A CORONER'S inquest was held at 8 o'clock last night on the body of the infant found yesterday morning. Dr. Conroy (coroner) empanelled the following jury: Jas. Waddell, (foreman), John Harris, W. J. O' Riley, John McMillan, A. Hennessey, James Hennessey, Mathew McCourt. Dr. Kelly testified that the body was in an advanced state of decomposition. He found no marks of violence by which he could account for the child's death. He thought that the child was born alive and that it only lived a short time. The infant was unusually large and would weigh about 12 pounds. By the appearance of the ground and the paper, which was wrapped around the body, the indications were that the body was recently placed where it was found. As to the cause of death he was unable to say. Henry Williams, Policeman Harper and others gave testimony but no light was thrown on the mystery as to who is the mother of the child. The enquiry was adjourned until to-night.

The following letter was received by Miss Jennie Cook, North River, from her brother, who is in the Horse Artillery, now serving in South Africa.

O. BATTERY, ROYAL HORSE ARTILLERY, KROONSTADT, O. F. S., MAY 14TH.

DEAR JENNY—I would have written to you before, but I was waiting until we made another move and saw what we were going to do. Well, about a month ago we went to the east of Bloemfontein, about thirty miles, and operated against about eight or ten thousand Boers for about a fortnight. We then went to Bloemfontein again, and after staying there for a few days we marched to Pretoria where we arrived on Sunday, the 12th having marched 140 miles in six days. The Boers surrendered this place without very heavy resistance and all cleared off towards the north. We are now about 100 miles from Pretoria and expect to start for there to-morrow. We will be there in 10 or 12 days, providing we do not meet too many Boers on the way. They say the Boers have lost heart and don't want to fight any more, as they can see it is useless. I think it is time, for most of them have had enough fighting to last for some time to come. Now I must say good bye as word has just come that the post would go out in an hour so I am scribbling this on the back of an old tin that I may catch the mail.

Your Brother, W. D. Cook.

The above Mr. Wellington Cook formerly belonged to P. E. I. and joined the Royal Horse Artillery some 9 years ago, and since that time has been in a number of battles.

EASTERN NOTES.—The cheese factories in this section are doing well, and the abundance of milk proves the vast development of this industry in a few years, and is an index to what may be expected in the future. The pessimist would be changed into an optimist, and the false prophet would be confounded, did he see the two team loads of milk that veteran son of enterprise William Young hauls into the Red Point Factory from the east in the mornings. —The large school of codfish is still off the south side, but the distance out prevents the dories used here from venturing out in stormy or threatening weather hence the catch is not as large as it would otherwise be. There is, no doubt, a considerable body of mackerel in the gulf, and if the use of seines was prohibited at once and favored by the United States and Dominion Governments, as should have been long ago, we would again have a return of the good old honest hook and line fishing, where the poor man had the same chance as the rich, and the waters round here which the last few years presented a scene of loneliness and desolation would resume the activity, the enterprise and the healthy and legitimate rivalry which characterized them years ago, and brought wealth and prosperity to our doors.—Rev. E. A. McPhee has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church here which he held for nearly four years. Logical and orthodox in the pulpit, agreeable in the social circle he will be missed in the community.—A party of the youth and beauty of Kingsboro and Red Point was held in the spacious and hospitable home of T. F. Robertson on the evening of the 26th, on the eve of the departure of D. F. Campbell from the district where he taught the school for the past two years. Needless to say the host and hostess made everything agreeable for the guests, who conducted themselves well, and enjoyed themselves accordingly.—Daniel Bruce of Valleyfield, and his sister Mrs. Ching has been visiting friends in this section.—John A. Matheson, Inspector of Fisheries visited the east in his official capacity this week. He was accompanied by his fellow-legislator, Thomas Kickham of Souris, and while the one is enjoying himself in well-earned and well-merited official repose, the other is still bravely breasting the political and troubled waters which ever encircle and sometimes engulf the adventurous politician. Governor McIntyre also made a visit to this section, calling on some of the friends of stern political warfare in days gone by, who were glad to see him hale and hearty, and well capable of discharging the duties of his responsible office.—Mr. W. Coffin is slowly recovering from his serious illness, and Colin Campbell of Sackville is also down with pneumonia.—A young man named Campbell the eldest son of a widowed mother was drowned at Campbell's Cove on the 28th inst. by the upsetting of a small boat loaded with lobster traps.
