Visit To Potato House In O'Leary

(By Our Roving Reporter)

During the past two weeks I have been too busy to do any visiting, however, today I was back in O'Leary after receiving a letter from Mr. C. S. Stewart down in Michigan, U.S.A., who wanted to know a few things about O'Leary. After getting his questions answered I went over to see the much talked about potato graders which are in operation in one of the big potato houses there. Potatoes are really on the move these days as farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather and are hauling their potatoes in trucks, trailers and wagons.

Inside the big potato house are thousands of bushels of graded potatoes ready for shipment and also two large electric operated graders grading potatoes that are being hauled in as they come from the field.

One grader which is about 20 feet long is filling 15 lb. paper bags and is really interesting to watch. This grader fills 3,000 bags in a normal day's operation, which I understand is a car load.

The crew are a jolly lot and are always talking potatoes. In one election which is coming off in this Province on Dec. 11. They tell a few stories now and again to cause a laugh. This one was told about two local boys some years ago were driving out on the O'Leary road. The boys, like a good many we see lately, had a bit too much "joy juice" and in Unionvale the driver lost control of the car. The car jumped a ditch, coming to a halt on the verandah of a house. The resident arose from the supper table and opening the door he asked: "are you coming in boys?"

To the front of the potato house is a larger grader filling 100 lb. bags. This big grader keeps 8 men busy grading potatoes. It has never been timed as to how many bags it can fill in a day I was told by Gabe Arsenault that if there is a good run of potatoes he is kept busy changing the bags. Today the potatoes were not graded in the grader so fast and I timed a 100 lb. bag being filled in half a minute.

Potatoes are not being shipped out very fast due to the serious shortage of railway cars and it is hoped that this situation will be overcome at an early date as potatoes, which are the main income to the Island farmer, are too valuable to be lost on this account, such being the case last year.

Take off the cover. Never force cover off the pan if it seems to stick or is hard to turn. Double check, make sure there is no pressure inside the pan.

Don't pour cold water into a dry, overheated cooker. Sudden chilling may harm the metal.

Do not turn the heat down as soon as cooking pressure is reached. Begin to count the time at this point.

Don't store your cooker with the cover locked on. Keep the cover off, or leave space, put the cover on upside down.

Do keep the edge of the pan and the gasket clean and free from food and grease, so that the seal is tight.

Don't fail to keep your pressure saucapan clean. After each use, wash pan in hot soapy water and rinse thoroughly. Follow the manufacturer's directions in caring for the cover.

Caution: Watch out when you are cooking foods like applesauce or lima beans, which have a tendency to "froth" or sputter. These foods can cause trouble by clogging the vent pipe unless extreme care is taken. This is another good reason for always making sure the vent pipe is thoroughly clean. Goodhousekeeping.

Scout News and Notices

When 263 Boy Scout Leaders attended some 13 Gilwell Training Courses in Canada this summer, it marked the best Scouter training season since 1931 when 260 leaders participated. Every Province in the Dominion sent Cub and Scout leaders to Gilwell in 1947.

Jackson Dodds, C. B. E. Montreal, Dominion Commissioner of Canada's Boy Scouts, reports a healthy growth within the Movement and increased participation by members of citizens' sponsoring groups. Mr. Dodds bases his remarks on observations made during 13,000 miles of travel in the past three months in the interests of the Boy Scouts of Canada.

Christmas Carol singing as a community good turn will be undertaken again this year by Canadian Boy Scout groups. The carol singing was a marked success when introduced last year. Wolf Cubs, the younger members of the Scout Movement, as well as Boy Scouts take part.

Eight courses for the training of Boy Scout leaders are now under way in various centres in Canada as the winter season begins. Several other courses are scheduled for subsequent winter months and the season promises to be an outstanding one from the leadership viewpoint.

Canada's Northwest Territories will have more Wolf Packs and Scout Troops as a result of a recent visit by a Scout Commissioner cooperating with mission school teachers R. C. M. P. personnel and government officials it is hoped to take Scouting into several communities where the boys are anxious to get into the Movement. At Akavik and a few other northerly points, Scout groups have been operating for some years.

Gleanings Of A Rural District New Glasgow

Mr. Louis Roper Livestock promoter was in this district on Tuesday on official business.

Miss Ruth Dickleson has been welcomed home from Charlottetown where she has been spending some time.

Doris Andrew, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Andrew is out of school for a few days owing to an attack of tonsillitis.

Master Ian McCoubrey was a recent patient in the P. E. Island Hospital where he had a tonsil operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Pierce were visitors at the Bitches on Sunday last, they were accompanied by Mrs. Proffitt, mother of Mrs. Pierce.

Mr. Amos Gallant, popular merchant, has been buying a large quantity of chicken and with the new device in ridding them of feathers, he is able to handle a hundred in two hours, all ready for market.—N.

Speaking of an election, perhaps some of the would-be members would pass over the road, leaving from New Glasgow to Cavendish and ask themselves the question, What do those taxpayers in that vicinity get for their money? The answer is bumps.

The farmers sure got a scare over the price of mill feeds this past week, now that there is an election in the offing, maybe Mr. Jones will see some way to reduce the high cost in producing, and thus give the farmers a little encouragement.

Mr. Leth Orr the efficient egg grader and salesman, in the employ of Mr. R. L. Dickleson, has spent the past week assisting his father Mr. Miller Orr in the farm work. Leth sure knows how to turn the sods over.

Mrs. Garnet Proffitt is convalescing at the home of her daughter Mrs. George McCoubrey and Mr. McCoubrey, her friends will be pleased to know she is making good recovery after a recent illness, when she was a patient in the P. E. Island Hospital for a few days.

The Mayfield Women's Institute held the regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Butler on Oct. 2nd. The president in the chair, opened the meeting by all joining in singing the Ode and repeating the creed in unison. Roll Call was answered by five members and one visitor. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Correspondence was received. The question of the sewing club was brought up, and left over for further discussion at next meeting. Committees appointed were as follows. Sick, Mrs. Thomas Butler and Mrs. David Johnstone; School, Mrs. Warfield Orr and Miss Marguerite Houston; Lunch, Mrs. Willard Nicholson. Fruit is to be sent to a member that was in the Hospital. Mrs. Johnstone set as a committee

GETTING RUN-DOWN

When a person is physically or mentally fatigued, the system is wide open for infection. Nothing lowers resistance to disease more than Fatigue.

Fatigue may result from lack of sleep, over-exertion, excess or any kind including too much sports, and from long hours of work, or of study. The doctors warn, "Don't tire yourself down to the point at which the germs can get at you."

WATCH SCRATCHES

Those minor scratches and cuts which are so common, particularly when healthy young children are about, won't matter too much if they are given prompt and skillful attention. The family doctor will be glad to advise what first-aid kit and home remedies should be kept on hand for treatment of scrapes and burns and pricks. Early care and close liaison with the doctor are essential to safety in the home.

REPORT RARE BIRD

ALGARY.—(CP)—Two Alberta men—Bloss Rutter of Calgary and Buster Hain, a farmer of the Vermilion district, east of Edmonton—report seeing one of the West's rarest birds—the Whooping Crane. Rutter reported seeing the bird in a slough about three miles east of Cochrans, while Hain said he saw the bird on a small lake on his farm.

DO'S AND DON'TS FOR PRESSURE SAUCEPANS

It's important to avoid mistakes in using your pressure saucapan. Here are some things to remember.

Do follow all directions for your cooker faithfully, and use the time schedules accurately. Don't even begin to cook in your new pressure saucapan until you are thoroughly familiar with opening and closing the cover.

Don't overload your cooker. Foods should never come up to more than two thirds of the depth of the pan. If any food rests against the cover, it may block the vent pipe or safety-release valve.

Do check the steam vent before putting the cover on the pan. Make sure it is clean and free from food particles. Most pressure-saucapan manufacturers offer a cleaning wire that can be used to clean this tube.

Don't ever place the cover and the gasket on a hot range top or near an open flame. Excessive heat may ruin the gasket.

Do be sure all steam is out of the pan before removing the cover. Always remove the pressure weight or control after pressure has been reduced before even attempting to open the cover.

Which was enjoyed by all. Collection amounted to 50 cents. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Warfield Orr assisted by the hostess. Meeting was brought to a close by singing Home Sweet Home.
