Central Guardian IN MEMORIAM
THOMAS McMAHON

It is our sad duty to announce the sudden death of Thomas McMahon which occurred at his home in Fairfield on January 22nd, 1925.

The deceased was apparently enjoying usual good health until the morning of his death, and although all was done that loving hands could do to stay his presence among us his soul took its flight to its Maker after being fortified by the rites of the Catholic Church of which he was a zealous member.

There is left to mourn their great loss his widow, three sons and one daughter; also one brother and four sisters to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy. He was a devoted and loving father, a kind neighbour and was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and he will be missed by many.

His funeral which was largely attended wended its way on Sunday, January 25th to St. Columba's Cemetery where interment took place, the services at the grave being conducted by his pastor Rev. R. J. McDonald.

The pall bearers were: Stephen McLaughlin, Charles McEachern, Howard Campbell, Pius Campbell, Daniel Murphy and John Aeneas McDonald.—R. I. P.

MISS EMILY BRUCE

Seldom has any rural community in our province been called upon to mourn the death of so many of its valued citizens in so short a period of time, as was Heathfield during the late fall and early winter of the past year. Some of these were as ripe sheaves gathered for the Master's garner, and though much missed both in their homes and in the community they gladly laid aside their weapons as they heard the summons home.

One however was an exception—The bright and beautiful Emily Bruce, the daughter of the late John J. Bruce, who, just budding forth into young womanhood was cut down, as the blooming flower, with a life of usefulness and promise still before her.

We do not question the wisdom of All-wise Providence in taking to Himself the jewels for his crown from among the youth as well as from those of riper age. Nevertheless the grief seems harder to bear when the sickle removes such a life of promise as that of our Emily Bruce.

This young girl had graduated over a year ago from Gale Hospital at Haverhill, Mass. Shortly after her graduation she passed through a very severe attack of sickness from which she never wholly recovered. Thinking that the balmy air of her native province would hasten her recovery she arrived home in April last. All her friends thought that their expectations were being realized until late in the fall when she was again stricken down and confined to her bed. All that medical skill, kind friends and a mother's love and attention could do for her failed to accomplish her recovery. On the twenty second of December last her soul took its flight to be forever with the Lord.

The funeral service conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. A. MacLellan was attended by a large concourse of people who paid their last tribute of respect to the departed, showing the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn, besides the grief-stricken widowed mother, the following sisters and brothers: (Annie) Mrs. Yeo, of Haverhill, Mass.; Daniel in Edmonton, Alta.; John, (late of the S. S. Arranmore) at home; (Margaret) Mrs. D. McKenzie of Lindale and Florence in Boston.

MISS LOUISE GALLANT

Death has again saddened a happy home on February 9th, when Miss Louise Gallant passed away after an illness of three weeks borne with Christian patience and fortitude.

Louise, as she was familiarly called, was well liked by all who knew her, for her kindness of heart and gentle ways. She will be missed, especially in the home of her brother, Peter C., of St. Louis, with whom she resided. She was well advanced in years, being 72 years old, still she was able, through her love of devotion and sacrifice to help in nursing her sister, the late Mrs. Norbert Poirier during the latter's last illness. She there contracted a severe cold and the shock of her sister's death was too much for her, so despite medical care and tender nursing she passed peacefully away after having received the last rites of the Catholic Church, of which she was ever an exemplary member.

Of a family of ten brothers and sisters, only three are left to mourn a dear sister, namely, Peter C., of St. Louis; Laurent and Mrs. Placide Mallet of Tignish.

Her funeral was held on the morning of February 11th and was largely attended. Requiem High Mass was celebrated in the Immaculate Conception Church, Palmer Road, by her pastor, Rev. P. C. Gauthier.

The pall bearers were, Joseph Gaudet, John P. Gaudet, Peter Buote, Simon Mallet, John Bernard and Peter Mallet.—Requiescat in Pace. (Summerside papers please copy.)

MR. JOSEPH W. BOLTON

The following death is copied from the Somerville Herald Somerville, Mass. Mr. Bolton resided there, has spent many summers with his family in Lorne Valley at the home of his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Annie MacDonald, daughter of the late Alexander and Mrs. MacDonald of Lorne Valley. His wide circle of friends will remember the many pleasant hours spent with him there, and also those who had visited him at his home in Somerville, Mass. The Guardian joins in extending sympathy to the family in their hour of sorrow.

Joseph Warren Bolton, for forty years a resident of this city, died Saturday at his home, 17 Hudson street. Mr. Bolton had been failing in health for many years, but the end came suddenly at 2 p.m.

He was born on October 23, 1852, in Orrington, Maine, being one of a family of eight children. He was a brother of Rev. Horace W. Bolton, who was pastor of Trinity church, Charlottetown, for many years, and held pastorate in Boston, Chicago, Ill., and Wilmington, Del. Another brother, Isaiah, was a successful surgeon in Newburyport and various cities in the west, including San Diego, California. His brother Samuel gave his life fighting for his country during the Civil War. His two other brothers, Charles J. and Daniel Austin, were for many years engaged in business in Boston Market. One of his sisters died in infancy, while the other passed on in middle life. Only his brother, Daniel A. Bolton of Medford Hillside survives him.

In his early life Mr. Bolton followed the sea and about 30 years ago, he founded the Bolton & Hicks Company, Merchants Row, Boston, and upon his retirement in 1913, was considered to be an authority for Boston Market on poultry and game. He was a man of sterling character and a lover of his home and family. For several years, he was an active member of the Somerville Board of Trade, Sons of the Club, I. O. O. F.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Bolton whom he married in this city 31 years ago, and who has been his inspiration and comfort during his decline, he is survived by three sons and one daughter. There are no grandchildren. Warren E. Bolton, secretary and director of the Willis H. Lowe Company, manufacturing perfumers, Boston; Earl E. Bolton, bristle buyer and manager of the Chungking, China branch of the Prophylactic Brush Company; Dr. William H. Bolton, general manager of the Prophylactic Brush Company, China Bristle department, with the largest bristle dressing factory in the world, employing several hundred Chinese; Ella Caron, chief accountant for the corporation at Shanghai, China. The late Mr. Bolton was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, and his remains were interred in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Funeral services were held at his WAR MEMORIALS—In order to perpetuate the memory of the men and women who gave their lives in defence of the Empire in the Great War, the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire has inaugurated a War Memorial which should be of great educational value to the youth of Canada. It includes Bursaries in Canadian Universities, Overseas Post-Graduate Scholarships, and the placing of Historical Pictures in Schools.

There are nine bursaries—one for each province being offered annually for a period of eighteen years, beginning in 1920. For these bursaries only the sons and daughters of deceased and totally disabled soldiers and sailors and men of the Air Force are eligible. The bursaries are of the value of $1,000, i.e., $300 a year, payable for four years provided that the holder passes the examinations of each year in the spring, or at latest, in the autumn of the same year. Payments will be made in three instalments—the first ($125) in the third week in September; the second ($100) in the last week of December, and the third ($75) in the first week of April in the case of a student who enters college with Honour or Senior Matriculation, and expects to complete his or her course in three years. Arrangements may be made for the payment of the bursary in three annual instalments instead of four, i.e., $300 the first year, $450 the second year, and $450 the third year. Applicants should communicate with the Provincial Education Secretary, I.O.D.E. Box 476, Charlottetown.

"SIX DAYS"

"SIX DAYS", the GOLDWYN adaptation of the story by Elinor Glyn, is easily the best material with which "Dame" Glyn, as the publicity experts love to call her, has furnished the screen, and is now being shown at the Prince Edward Theatre.

It has striking and remarkably thrilling situations, in which Director Charles Brabin, the artist, who designed the underground settings and whoever it was that wrote the subtitles have caught very vividly, and at times in a hair-raising manner, the contrast between the puny strength of man, and the blind, gigantic and sometimes diabolical forms of nature. The trio are shown digging frantically to get out, then groping through the earthbound passages like straining, grubbing worms; in a sensationally memorable scene you are shown an underground cross-section, and behold the man and girl, each holding a tiny, flickering candle and each staggering helplessly through the labyrinth of runways in a chalk mine adjoining the dugout—and as you see the pair separated and searching for each other, crawl further and further apart, you realize what insignificant ants men are compared to the elemental forces.

The scenes, many of which appear to have been photographed in the actual locality of the mine, are very shrewdly managed, and make with your inner nervous system. You actually feel as if you were pressing about you, as it does the priest and the sculptor. When the sculptor, played by Frank Mayo, goes hurtling headlong down a shaft, your heart drops with him. It is eerie—and you hold on to every moment of it.

Photographically the picture is very high art, and it has been directed with unsurpassed discretion by Brabin.

Corinne Griffith seems to have realized her first big chance in this picture splendidly, expressing deep feeling vitally and genuinely. She is good to look upon. Frank Mayo was good as the sculptor, and Myrtle Stedman, Claude King and Maude George were others who elevated "SIX DAYS" into the ranks of the outstanding pictures, tinged though it is with some of the horror and cruelty of the war. This master production will be repeated today—and don't miss it!

Any breaking out of the skin... even if fiery, itching, eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and astringent eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

THE LATE ERIC DOUCETTE

The death at the City Hospital on Tuesday, February 3rd, of Eric Doucette, son of Mr. Joseph Doucette of 39 Passmore Street, after a short illness from Typhoid Fever, came as a great shock to the many friends of the family.

Eric, who was only 16 years of age, had been a pupil in the Principals' class of Queen Square School, to within a few days before his fatal illness. He was always a quiet and unassuming disposition, much beloved by all his teachers and classmates. In the family circle he will be much missed, as he was always so cheerful and light-hearted, always so willing and anxious to please and to help all with whom he came in contact. His death was particularly sad from the fact that his father was at the same time a patient in the hospital, but was unaware of his son's serious illness, and he was unable to be with him at the end.

There are left to mourn besides his sorrowing father and mother, six brothers, Henry, Wilfrid, Eugene and Francis of this city; Leo of Portland, Me., and Isidore of Montreal; and two sisters, Agnes (Sister St. Eric of the Congregation of Notre Dame Montreal) and Helen of this city.

The funeral which was very largely attended was held from his father's home on Thursday morning, February 5th, to St. Dunstan's Cathedral, where a Requiem Mass was celebrated by the Pastor, Rev. Maurice MacDonald. The services at the grave were taken by Rev. Father Wren of the Cathedral School attended in body. The pall bearers were: Charles Connolly, Urban Richard, James Provost, Ben Doiron, Norbert Bradley and Walter Trainor. Many floral tributes, Mass Cards and spiritual offerings testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends. Our sincere sympathy goes out to the bereaved family in their sad and sudden loss. Eternal rest grant unto him O Lord!

The following offerings were received:

Gas In The Stomach Is Dangerous

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Acid stomach, or "acid indigestion," is a dangerous condition because of the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach disorders. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and impairs the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any drug store a few ounces of Blaudart Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and flat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation. There is no "sourness" or "pain." Blaudart Magnesia (liquid or tablet form) never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of relief for all stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.
