LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION AT MORELL

The Conservative convention for the Second District of King's was held yesterday at Morell. The convention which opened at 10 o'clock, was presided over by Mr. Andrew Lewis and Mr. George Leslie was appointed Secretary. The attendance was large and representative, 65 of the 80 delegates being present and all the polls being represented. The first speaker was Mr. A. E. Simpson, the present representative in the Assembly. Briefly reviewing the political history of the past four years and complimenting the Government and the province for the satisfactory progress made during that time, he called on the electors for the confidence reposed in him during the years in which he represented them. He regretted that the condition of his health was such that it would be impossible for him to accept nomination if tendered to him and he therefore requested that his name should not be considered in the nominations about to be made.

Mr. Aeneas A. McDonald, the present representative in the Council, and Mr. James McIsaac next addressed the meeting each expressing his willingness to contest the district as a councillor if honoured with the nomination. Hon. John McLean, M. L. A., gave an excellent address, reviewing the record of the party during its term of office. Nominations for an Assembly man were next in order and a ballot was taken. The only name presented was that of Mr. H. D. McEwen and he was accordingly declared the unanimous choice of the convention. Nominations for a Councillor were then called for. Two names appeared on the ballots, those of Messrs. Aeneas A. McDonald, the present member, and James McIsaac, of Charlottetown. Mr. McDonald was declared the choice of the convention. Mr. McIsaac expressed his satisfaction with the result of the ballot and on his motion the nomination of Mr. McDonald was made unanimous. After a vote of thanks to the retiring member, Mr. Simpson, and expressions of regret that the condition of his health was such as to make his candidature inadvisable, the convention adjourned.

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT CRAPAUD

A great public meeting was held in the square, Crapaud, on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Prince Edward Island Patriotic Society. Rev. T. F. Fullerton, D. D., presided on the platform in front of Mr. D. McLean's store, and when the proceedings commenced over five hundred people were present. The Band of the Fourth Regiment, under Bandmaster Galbraith rendered an excellent programme of music while the people were assembling, and during the evening a splendid concert was given, contributed to by Captain Shaw, Lieut. Robins, Lieut. Ritchie and Mr. A. B. Cosh, Professor Watkins presided at the piano.
The chairman having explained the object of the meeting, Rev. W. Deane gave the first address. He was proud he said, to be permitted to stand shoulder to shoulder with those who were offering their services for the maintenance of the integrity of the British Empire. It was a great stake in the present crisis was the future of the British Empire. Was she to maintain her place in the future as in the past as the guardian of the freedom of the world and the precursor of the smaller nations? In order to champion these great ideals and to maintain the principles of freedom, righteousness and justice, the present great war had been forced upon us. Wherever there were liberty and freedom there must always be sacrifice. It had been so in the past, it was so in the present and would be in the future. Freedom and liberty demanded sacrifice, when sacrifice was not made their heritage of freedom and liberty departed from them. In the early history of the Christian era men had to give their lives for the liberty of worship, and the history of every country proved that the enjoyment of freedom was dependent on great sacrifices on the part of the citizen. The British Empire to be true to her past must make heroic sacrifices in the present, crisis. The Mother Country was nobly fulfilling her destiny in this respect. She had given five to Canada's one in volunteers for the front. Canada had done well in nobly responding to the call for men to further the Empire's cause, but there was still greater need for young men to offer themselves in defence of freedom and liberty and all that they held dear. It was not for him to tell them what their duty was. Each one knew his responsibility and all he would ask them was to consider their individual positions and answer for themselves: "Shall I go, or shall I stay at home?" (Applause.)
Rev. G. M. Young said there were four classes of men worthy of honour at the present time. The man who risked his life in the cause of liberty and freedom, the man who feeds the soldiers and sees that they are maintained in comfort as far as practicable; the maker of ammunition and munitions of war; and the man who was ready and willing to hold up the highest ideals of humanity and civilization which had been so ruthlessly assaulted in these days. These four classes of men were necessary to the Empire at the present time. Until now Canada as a whole had been engaged somewhat listlessly in this war, but she was awakening to the grave reality which rested upon her. The British Empire had been forced into this war against her will and it was their sacred duty to defend civilization, freedom and liberty with all their hearts and minds, with all their strength and with all their resources of men and money. (Applause.)
After a vote of thanks to the retiring member, Mr. Simpson, and expressions of regret that the condition of his health was such as to make his candidature inadvisable, the convention adjourned.

There were not the slightest evidence of drinking or unseemly conduct. As a day's outing the affair was exceedingly pleasant one, while from the financial standpoint it was no doubt eminently satisfactory.

They have given me a staff job in England for as long as the war lasts. Was promoted to Sergeant last fall. Got the promotion on account of my mechanical ability. I am now in the Canadian base in England where fresh Canadian soldiers are trained before they are sent to the front, am very busy now. They say I can do more good here on the training base than anywhere. As for my health I am as well as ever, never had a day's sickness (not even a cold) since I left Canada. Had a weeks' holiday after I left the hospital, met a friend of mine who had just arrived from the trenches, we had our pictures taken together. Will send you one next week.
I had two weeks' vacation last Xmas, went to Scotland, visited the Isle of Skye, and saw the homes of our forefathers. I had a free passage, am going again when I get another chance.
I wrote Chester last winter and did not get an answer. Tell Spurgeon to write me. I am awful anxious to hear from home.
Remember me to all the neighbors. Tell Malcolm McKenzie that I have lots of stories to tell him when I go home, and hoping to hear from you soon I remain your loving son.

P. S.—I have just received a letter from one of the men in my section. He is now in the hospital as he was wounded last Sunday night. He got his hand hit with an explosive bullet.

ISLANDER PROMOTED

Following is a letter which Mr. Norman McLean has received from his son Staff Sergeant John A. McLean, who left Edmonton, Alta., last summer and went to the front with the First Canadian Contingent.
Shorncliffe, England,
June 22nd, 1915
Dear father:—Near doubt you will be surprised to hear from me in England. I left Canada last September with the First Canadian Contingent and would have written to you before now only I knew how you and mother would worry, but there is no need for you to feel any anxious about me now as I am now free from all danger.
Well father we have had quite an experience since we came over here. I have been through it all, and have

How to Gain Weight A Pound A Day

This men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.
Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and expensive. Leading druggists in Charlottetown and vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

There were not the slightest evidence of drinking or unseemly conduct. As a day's outing the affair was exceedingly pleasant one, while from the financial standpoint it was no doubt eminently satisfactory.

They have given me a staff job in England for as long as the war lasts. Was promoted to Sergeant last fall. Got the promotion on account of my mechanical ability. THE CAR FERRY FEAT AT CARLETON POINT

The Car Ferry Tea held at Carleton Point Wednesday was successful beyond even the most sanguine anticipations of its promoters. The attendance was as large as the well organized management could attend to, both the weather and the order were all that could be desired and the day throughout was most pleasantly enjoyed by everybody present. Special trains from Tignish, Souris and Charlottetown arrived on schedule time, each loaded to the platforms with visitors. Along both routes crowds of people were left at all the stations nearest the tea grounds and both trains were sent back, one to Summerside and the other to Freetown to bring in those who had been left behind. Besides those coming by special train hundreds drove in from the neighboring sections. The arrangements for accommodating the visitors were complete in every way and resulted in one of the most enjoyable and best conducted tea gatherings ever held in the Province. The absence of the usual dancing booth was a feature of the gathering and the time usually spent in this pastime was devoted to sightseeing, viewing the car ferry works, motor boating and pleasantly wandering around the beautiful shore, which is one of the great attractions of Carleton Point.
