NO SALMON STREAM—Not a stream in Prince Edward Island was suitable for salmon angling, Mr. James Catt, Saint John's N. B. supervisor of fish culture for the Maritime Provinces said here last week. "Island rivers are too small and the run of fish is too late, taking place after the angling season," he said. Mr. Catt visited Mr. J. J. Larabee, Charlottetown, Supervisor of P. E. I. Fisheries on business.

POLICE COURT—At police court Saturday a drunk was fined three dollars and costs or five days. Four persons were fined for non-payment of dog tax. Frederick Phillips was sentenced to six months in jail for stealing a carving knife from a restaurant. A charge of keeping a common gaming house was dismissed. William Gregory pleaded guilty of the unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor. The Crown asked for a penalty of $200. The case was adjourned until Wednesday for sentence.

THE HIGHLAND FLING and Sword Dance by Miss Josephine Lightner, the skirl of the pipes by Piper Lawson and Scotch songs by the Male Chorus will commence at Bobby Burns tonight at Prince of Wales College Hall. Piper Lawson will also usher in the ladies' jury in the screaming farce "Order in the Court." Don't miss it. L-140

ON HONOR ROLL—The following names were omitted from the honor roll of Rochford Square School for the month of January: Grade V, 1. Annie Laurie McDonald; 2. Mary McPhee; 3. Nora Flaherty. Grade II, 1. Mildred Walker; 2. Flora Gillies, Joan Lund, equal; 3. Helen Rush. The names were inadvertently omitted from the copy supplied the press.

SUDDEN ILLNESS—Mr. Leo Poirier, understood to be a student at St. Dunstan's University was taken ill suddenly on the corner of Upper Queen and Chestnut Streets Saturday night. He was carried into a nearby store and an ambulance summoned. Last night he was said to be recovering satisfactorily at the Charlottetown Hospital. His condition was not serious it was understood.

HORSE, CAR COLLIDE—A horse owned and driven by Ned Darrach, West River, was in collision with a car driven by Lebaron Tait, Charlottetown Saturday evening. The horse was not seriously injured, police said. Drivers of both horse drawn and motor vehicles escaped injury. The accident occurred at the corner of Pownall and Water Streets about 7:15 p. m.

Committee From Relief Ranks Makes Request

A committee representing relief recipients in Charlottetown and headed by Mr. Lem Rush, chairman of the relief committee of the Laborers Protective Union met His Worship Mayor E. A. Foster and of the relief committee of the City Council Saturday afternoon. A request for an increase in the amount of direct relief issued by the city was made. Mayor Foster said the demands were not unreasonable, he considered, but did not wish to reveal what they were exactly until the matter was placed before the whole council. He had told the committee, His Worship said, that he did not believe the City could issue more relief unless the Provincial Government increased the amount it contributed for that purpose. Consequently it was expected the committee headed by Mr. Rush with Arthur Gormley and John White as other members would wait on the Premier probably today. Authority to appoint the committee was given Mr. Rush at a meeting of relief recipients in the Charlottetown Sporting Club Thursday night. Speakers expressed dissatisfaction with the quantity of direct relief issued by the city and declared there was not enough of one thing. The City Council would probably be called to consider the question tonight, it was understood. However the meeting might only be a caucus session. Use Minard's for Dandruff.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN THOMAS HISCOTT. In the passing of Captain Thomas Hiscott at the great age of 92 years a link with the early days of Stanley Bridge has been severed. Captain Hiscott came from Newfoundland nearly sixty years ago with his wife and settled at Stanley Bridge and became one of the outstanding men in the community. Captain Hiscott was a typical Newfoundlander and had followed the sea all his life. He was attracted to the North Shore of the Island on account of the excellent fishing grounds. In those days Stanley Bridge was a flourishing center with several stores and there were large vessels plying between Newfoundland and the Islands round about with produce. God fishing was the chief industry at that time. Captain Hiscott who has been retired now for some years was very fond of telling of the earlier days at Stanley Bridge. About three years ago he went on a lecture tour of the Island, speaking of his early life as a fisherman on the shores of Newfoundland and also of his coming to the Island and his life here. He was always a welcome visitor in our community and his talks were received with much applause. Captain Hiscott was a man of real worth and looked up to in the community and in spite of his great age will be much missed by a large circle of friends. He leaves to mourn his wife, also from Newfoundland, and the following sons and daughters: James of Stanley Bridge; Thomas at Rustico; Albert of Stanley Bridge; Thurolo of Charlottetown; Annie Mrs. Haycock of Springfield and Olive, Major Hiscott, an outstanding officer in the Salvation Army at Halifax, N. S. who came home during her father's illness and who is returning this week to Halifax. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon with a short service in the United Church at Stanley Bridge. Rev. Mr. Tilley conducted the service. The pall bearers were Messrs. A. E. Fyfe, Thomas Bolger, Sampson Bell, John Quinn, William Gunn and Edward Grahams. Interment was in the Cemetery at Cavendish.—S

THE BAPTIST CHURCH Eastern Guardian

In recognition of "Canadian Education Week" the Rev. Harvey L. Denton B. D. took as the subject of his morning sermon, "The Marks of an Educated Man." In Moffatt's translation of the second epistle of St. Paul to Timothy, we find the chapter 2:15, "Do your utmost to get God that you are at least a sound workman, with no need to be ashamed of the way you handle the word of Truth." Teachers and preachers alike are interested in the preservation of moral and spiritual ideals in education. Both are alive to the menace of the worship of false material values. There are certain marks that should be evident in an educated man. He should possess a store of knowledge and experience, properly classified, evaluated, utilized, not a patchwork of unrelated information. Wise is the youth who learns from the records of the past to escape the pitfalls and mistakes that threaten his way. Wise is he who uses his knowledge. Happy may he be in its growth. The mind alert for truth is a mark of the educated man. Some one has spoken of the child as "a question mark on the war path." May we in our quest of the tangible in knowledge, seek also the great intangibles of God and destiny. Beware of the closed mind and the cramped faith. A sense of value is a mark of the educated man. Let us be able to distinguish and evaluate the temporary and the eternal. "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" May we find our riches in quality of mind and soul rather than in money alone. An educated man is marked by a sense of responsibility, a respect for personality. A truly educated man will conserve his uses of mind and body and heart to the service of his fellow man. The morning anthem was Benjamin Franklin's "The Way to Wealth."
