Dominion Day

"We are a people marching down the ages Over golden seas beyond the mountain crest; Our children's children, hands and ages

It is an evil thing for a self-governing people to have in their midst a vast number of voters who pay no part of the expenses of maintaining the schools, building the highways and supporting the Government.

There was a time when a pain under the breast bone was called stomachache and if the pain persisted and death followed it was said to be due to acute indigestion.

Housewives who complain that their work prevents them from getting exercise are in error. All the exercise they need is to be had in their household duties instead of being prevented by them.

Mr. Chamberlain's Great Courage

The magnificent stand which Prime Minister Chamberlain is making against the agitation of politicians none of whom has a reputation for real stamina, stability and political character, is earning praise from the United British Press with few exceptions.

Mr. J. L. Garvin in The Observer reminds the nation that "the peculiar peril to democracies is impotence," that throughout the troubled days since the last war Britain has "impressed the world by her steady power in emergency," and it would be an evil day for mankind if she ceased to possess that trait now.

Readers will enjoy, too, the story of the ancient, second-class Canadian cruiser "Rainbow," under-manned and inadequately armed, being sent out from Esquimaux to search for two modern German warships, its commander told to "Remember Nelson!" Fortunately for our naval prestige, the encounter failed to come off.

Editorial Notes

Elizabeth Barrett Browning died this date, 1861.

Tomorrow Dominion Day, 1867, and a statutory holiday.

Tomorrow Lieutenant-Governor Col. George D. DeBlois will present Camp Buchanan to the Boy Scouts Association and formally open the Boy Scouts Jamboree and Rover Moot.

May export of meats totalled $3,821,830 compared with $2,752,291 in the previous month and $4,154,046 in May last year.

A modern highway linking Great Britain, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Turkey, Syria, Iraq, Iran Afghanistan and India will soon be an accomplished fact.

All the candidates listed for the Conservative Leadership by the Canadian Press are comparatively wealthy men except Hon. Dr. Manion.

Summer begins today for the most important members of the community with the closing of schools for vacation.

"No more pencils, no more books, no more teachers' dirty looks." These pleasantries were but formal.

"Let us be thankful that we have a Prime Minister who is prepared to take his political life in his hands for the sake of a larger ideal; and above all let us not be guilty of bitter injustice in hurling the reproach of cowardice against a man who is brave enough to do that."

These arguments are fair samples for many more, and will undoubtedly have their effect. Whether they will wholly stem the rising tide of discontent which David Lloyd George and Winston Churchill are doing their best to encourage is another matter.

"Now It Can Be Told"

In yesterday's Guardian appeared an excellent summary by Captain Murray, M.C., Canadian Press staff writer, of the contents of the first two volumes of the long awaited official history of the Canadian Forces in the Great War.

Dominating the early chapters is the personality of Sir Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia. To the War Office Sir Sam, as Captain Murray suggests, may have been an unmitigated nuisance.

Here is a scheme for getting rid of the ragweed and bringing relief to sufferers from hay fever: Set the children after it. For a small prize reward to whoever first catches it.
