Health Run Down Housework A Burden

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and miserable, but it is a wonder that when they are run down in health they become nervous and irritable, weak and worn-out, and the lightest household duties seem a drag and a burden?

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are a remedy that all nervous, tired-out, weary women should take to help them back to the blessing of good health, and when this is done their household duties will be a pleasure instead of a burden.

Mrs. A. K. McLEAN, Pleasantfield, N.S., writes:—"A short time ago I was in a badly run down and nervous condition. I got so that my housework became a burden to me. I started taking Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills, and now I feel like a different person, and again am able to do all my own housework.

Hereafter I shall always recommend H. & N. Pills to my friends."

In Memoriam
MR. ANDREW JAMES TIERNY

It was with deep regret and a sense of loss that his many friends learned of the death of Mr. James Tierney, of New Haven. He was ill but a few months, yet, while he suffered greatly, he was never heard to murmur and on July 25, 1937, surrounded by his devoted family, he quietly breathed his last. During his illness, he was frequently visited by his kind pastor, Rev. Leo Herrin, who administered the Sacraments, and he was fortified by these consolations of the Holy Catholic Church, of which he was a devout member. He was tenderly cared for by his daughter, Miss Mary, R. N. of Boston, who nursed her father in his last illness, and he was gratified by the presence of all his children, except two, who were unavoidably absent.

The funeral of the late Mr. Tierney, which was held on Wednesday, July 28th, was one of the largest ever seen in New Haven, being attended by relatives and friends from far and near. In St. Ann's Church, Tyrore, a High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. George Bradley, S. J. assisted by a full choir. The body was sorrowfully laid to rest in the adjoining Cemetery, the pall-bearers being five sons of the deceased, namely, Augustine, Martin, Joseph, Theodore, and Maurice, and a brother-in-law, Mr. Michael Clarkin.

The late Mr. Tierney, who had reached the advanced age of seventy-seven years, was a man who took an active interest in his church and community. He was upright and honest in all his dealings and was respected and esteemed by all. He will be greatly missed and sadly mourned. He is survived by his widow, (nee Mary Ann Clarkin); six sons, Augustine and Theodore at home, Martin and Joseph, Somerville, Mass.; Andrew, Chicago, Ill.; and Maurice, Chicago, Ill.; and five daughters, Mrs. A. Blackall and Mrs. Daniel Sheehan, Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. D. N. McPhee and Miss Mary, R. N., Boston, Mass.; and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Chicago, Ill. One sister, Mrs. Michael Clarkin, Charlottetown also survives. Two sons, Edward and Anthony predeceased him several years ago.

Many Mass Cards and Letters of sympathy were received by the family.

How Best To Finish Poultry For Market

In crate or pen fattening poultry for market the greatest gains in weight are made on the thinner, under-developed birds that ordinarily grade "C" for fleshing and fat if sold straight off the range. Such birds should make steady gains up to three weeks feeding. If the birds are in good shape and reasonably fat when placed in the crates a shorter finishing period may be used.

The average increase in weight in normal crate feeding should more than pay for the feed. The increased returns from improvement in grade is additional profit. Some ground grains, such as corn and wheat, are better than others but any grain the farmer may have are suitable. Small and unmarketable potatoes, cooked and mashed, are economical and add palatability to any ration. They also help to produce white fat.

Milk in any form is desirable; why may be used if milk is not available. The addition of mutton tallow or any animal fat to the ration will increase the proportion of fat on the finished carcass.

In experiments at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the addition of 5 per cent ground oyster shells increased both feed consumption and gain by 10 per cent. Crate feeding of capons was also found to be definitely superior to pen fattening.
