HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ontario.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born and kept on getting worse until I could not do my own housework and was so bad with my nerves that I was afraid to stay alone at any time."

able Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course, I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."

WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Manse, Summerside by the Rev. A. K. Hermans on Nov. 6th. Mrs. Alice Maud McInnis of this city was united in marriage to Mr. John A. MacDonald of Iris, P. E. I.

While climbing a fence on Monday afternoon, Jackie Ledwell, the fourteen year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Ledwell, received in his right forearm the full charge from both barrels of a shot-gun he was carrying by the muzzle and the trigger of which caught in the fence and was accidentally released.

Yesterday he was reported as resting easily. If complications do not set in, the hand will be saved. The accident occurred near Tea Hill, while the victim and some companions were enjoying a day's shooting. Mr. Geo. McKinnon of that place who was with the boys at the time promptly applied first aid and then, assisted by one of the older boys carried the injured boy to his car, rushed him to the city and placed him in the Charlottetown Hospital.

In observance of Armistice Day the members of the Great War Veterans' Association paraded yesterday to a temporary cenotaph erected before the South African monument, where the following program was carried out in the presence of a large concourse of people.

Addresses: Rev. (Capt) G. C. Taylor. Prayer—Rev. G. C. Taylor. The Last Post. Two Minutes Silence. Hymn—O God Our Help in Ages Past. God Save the King.

Captain Taylor in his address said that the first Armistice Day had been for the living; yesterday millions of people dedicated it to the memory of those who had fallen in the cause of liberty. He made eloquent reference to the brave deeds wrought by the Canadian soldiers and spoke of the responsibility of the people for the welfare of, and the debt they bore to the dependents of those who had lost their lives in the struggle. The memory of these men must be perpetuated and the great ideals for which they fought instilled in the minds of those who are to come.

Poppy wreaths were deposited on the Cenotaph by the Lieutenant Governor on behalf of the Province. Hon. J. H. Myers on behalf of the Government of Prince Edward Island. His Worship Mayor McKenna on behalf of the city.

There were other wreaths from the following:—G. W. V. A., 26th Battalion, the 2nd Heavies, 2nd Siege Battery, 8th Canadian Overseas Battery, the 11th Ammunition Column, The Navy League, the R. C. N. V. Reserve, Sons of England, League of the Cross, Knights of Columbus, Daughters of the Empire, Rotary Club, Wildy Lodge, I. O. O. F., Alpha Rebekah Lodge, Pythian Sisters, G. W. V. A. Ladies' Auxiliary.

There were also wreaths from the parents of Private Gordon Livingstone, killed in action August 15, 1917. Mrs. Penelope MacIntyre, in memory of her son Private W. MacIntyre, of the 5th Western Cavaliers, and his cousin Private Harry Gillis of the 72nd Highlanders.

The musical program was rendered by the school children under the direction of Prof. Fletcher and accompanied by the League of the Cross Band.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Prince Edward Artillery placed a poppy wreath on the Memorial Tablet in the Provincial Building.

Last night in the Y. M. C. A. Mr. W. D. Brayley, M. L. A. of Winnipeg delivered an interesting address on the vital topics of religion, education, and democracy. Mr. Brayley stated that his object in coming East was to get acquainted with the spiritual and intellectual status of this part of Canada and also to reflect the thoughts of at least some of the people of the West.

One of the biggest problems in Canada today was the attraction of the right kind of immigration. She was endeavoring to keep her frontiers from being swamped by inferior immigrants and to encourage settlers of the thinking class and of the people. With the southern part of this continent placarded as wholly dry, and the northern section of Canada, as only partly dry, there was not a great danger of attracting the wrong type of immigrants—those who were making liquor smuggling into the States a business.

With the breaking up of the old dredge Prince Edward, which has for the last two years been lying submerged in the Marine dock one of the old landmarks of pre-Confederation days will be completely obliterated.

There are very few ports in this Province but had the needed improvements to navigation performed by this dredge at one time or another.

It was built by the Provincial Government in 1872 at Summerside, the builder being Mr. John McKinnon. At the time of Confederation she was being submerged by scows that were part of her equipment were taken over by the Dominion Government.

She was first in charge of Capt. Williams, with Mr. J. C. Payne as engineer. Capt. Henry Mutch succeeded the former and remained in command till a change of Government in 1878, when he was replaced by Capt. Andrew Doyle, who held the position until his death in the fall of 1895. Mr. John N. McDonald had been cranesman with Capt. Doyle and his successor and was removed the following year and Capt. William Larkins placed in charge. In 1911, after another government change, Capt. Orr of Kensington was given the command. Capt. Orr resigned and Capt. M. D. Martin received the position to hold it until the dredge ceased active work.

While the "Prince Edward" has had seven captains she has only had three engineers. Mr. J. C. Payne resigned and Captain M. D. Martin took charge of her engines. In 1906 Mr. McCarron was transferred to the new dredge Montague and Engineer E. C. Batt succeeded him remaining in the position till the department ceased operating in 1912. Two of the officers are still hale and hearty, viz. Mr. McCarron and Mr. Batt. Two of the Captains Messrs McDonald and McCarron, are also living.

As the dredge in its present position has been found an obstruction to shipping, it is now being removed by Mr. Poland, the Marine Department's diver and wreck remover with the use of dynamite. Though built in 1872 the timbers of this old vessel are still in a worment state of preservation. The hull and upper works are so strongly built that they can only be pulled apart with the help of strong explosives.

This dredge is the one that was bought from the Department of the Hon. W. A. Mackay, ex-Lieutenant Governor, to be used in digging mussel-mud for farm-fertilizer. Owing to serious difficulties this scheme was ultimately abandoned.

Why Rheumatism Often Comes Back

The Usual Treatment Does Not Reach the Root of the Trouble

BUSINESS BURNED.—What might have been a very serious fire occurred at Vernon River, Wednesday evening when a fire was accidentally started which resulted in the total loss to Mr. Harold McLeod of his general store which he erected early this spring. In some manner the fumes from the gasoline became ignited and before very many minutes had elapsed, three casks of gasoline and three casks exploded, the flames leaping up in a most appalling manner. The store was quickly gutted and but for the favorable direction of the wind and the untiring efforts of neighbors and friends, who fought to confine the flames to the one building, the disaster would have been a great deal worse. It is understood Mr. McLeod has some insurance to partly compensate him for his loss.
