

A DYNAMITE SUSPECT HAS MADE ESCAPE

Probably to Canada. Labor Unions Will Subscribe for Legal Defence Fund

Special to The Guardian. NEW YORK, April 26—Dan Kaplan, one of the dynamite suspects, is reported escaped to Canada. Mate Schmitt is sought for in several cities.

John and James McNamara and Ortie McManigal are expected today in Los Angeles when one of the greatest legal fights in the history of California will begin.

The preliminaries are expected to stretch over six weeks.

The labor organizations in Indianapolis will concentrate their efforts on bringing John McNamara back there, on the ground that he was illegally taken out of the State without being given a chance to employ counsel or make a defence.

The New York unions signify their ability and willingness to raise at least $200,000 for the defence of the accused men.

EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION FAVORS CHURCH UNION

ZURICH, April 23—At Saturday's session of the Evangelical Association, a memorial service was held in memory of Rev. Jos. Umbach, Rev. E. Eby and Rev. A. Geiger, who died during the past year.

The finance committee reported as follows: A probationer shall receive $400 per annum; a deacon $500 and free dwelling; an elder $850 and free dwelling; a presiding elder shall receive $950 and $350 as rent and expenses. The brethren on the northwest shall receive $90 extra. This report was adopted.

The following preachers were elected as delegates to the general conference, to convene in Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 19: Revs. S. R. Knechtel, J. G. Litt, M. L. Wing, S. M. Mauch and L. H. Wagner; alternatives, Revs. G. D. Baum, E. Burn, T. Burn and A. Y. Hain. The following lay delegates were elected: J. G. Breithaupt, Berlin; W. H. Otto, Elmira; J. J. Link, Kohler; alternatives, W. Krug, Chesley; O. M. Umbach, Waterloo. Rev. F. A. Zeeler was voted elders orders.

The question of church union was again taken up. Rev. G. D. Baum produced statistics proving incontrovertibly that the Canada conference had made in the last quadrennium greater progress than the London conference or the Hamilton conference of the Methodist Church, but expressed his opinion that union would be the ultimate outcome and would contribute to the glory of God and the welfare of His cause.

MUST PLAN FOR EMPIRE DEFENCE

LONDON, April 24—The Daily Graphic says by far the gravest question to come before the Imperial conference will be the question of steps to be taken to strengthen and render more effective the defensive forces of the Empire. If each dominion is to have its own army and navy it becomes imperative to create some kind of machinery for harmonizing the action of the different parts of the Empire. What is primarily needed is an arrangement enabling the government of dominions to be kept constantly informed by the Foreign Office of important developments in international politics, so that they may not become involved in the consequences of a policy about which they were never consulted.

Hang on! Cling on! No matter what they say, Push on! Sing on! Things will come your way. Sitting down and whining never helps a bit; Best way to get there is by keeping up your grit. Don't give up hoping when the ship goes down; Grab a spar or something—just refuse to drown.

Debate on Reciprocity Concluded by Mr. Wyatt and Premier Haszard. A Party Vote and Majority of One. A List of the Bills Assented to by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor.

Wednesday, April 26. The House opened to the public at 10.55. THE PREMIER presented the report of the committee appointed to forward the address to the King.

MR. CROSBY presented the report of the committee on contingent accounts. The bill to amend the Income Tax was read a third time and passed.

MR. WYATT resumed the adjourned debate on the reciprocity resolution and amendment thereto. He had before endeavored to show the condition of Canada at the time of the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty of 1854 and the measures taken by the Fathers of Confederation to meet the emergency. These were the introduction of the National Policy, the development of our transportation system and of interprovincial trade and the building up of our home industries.

He proceeded to argue that the States had largely exhausted their natural resources and are now seeking an opportunity to exploit ours in similar fashion. It was to our true interests, he contended, to conserve these resources, and reciprocity would tend to waste them.

Attorney Goshring announced that Toth has found it impossible to meet conditions that would permit him a livelihood and that he does not want to be a burden on his friends. He believes the government owes him a debt that will assure him an existence and is going back to the prison he has known so long to demand it.

Nicholas of Reno and Miss Felice Cohn, attorney, of Carson, vice-president of the body.

She left yesterday at eight p. m. for a port near Guysboro Bay where she will relieve seven fishing vessels which are in such a position in a heavy ice jam as to endanger both the lives of the crews and the vessels themselves.

During her absence off the winter route the Minto will maintain a daily return trip service between here and Pictou, leaving here at 7.00 a. m. and Pictou at 2.00 p. m., as ice and weather conditions permit.

they took 40 years ago. On the other hand they export a great deal more than we do, and not a little of it to Canada, including hay, potatoes, vegetables, cattle, sheep, poultry. We are now buying these things from them and paying the duty. How then can we sell our products to them? Lard can be laid down in Summerside at 11 cents per pound less than it can be produced in this country. He argued therefore that the removal of the duty did not mean that our farmers would receive that much more. It simply meant that they would come into even competition with other farmers and could produce many things more cheaply than we can do. The question was whether they would not get much more of our markets that we should get of theirs. This agreement had driven strong men out of the Liberal party, as the commercial union policy drove out Edward Blake in 1891. He went on to argue that many in the United States were working for reciprocity in the belief that it would lead to annexation. Otherwise he held that the agreement is saturated with uncertainty. The Washington Government could terminate it at any time. They are jealous of our preference to the Mother Country. He introduced the wooden horse of Troy as an illustration of the too great willingness of the Americans to give us reciprocity. He feared a sinister object. He was not opposed to true reciprocity, but agreed that the agreement had defects and doubtful features which warned us to be cautious. He continued till twelve o'clock.

THE PREMIER said the question of reciprocity between Canada and her neighbor to the south is one of great importance. It was an agreement, not with our enemy, but with our neighbor and friend, and the good friend of the Mother Country. He proceeded to quote from actual invoices of hogs in December, 1896, sold at 34 cents per pound. Another invoice showed the same prices. But ter was quoted at 14 cents a pound. Oats were quoted in the same month of 1896, at 23 cents in Charlottetown and one car load at 20 cents. These figures would not indicate that the N. P. had done very much for the farmers. At the same time codfish were selling at 3 cents. These were the prices after 18 years under the National Policy. If reciprocity would not do better than that we had better hold our hand. He congratulated the member for Morell (Mr. Cox) as a manufacturer on his speech and his independence in supporting the agreement. He was looking to the public interest rather than his own private interest. The member for Summerside had held up the flag of danger, and that was the way all over Canada. The manufacturers would be ruined. They would be swallowed up. He had gone back thousands of years to resurrect that old wooden horse. He (Mr. Haszard) held that the treaty would be a boon to Canada and that no Province would profit so much as Prince Edward Island. We could produce the best fruits of the soil. The rapid growth of population in the States and shipping production there and created one of the best markets in the world. We had been told that our pork trade and our horse trade will be ruined by competition from Chicago, or the favored nations. What could we get from Bolivia, where they used wooden plows drawn by a single ox. That was one of the favored nations. Columbia was another, producing nothing that we produce. Spain is another of the favored countries. They had been told that the agreement would disturb trade, and that it could be abrogated at short notice. That was correct. But they did not need our leave to remove their duties at any time. That right they always had. It is possible that free admission of our food products might lower the prices there somewhat, but if we sent QUEBEC, April 24—A big boot and shoe merger that will control all the shoe industries in the City of Quebec and vicinity, is now on foot among the local manufacturers. The project is entered into with a view to greater economy and more power to surmount the difficulties which of late years have not only impeded the local progress of the industry, but also present continuation in the Ancient Capital. It is understood that the shoemen will carry on the trade as at present in the different establishments, but these will be taken over from a central point which will be the headquarters of the whole concern.

He has 11 Klamath Falls, whose 15 hens laid an average of 17 eggs each. W. R. OPPOSITION EXTREMISTS AT OTTAWA

Propose to Continue the Fight to Bitter End. Better Counsels May Prevail

Special to The Guardian. OTTAWA, April 26—The extremists in the Opposition ranks won in the caucus and, despite the protests from the more moderate members of the party, it was decided the fight against reciprocity should go on to the bitter end.

This means that Parliament will continue in session during the summer and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not be able to attend either the Imperial Conference or the Coronation.

The chances, however, are that next month with morning sittings and warm weather will see a change of tactics and a desire on the part of the Opposition members to wind up the reciprocity debate, hasten the prorogation and let the electors forget about reciprocity as quickly as possible.

GREAT LAKES STRIKE ENDING

Special to The Guardian. BUFFALO, April 26—The strike of the Great Lakes, maintained for the last three years and involving between 8,000 to 10,000 men may be declared off within the next three weeks.

There is dissatisfaction and disension over the long struggle.

FRENCH SOCIALIST ARMY IS CURED

WASHINGTON, April 24—Some five years ago there was an Homeric battle between M. Clemenceau and M. Jaures in the French Chamber of Deputies, and the then Minister of the Interior challenged the Socialist leader to produce in the form of practical proposals a scheme of the Socialist States for the realization of which he professes to be working. M. Jaures accepted the challenge, and to the great entertainment of politicians and the public he has laid on the table of the Chamber of Deputies a bulky volume of 700 pages representing the first instalment, with explanations and an historical expose, of his grand project for "the Socialist organization of France."

The first portion of the magnificent Socialist scheme deals with the subject of the army, and as a critic in the Temps points out, M. Jaures, like M. Millerand, M. Briand, and other present or past adherents of the Socialist doctrine, implicitly confesses that the effective defence of a country's frontiers is a preliminary condition of its developing a Socialist or any other sort of political organization within them. M. Jaures, like most Socialist leaders in France and elsewhere, has always favored the idea of a national militia in preference to a standing army. In his present scheme he appears to have reached a compromise on this point, and while retaining the obligation of universal service reduces the period with the colors to six months. He has fastened upon a declaration by General Langlois to the effect that the main military strength of France lies in the reserves rather than in the active forces, and his object appears to be to educate the reserves.

AFTER TWO YEARS BODY IDENTIFIED

DOVER, N. J., April 23—The body of a man which was found June 3, 1909, suspended from a tree in the woods near here has just been identified as that of Berent Edward Colander, son of a wealthy cotton manufacturer of Stockholm, Sweden. The body was exhumed to make certain a description furnished by a Brooklyn dentist who had made a bridge for the young man.

"THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY" UNDER AUSPICES OF I. O. O. F.

The Colonial Stock Company last night opened their present engagement in this city most auspiciously with that charming comedy, "The Marriage of Kitty." The popularity of the company was amply testified to by an audience which filled every seat in the Opera House. The body was exhumed to make certain a description furnished by a Brooklyn dentist who had made a bridge for the young man.

That all who attended were pleased is but expressing very mildly the satisfaction which was so exuberantly manifested during the playing of the three acts into which the excellent comedy is compressed. The cast of characters comprises seven in all, and the chief parts were taken by Myra Crowe, Mollie Revel, Frank Oliver and Jack Lawrence. These old favorites were received with evident tokens of pleasure, and Mr. Oliver

The Colonial Stock Company is to be felicitated upon their successful performance of last night, which may be looked upon as an indication of continued approval during the remainder of their stay here. The performance merited the applause so liberally bestowed and was a most delightful and fitting climax to the I. O. O. F. Natal Day celebration.
