GRAIN

(Canadian Press)

CHICAGO, March 2—A tendency to adopt a waiting attitude pending new legislative developments at Washington characterized the markets much of the time, today in the end, prices showed slight gains.

Indications pointing to mill buying of wheat futures both here and at Minneapolis had a steadying influence. Liverpool reported active selling of wheat futures there, with most of the selling believed to be for Argentine account.

Wheat closed firm, at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅝ higher, corn ¼ to ⅝ up, oats unchanged to ¼ advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

WINNIPEG, March 4—Moderate buying by exporters and millers gave wheat prices a boost of ⅛ to ¼ cent on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Saturday.

The close was firm with May wheat quoted at 69½ and July at 70⅞ cents. Operations were very mixed. Selling entered the market at the top of every advance but on the whole was not heavy.

Exporters did not place a figure on foreign sales of Canadian wheat but indicated fairly good buying of future but had been uncovered in the pit.

There was also some good buying from both Canadian and United States mills. Sentiment continued friendly to the market.

Liverpool wheat offered further encouragement by advancing a net of ¼ to ⅝d. Chicago price lagged behind Winnipeg most of the day and finished unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

Cash grains spreads were generally unchanged. Coarse grains operations were routine in character and the price trend followed what.

MONTREAL, March 4—Mild weather toppled fresh egg prices down two cents a dozen on the Montreal produce and dairy market Saturday. Closing quotations were five to six cents below the winter peaks established in the early portion of the week.

Graded shipments in carlots or less were quoted at 39 to 40 cents a dozen for A large, 37 to 38 cents for A medium and 36 to 37 cents for A pullets. Small lots to retailers were also lower. Receipts for the week were 7,663 cases, as compared with 6,889 the previous week.

Butter held steady with the announcement of light stocks exerting a firming influence as it counteracted the arrival of milder weather. No 1 in cartons or less sold at 29½ to 30 cents a pound. The week's receipts were 7,963 against 4,344 in the previous week.

Lighter arrivals sent potatoes up during the week. Quebec potatoes in 80 pound bags were quoted at $1.10 to $1.25 and New Brunswick green mountains in 90 pound bags were $1.15 to $1.25. Prince Edward Island green mountains were $1.30 to $1.35 per 90 pound bags.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

At the morning service the Rector, Rev. H. D. Raymond, taking as his subject "What It means to be a Protestant," mentioned three texts: Gal. 5: 1, "Stand fast, therefore, in the liberty with which Christ has set us free," I Peter 3, 15: "Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you for a reason for the hope that is in you;" and I Cor. 13: 1, "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not love, it profiteth me nothing."

Speaking first on what a Protestant ought not to be, he said that he should not be a protestor in the ordinary sense of the word, a kicker or a knocker, unduly critical of other people's beliefs, or uncharitable or discourteous in his relations with other people. As a professer of the holy religion of Jesus Christ, he should be patient, dignified, kindly, long suffering, informed about his religion to the extent of his capacity, zealous of the things of the Kingdom, and witnessing by his manner of life and his conversation to the sincerity of his faith. There is no such thing as being a Protestant only in name. A person with no religion has no right to call himself a Protestant, as it is not a badge pinned on by a process of elimination. Being a Protestant begins with a perfect faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, but it has its definite characteristics and definite history. It did no begin as a product of the Middle Ages, but goes back to the days of the Acts of the Apostles, where the sermons of Peter, Paul and Stephen are such as might have been delivered in a Protestant church—as they often are.

The Rector explained how the name was first applied as an epithet of derision to those who, in Germany in 1529, protested against the action of the Diet of Spires in depriving the German princess of the right of regulating religion within their own territory—resembling somewhat what is happening in present-day Germany. As with the word "Christian," similarly first used in derision, the name "Protestant' was adopted by those to whom it was applied. Although Protestantism had it foundation in a protest against certain abuses, it is not a negation but stands for very definite things: justification by faith, direct access to God, the authority and sufficiency of sacred scripture, guidance of the Holy Spirit in daily life, and the Holy Catholic Church universal which is "the blessed company of all faithful people." Its fruits are piety, soberness, patience, gentleness, love and service, and to these things we are called in our Protestant faith.

The talk to the boys and girls was on the subject of what we owe to our parents and the way in which it can be paid.

The morning service was followed by a celebration of the Holy Communion.

At the evening service, the Rector took as his text John 4; 6-7, but took into consideration the entire story of the Samaritan woman at the well who was asked by our Lord for water. The first lesson is the invitation to all to drink from the water of life. The second is the mistake the woman made in attempting to localize God and her mistaken ideas about reverence and worship. She confused theology with religion. In this connection she made a further error with regard to the immutability of custom. The Rector brought out the fact that nothing has served to divide people more than these ideas, and that if we could only forget the past and realize that the Holy Spirit guides to new action sometimes we could perhaps get over our divisions.

The first and second lessons at the evening service were respectively, Genesis 42, and Mark 14, 53-end.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH

At the Church of The Most Holy Redeemer yesterday morning, Masses were at the usual hours. At the 7.30 Mass, the Married Women of the Holy Family received Holy Communion in a body. The Mass at 9 o'clock was the Children's Mass. At 10.30 High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Enright. Rev. Father Connelly preached at all the Masses.

Sunday School was held in the afternoon for all the children at the usual hour.

At the evening service were held the regular monthly devotions in honour of "Our Mother of Perpetual Help," consisting of congregational singing, and prayers in honor of the Blessed Virgin.

The Lenten sermon, the first of the second series, was preached by Father Enright on the nature of prayer. Father Enright defined prayer and pointed out that it is the greatest, most beautiful and consoling act a human being can perform.

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given and was followed by Veneration of the picture of "Our Mother of Perpetual Help."

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The keynote for the worship of the day was given by the singing of "Holy, Holy, Holy, early in the morning our song shall rise to thee" followed by that grand old hymn, a favorite of former times

The God of Abraham praise,
Who reigns enthroned above,
Ancient of everlasting days,
And God of love;
Jehovah Great I am
By earth and heaven confest
I bow and bless the sacred name,
Forever blest."

Of this hymn the poet Montgomery says "There is not in our language a lyric of more majestic style, elevated thought or more glorious imagery". The hymn was written by Thomas Oliver who was born in Wales in 1725. In early manhood he joined the Wesleyan Society under the preaching of Whitfield and afterwards became a Methodist preacher.

Rev. C. N. Brown delivered the sermon from I Cor. 1-23 "We preach Christ crucified unto the Jews a stumbling block". People today agree on the principle of sacrifice but like the rich, young ruler they refrain from paying the price. The Cross is our stumbling block but there is no other way. We cannot compromise on the Cross.

The choir sang at the offertory, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus." The soloist for the morning was Miss Berna Huestis. In the evening the anthem was "Jerusalem my glorious Home," and in addition Miss Margaret Sterns sang "The Day is Ended."

In the evening Rev. Dr. Ramsay was the preacher and spoke from the text John 20, 19 "When the doors were shut Jesus came and stood in the midst". It was an appeal not to close the doors of our hearts against the incoming Saviour "Behold I stand at the door and knock."

The flowers yesterday were presented in loving memory of the late Mr. Ben Acorn and also of Mr. Edmund Waller.

Many friends here will be interested in knowing that Rev. Dr. Ryan a former pastor of our church ends his active ministry in June next on retiring from Trinity United Church, Windsor, N.S.

Ever since union was declared efforts have been made to consummate union between two church in Elythe, Ontario, but all efforts failed recently however, another vote was taken on the subject which was unanimous for uniting in one church and carried by a substantial majority in the second church and the arrangement arrived at now seems to be agreeable to all. Another small church organigation of 10,000 members in Western Canada has decided to unite with the United Church of Canada. This is cheering news and gives hope for the future.

SACRED SONG SERVICE

The students and young people held their inter-church song service in St. James Presbyterian Kirk at half past eight last evening.

Rev. Dr. Vincent was the speaker and gave a very inspiring address. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Wanda Dennis and a special duet was presented by Miss Freda Colwill and Mr. John Matthews with organ accompaniment by Mr. J. O. C. Campbell.

Mr. Ralph MacLean presided and Adjutant Stevens of the Salvation Army led in the singing of some new hymns. The Sacred Song Service Committee are endeavoring to bring into use a few new hymns in order to add to the variety of the meetings and it is hoped that all those interested in this movement will lend their assistance. A large number of young people made up the choir last evening and, although unfamiliar with the new tunes, did admirably well in leading the singing.

The service closed with the Benediction, pronounced by Rev. Dr. Legate.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the morning service yesterday the Rev. A. C. Vincent, D. D. spoke on "The Constraint of the Cross" taking as his text the words of St. Paul in 2 Cor., 5; 14-15. "For the love of Christ constraineth us—and that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them and rose again."

The challenge of Christ, in his early ministry shook men out of complacency. And his searching messages need once more to come to men in this age when we are so anxious to make Christianity easy and soft. The cross is central in Christianity and in Christian living its challenge must measure our devotion, our service, our consecration. This is an age which betrays a trivial interest in trivial things, the love of Christ, the constraint of the cross call us to a wider, worthier, life more abundant. Let us challenge our daily lives, our ambitions, our life purposes by the standard of the cross of Jesus.

Mr. V. L. Dingwell sang very feelingly Sir Arthur Sillivan's setting of "The Lost Chord."

The subject of Dr. Vincent's evening sermon was "The great tribulation," an eloquent address delivered to a large congregation. In this service and sermon Dr. Vincent continued the evangelistic appeal of the services of the past week.

Sullivan's "Saviour, Thy children keep" was the anthem of the evening, and in addition a tuneful and tender gospel hymn was sung by the choir, with Mrs. A. C. Vincent taking the soprano solo.

It was intimated that Rev. F. H. Orchard of Amherst, who had been detained by illness, would assist Dr. Vincent commencing Tuesday evening.
