear growing industry is capable of great expansion," Mr. Bennett. Particularly is this true of Nova Scotia, Ontario, and British Columbia. The protection which we have secured on this commodity—free entry as against a general tariff of 4s. 6d.—should provide the incentive to produce pears on a much greater scale in order to secure a greater part of the United Kingdom market.

Conserve YOUR ENERGY by wearing the proper weight of UNDERWEAR

Underwear that is too light compels your body to waste vital energy in keeping warm. This energy will be conserved for your daily work if you wear the correct type of Penmans Health Underwear. It is made in so many weights and materials that you can select just the type you need, according to your age, occupation and constitution.

Penmans HEALTH UNDERWEAR

Penmans 95—Unequaled for warmth and comfort in outdoor protection, yet not too heavy for house or office. Penmans 71—Popularly priced, natural merino. A line outstanding in value.

"There has been a very considerable increase in the export of canned tomatoes to Great Britain since March 1, 1932. Our information is that many of the packers are aiming to take advantage of the 10 per cent British preference.

The market for canned tomatoes in Great Britain will not only provide an outlet for a larger part of our annual pack but will help to stabilize the Canadian market. British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec are in a position to take the fullest advantage of this preference.

POTATOES

Mr. Bennett said he was satisfied the preference of 10 per cent with free entry on potatoes assured by the agreement would be of some consequence to Canada, particularly in years when British production was low and Canadian production high.

Article 3 of the treaty deals with the eggs in the shell and ensures Canada free entry for three years against the following rate of duty on foreign eggs:

- (I) Not exceeding in weight 14 pounds per great hundred, 1s. per great hundred.
- (II) Over 14 pounds per great hundred but not exceeding 17 pounds, 1s. 6d. per great hundred.
- (III) Over 17 pounds per great hundred 1s. 9d. per great hundred.

BIG IMPORTER

The United Kingdom is a big importer of eggs importing in 1930—26,541,280 long cwt., Canada in the fiscal year 1930-31 exported to the United Kingdom, 26,260 dozen eggs, out of a total export of 186,396 dozen. Canada's maximum production (this is farm production not including urban) was in 1931—286,824,447 dozen, valued at $49,206,844. With a favorable price incentive, Canada can double her production in five years, and treble or quadruple it in ten years.

DECIDED BENEFIT

"The Import Duties Act," said Mr. Bennett, "up to date has been of decided benefit to the Canadian honey industry. The 10 per cent preference granted to Canada enabled the largest exporters of Canadian honey to clear, at reasonable prices, large stocks of honey held over from previous years, which otherwise should have been sacrificed. With a duty of 7s. per cwt. imposed on foreign honey, much of the low-priced honey formerly dumped on the United Kingdom markets, at prices far below the cost of production of Canadian honey, will be eliminated, thus making room for the expansion of our trade.

"Canada's production of barley could be tremendously increased through the breaking of new land and the substitution of barley for other grains on presently cultivated land. It is essential that Canada widen her market for this product. The 10 per cent preference which is secured to us will assist in improving Canada's competitive position in the United Kingdom market.

OAT PRODUCTION

"The potential production of oats in Canada is limited only by demand. Under the prevailing preference, the continuance of which is secured by the treaty, the export of oats from Canada to the United Kingdom has increased substantially during the five months' period ending August 10, 1932, as compared with the same period in 1931. 1931—3,082,430 bushels; 1932—3,957,915 bushels.

U. S. AFFECTED

It is estimated that at least $100,000,000 worth of United States exports to Canada will be seriously affected. This is especially true in steel and iron, glass, chemicals, electrical equipment, vegetable oils, mercerized cotton, leather and

REDUCES PRICES

Lower duties on British products, or corresponding increases in intermediate and general tariffs, should reduce the price to the Maritime consumer on the following items, to name only a few: dairy machinery, fishing gear, mining machinery, cutlery, spraying material, electric generators, fertilizer, chemicals, alcoholic compounds, textiles, soap, hospital equipment and glass.

Canadian apples will have high protection in the British market, as will canned fruit and vegetables, fresh, frozen and canned fish, dairy products, shell-fish, live cattle, gypsum, and lumber.

LUMBER INCREASES

Already, the Prime Minister declared today, lumber exports to Great Britain have increased under the preferential tariff and this preference is not only to continue but is to be augmented by certain restriction on imports of lumber from some other countries.

Added to the advantages which the Maritimes stand to gain as heavy exporters of natural and agricultural products, there is the reasonable assurance that shipping through eastern Atlantic ports will increase in almost exact ratio to the increase in trade between Canada and the Empire countries.

PINKY GARDNER RETAINS TITLE

(Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, Oct. 13 — Carroll "Pinky" Gardner, sheriff of Albany County, New York, and world's lightweight wrestling champion repulsed the title aspirations of Carl Van Wurden, Canadian champion, in straight falls here tonight.

Gardner's development of a successful counter to Van Wurden's celebrated aeroplane whirl brought him victory. Both falls, the first in 32 minutes flat, the second in 4.05, came just after Van Wurden had put his man aloft. On both occasions the wrestling sheriff toppled the Ottawa over and pinned him with a body slam. Nearly 3,000 fans were treated to some rough house grappling.
