PREB. HUTCHINSON'S CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

BLURTON, Sept. 14—Prebendary Hutchinson, the venerable vicar of Blurton, near Longton, today (Wednesday) completed his ninety-ninth, and entered upon his hundredth year. The happy event is one upon which the rev. gentleman is being overwhelmed with hearty congratulations and sincere wishes that he may be further spared to continue his ministrations in the parish and district where he is held in the warmest affection. A "Sentinel" representative, who called at Blurton vicarage this (Wednesday) morning, was informed that the Prebendary is in excellent health considering his age, and our readers will also be pleased to hear that the rev. gentleman is, in several respects, better than was the case on his 98th birthday, previous to which he had a serious illness. Preb. Hutchinson, is the oldest clergyman in the Diocese of Lichfield, and is also believed to be the oldest incumbent in the United Kingdom. His first curacy was at Dunchurch, near Rugby which at that time, was associated with the living of Eccleshall, Staffordshire, the diocese then being that of Ichfield and Coventry. The rev. gentleman was for some time at Rotherhithe, London, where he received public recognition for his devoted and courageous services at the time of the virulent cholera epidemic. He has been Vicar of Blurton for upwards of 40 years. For some time the rev. gentleman has, owing to his advancing years, entrusted the parochial duties to his son, the Rev. S. W. Hutchinson, who for many years has been his father's indefatigable curate. A little over a year ago Preb. Hutchinson expressed his intention of ceasing from taking an active part in the conduct of the church services, at which, up to then, he had always officiated when his health permitted; but the rev. gentleman has apparently found it possible to effect a break which would not only be painful to himself but would be deeply deplored by the congregation, and every Sunday this year he has preached at morning service. Naturally the prebendary looks forward with much pleasure to continuing his office on the first Sunday in his hundredth year. The rev. gentleman says he had no special recipe for old age. He has lived the quiet life of a country clergyman. Last season he consented to kick off at a local football match, but he would be able to do so, and when the prebendary reached the ground he found the game was in progress. The only circumstances to mar the pleasure of today's felicitous occasion was that Mrs. Hutchinson's death occurred last December, and this was the first birthday anniversary since their marriage 58 years ago on which the esteemed prebendary has not had his wife to share in the joys of the event.

HIGHER PRICES FOR PINE AND SPRUCE

OTTAWA, September 14.—An upward tendency in the prices of high grade pine lumber market in the last fortnight. One-inch white strips are exceedingly rare. A buyer who had been over most of the Ottawa Valley for a big quantity of export found all but one manufacturer sold out. The high grades are all extremely buoyant, and whenever a run occurs on a particular brand of pine lumber the price stiffens in a few days. If the present activity continues the manufacturers assert that the autumn will witness a dearth of good lumber in the Ottawa Valley. The brisk market for the upper grades of pine has affected box lumber and shipping culls and advances in prices are looked for. The Ottawa Valley mills are benefiting for the first time this season from considerable orders from Chicago and the Canadian West. This trade is likely to expand rapidly, as the Ottawa manufacturers have the sort of stock needed.

HISTORIC FIND AT BAIE VERTE

SACKVILLE, Sept. 14—Last week some boys were digging a hole on the bank of Baie Verte Creek struck the days of the French occupation over a century ago. The find consisted of eight axes, more than a bucketful of leaden bullets and a large number of gun flints. The nature of these articles would seem to suggest that the place where they were discovered was the site of a military storeroom. The axes were of very primitive make—simply an eight or nine inch narrow blade with parallel sides and an aperture close to one end for the reception of a handle, there being nothing like the pole or butt of a modern axe. Colonel Bedford Harper, who brought a couple of these axes over to Sackville, has had one of them named up and ground to an edge. He reports the steel as of excellent quality and will probably use the axe for cutting kindling, etc. The antiquity of the implements lending an historic charm and dignity to such homely household chores.

WEAVERS ON STRIKE AT FALL RIVER, MASS.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 14.—The 1000 weavers employed at the Fall River cotton mills, which are controlled by M. C. D. Borden, of New York did not report for work today in accordance with their announcement of striking for an increase in wages. Although but one fifth of the employees of the six mills were affected there was a probability that unless the strikers and the mill owners reached an agreement during the day, all the departments would be closed down, throwing 5,000 operatives out of work. To prevent possible disorder a large squad of police was posted around the mills, but the weavers made no attempt to intercept the other employees who are going to work. The striking weavers ask for a ten percent increase in wages and adjustment of several other minor grievances.

ASKS DIVORCE FROM HER TENTH HUSBAND

BOONSVILLE, Ind. Sept. 14—Polly Weed Baker Shippert filed a suit for divorce from her tenth husband, Simon Shippert, to whom she was married March 29 at Evansville. They separated on July 3. The plaintiff alleges her last love was gone astray and nullified her marriage vows no longer. She says she is compelled to do the garden work, which, she alleges, is cruel and inhuman for a woman of seventy. She says the defendant would sit around in rocking chairs and expectorated tobacco on her carpets and rugs. This is by no means to be Polly's last venture, according to information she has given to friends. Asked if she would marry again, she said she did not know what she would do. She concluded, however, with the remark that she loved married life. Mrs. Shippert is perhaps the most married woman in America. She has had nine husbands besides Mr. Shippert. She lost two by death and seven by divorces. Her attorney, A. J. Rutledge, has obtained most of these divorces. She was in the late fifties Miss Polly A. Weed married Henry Fuquay. FORTUNE LEFT BY HARRIMAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—What is the exact fortune of Mr. Harriman? Since the death of the famous financier this question has been asked very often no doubt, but it is certainly impossible to answer it correctly. It is even a difficult matter to make an approximate estimate at its great total. Wall Street banks which have been associated with Harriman have given such estimates, but the nearest they get is to say his fortune is between $200,000,000 and $500,000,000. Other estimates, however, place his fortune at only fifty to one hundred million dollars. The greater part is composed of various stocks and bonds, not to speak of his immense grounds at Arden, estimated at about $4,000,000. The railroads which were controlled by the late financier are the following:—

Great suffering exists, especially among the poor people, the majority of whom have lost everything they had. From the country district the news comes slowly, indicating that the devastation was great. It was without warning that the storm burst accompanied by torrents of rain which deluged the streets and nearby hills from which the floods came down. The boats along the shore and anchored in the Bay were torn from their moorings and most of them battered to pieces.

SURPRISE SPRANG IN SHEA MURDER CASE

MONTREAL, Sept. 14—The Crown sprang a surprise on the defence today in the trial of John Dillon for the murder of Constable Shea. For the first time it came out that Dillon's lawyer at the time was in the house the evening the shooting took place. In fact Hugh Semple swore that he was with Dillon when the police arrived and that he was in the other room when the accused fired and said he had shot again. My God what have you done said the witness and Dillon asked him to go in another room but he ran out of the house by the back way instead. The case looks very dark for the accused but a conviction don't mean capital punishment as there are many people who believe that Dillon is not responsible for his acts and that he was insane at the time of the murder.
