SQUINT CLINIC PERSONALITY AID

REGINA—Watching the change in a child's personality after she has helped remove the squint from its eyes, is the most gratifying part of the work of Frances Farmer, young Mileston, Sask., orthoptic technician.

Pretty, blue-haired Miss Farmer, on furlough from her post at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary at Boston, said in an interview here that most of the patients at the "remove the squint" clinic were between the ages of one and 15.

Most cross-eyed children had defective vision in one eye and a large percentage were far-sighted.

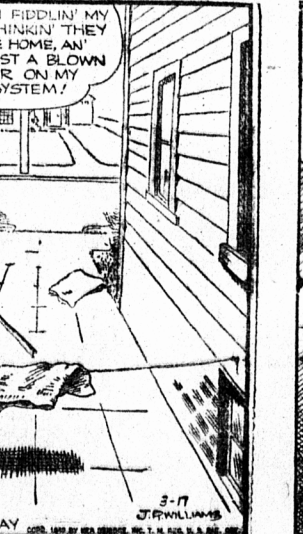

Most cases require surgery as well as orthoptic-correction of ocular vision-treatment, she said.

 Futile Sacrifice

A non-vulnerable pair can afford to pay almost any sacrifice to stop the opponents from making a vulnerable grand slam, but there is this little point to be considered: Be very sure that they can really make their bid before you leap! In other words, don't always take the opponents' word for it, as expressed by their bidding, that they have no possible loser. South, in today's deal, would have saved 1500 points by embracing this philosophy.

West dealer.
 East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:
 West North East South
 1 ♠ Pass 3♥ 3♠
 7♥ Pass Pass 7♠
 Double Pass Pass Pass

West's leap to seven hearts was not as rash a bid as it may appear. The fact was that East should have at least one more winner than he did have for his double raise; in other words, if East's bid had been sound, West would have been on solid ground at the grand slam.

As it was, however, South's desperate sacrifice effort was needless because, as so often is the case, North turned up with the one card, the club queen, which would have defeated the seven-card bid, although this same card was entirely worthless to South at his astronomical contract. There would have been no earthly way by which West could have avoided the loss of a club trick, and thus North-South would have collected 100 points. (Naturally, neither North nor South could have risked a double.)

At seven spades, South could not win a single trick outside of the spade suit, and thus went down eight for a penalty of 1500 points less his 100 honors.

NEW LONDON W.M.S.

The Women's Missionary Society New London United Church met at the home of Mrs. Stirling MacKay, Thursday afternoon Feb. 6th, with fourteen members and one visitor present. The World Day of Prayer Service was used and was led by Mrs. Ray MacLeod with the members all taking part. The secretary, Mrs. Harold Mayhew called the roll, each member answering with a verse on prayer, and read the minutes of the January meeting.

A very interesting and thorough report of the Presbyterian and the Lord's Prayer in union and the president, Mrs. Brown, for which a vote of thanks was tendered them. A letter from their former pastor, Dr. E. J. O. Fraser, telling of his work in Korea was read and much appreciated by the members. The collection taken amounted to $11.85.

The meeting closed with silent prayer for Dr. Fraser and the Lord's Prayer in union after which a delicious lunch and social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. R. Cotton invited the members to her home for the March meeting, which was held Thursday afternoon, the sixth. Mrs. Harold Dunning had charge of the devotional period, using Christian Stewardship as the theme. Mrs. Ray MacLeod feelingly referred to the passing of (Rev. Mrs. George Miller, and a moment of silence was observed by the members in her memory and the hymn "For Those We Love Within the Veil" was read.

The President presided during the remainder of the meeting and the roll call was answered by fourteen members with a verse on stewardship. The Society greatly appreciate, at this meeting, a gift of twenty-five dollars for Life Membership from Mrs. Lemuel Orr of French River in memory of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David MacGregor, with the wish that this money might be used by Dr. Fraser in his work in Korea. Every gift to the work strengthens the hand of the missionaries and extends the Kingdom of God.

The Easter Thankoffering envelopes were distributed to be passed in at the April meeting. The collection amounted to $36.85. The Lord's Prayer in union and Benediction closed the meeting. The hostess then served an enjoyable supper and a social hour was spent.

APPLES WITH PORK
 Applesauce just naturally goes with pork, but often the girl who has bought a pork-chop for dinner has neither the time, the utensils, nor the space, to make the necessary sauce. Then she should peel and slice an apple right into the frying-pan alongside the sizzling chop. The apples should be left in the pan just long enough to brown but should still retain some of their crispness.
