STATE'S TRADE REVIVAL

For the six months ended December 31, compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, Western Australia's imports increased by $1,308,000, two-thirds of which favored overseas countries. Exports increased by $1,042,000 in face of a decline of $21,000 in exports to the Eastern States. Imports of agricultural machinery rose from $38,600 to $127,000. Butter exports increased by $60,000, and imports decreased by $15,000. There was a shrinkage of $12,000 in imported bacon, and preserved milk declined by $38,000. Two condensed milk factories have been operating in the South-west for about a year. The value of exported gold was over $727,000 higher, some of which is due to the depreciation of sterling, as a result of which the industry is more active than for several years.

SOUTH-WEST IRRIGATION

The first and smallest of three irrigation schemes which the Government has in hand in the South-west, and which will play an important part in the development of that part of the State, was opened by the Premier (Sir James Mitchell) at Harvey on January 24. The Harvey weir has been enlarged from 500,000 gallons to 2,275,000 gallons at a cost of $105,000, and new irrigation channels and a drainage system which are nearing completion will cost $91,000. The area of the new irrigation district is 22,000 acres, where an important dairying industry is catered for by a butter factory and a condensed milk factory. Of the other irrigation schemes in progress, one at Colle will be four times larger than that at Harvey, and the third will be at Waroona. The Premier's ambition is to feed the whole of the State and have an export surplus as a result of the development of the South-west.

THE MINING INDUSTRY

The production of gold in 1932 was 605,562 ounces, compared with 510,572 ounces for the previous year, which is the best annual return since 1920. The yield for January, 1933, was 45,735 ounces, which was 1717 ounces in excess of that for the same month of last year.

Reports continue to be received from various auriferous portions of the State in regard to finds by prospectors, the opening up of old mines which were unpayable when gold was only $4/5 an ounce, and of payable yields obtained by many gold-seekers who can now make a living where formerly they could not do so.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS

With a majority of four in the Legislative Assembly, the coalition Government, comprising 15 Nationalists and 12 members of the Country Party, led by the Premier (Sir James Mitchell) will face the electors on April 8. The Government, which has had three years of office in times of extraordinary financial difficulty, has done well in handling the finances and the unemployment problem. An unemployment tax of 4 1/2 d. in the £1 passed last session may have gained the Government some unpopularity, but it is probable that by now the people, including low wage-earners who are paying direct taxation for the first time, have realized the necessity of this extra sacrifice.

Federal And Provincial Co-operation

The Departments of Agriculture Work Together as One Body.

The close co-operation existing between the Canadian Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture was referred to lucidly in the House of Commons the other day by the Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture. On several occasions during the debate on supply, the Minister availed himself of the opportunity of alluding to the harmonious workings of these departments, and twice in

Manufacturers Make Housekeeping Easy

Fine Household and Cooking Information Come Via Coupons

FINE HOUSEHOLD AND COOKING INFORMATION COMES VIA COUPONS

Since "women's place is in the home," manufacturers have done all they can to make that job pleasant and easy. The newest bride and oldest cook may have the latest, authentic information on advertised products by simply writing the manufacturers. And so, Mrs. 1933 moves out from four walls with back-breaking tasks into the factories where some of her work is done perfectly.

Daily household routine can be readily learned free by everyone. All that is necessary is to write for the booklet—usually a most interesting encyclopedia of the product or task. And if the manufacturer hasn't a booklet on dairy and meat products, growing hens, flowers, fruit or children—the Government will send free most authoritative ones. Soap companies, or washing machine books give better information on home laundry than most women learn in a lifetime. And with food products, the manufacturer gives out, not just tested recipes but the very best—ones that have been gathered after research men, dietitians and cost experts have decided that this is the most delicious, healthful and best value of his kind.

One of the most outstanding examples is in jelly-making. That most difficult and exasperating task has now been made almost foolproof. Manufacturers, not housewives, found out why huge batches of fruit syrup refuse to detail mentioned typical examples of this object lesson in governmental efficiency.

In answer to a query as to the work of the Dominion Apiculturist, Hon. Mr. Weir said "the Dominion Apiculturist does work in very close co-operation with the provincial authorities; there is full co-operation in all the work between the Dominion and the province. For instance, I have instructed all the officials in my department in British Columbia that when a provincial Minister of Agriculture calls a meeting of technical men he is equally free to notify the federal men to attend. These conferences have been called in British Columbia, as in every other province, and the benefit derived is in the fact that they decide on what outstanding agricultural problem should be attacked. They also review what is already known, and if any other problem comes up they have the advantage of any knowledge that may be possessed by the federal experimental farms. They all work together as one body on any agricultural problem that may present itself."

A similar story is told of the Economics Branch, as of the other branches of the Department of Agriculture. "This branch," said the Minister, "proposes of a suggestion of several members of parliament to spend more money on the branch, "of course, collects information directly from the farmers and co-operates with the other branches; it also works in co-operation with the provincial departments of agriculture and in that way saves the expense of a large staff to do that part of the work other than interpreting and analyzing the figures."

Some 10,000 students will be dropped at Moscow University in the near future, owing to overcrowding of the universities and lack of funds to support the students. Technically the students will be dismissed for poor scholarship and "improper social status."

As a part of the home economic course at Winthrop College, at Rock Hill, S. C., girls are living for six weeks at a time in family groups of six in a practice house on the campus, where each girl has assigned to her for a period of time each household duty

Then they concentrated the jelly-making substance in fruits, pectin—and worked recipes for every fruit to give a marvellous jam or jelly at a lower cost than with the old fashioned "take a chance" way. Not content with that, the manufacturer removed the bother of measuring the pectin accurately—it is sold in marked bottles—the correct amount need only be poured right into the hot fruit syrup.

Accurate measurement is so essential to good cooking that many manufacturers follow this example. Every housewife has one favorite chocolate cake—the family's real festive food. And every cook has been somewhat disappointed in trying to measure accurately the correct amount of unsweetened chocolate. The thick, rich looking cake never broke on the shallow ridges—always a little of another square came away. Now this chocolate comes marked with deep ridges, easily broken into 1 ounce pieces—a perfect measurement with just the pressure of the fingers. And from the same manufacturer comes an excellent book of tested recipes for all sorts of chocolate dishes.

Advertising becomes news to the housewife when the coupon in the corner offers a free course in some branch of home-making. Just as doctors, lawyers and other professional workers read constantly to keep up with their job, so the intelligent housewife keeps her eye on those coupons in the corner to make her home a better place.

Quigley and an interesting study from the Synoptic Gospels was part of the hour. The annual meeting of the Junior Sub-division Catholic Women's League, was held Wednesday evening April 19th, in Knights of Columbus Hall and was largely attended.

Miss Margaret Dougan presided and the sub-division was honored by the presence of His Excellency Rt. Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, Bishop of Charlottetown. Rev. Father O'Hanley, Chaplain of the sub-division and also Mrs. W. J. McIntyre, National President.

After prayer and the singing of O Canada, Miss Dougan in a few words welcomed His Excellency Rev. Father O'Hanley and National President. Reports of the Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, were then read after which the President gave a review of the years activities in her report which was as follows:—

President's Report

To the Officers and Members of the Junior Sub-Division of the Catholic Women's League.

Dear Members:

Another year has rolled by and again it is my privilege to address you tonight and give you a brief summary of the activities performed by this sub-division during the past year.

Our first duty, after our Annual meeting on April 15th, 1932, was to finish our lottery by collecting books that were out and have the drawing take place, on which a satisfactory amount was realized.

In May 1932 the Knights of Columbus asked our support in selling tickets for a picture they were putting on and we sold between 260 and 300 tickets for them. We were glad to assist them in this way in appreciation of their generosity to us for the use of their hall for our meetings and various activities, and we still feel greatly indebted to them for placing their hall at our disposal.

During Exhibition week when meals were served to raise funds for the Sacred Heart Home, sponsored by the Senior Sub-Division, we assisted in serving and also took charge of the candy booth for them from which we realized about $40.00 and passed it over to them. Again in November when they sponsored the Turkey dinner, we again assisted in serving. At this function they kindly placed at our disposal the candy booth from which we made some $25.50 to augment our own funds. We also sold candy the second night of the Mtnstrel show in Rochford Square Hall and we conducted Pantry sales on two or three occasions.

In September the Diocesan Convention was held in Charlottetown, and your President and Miss Rose Gaudet represented the Junior Sub-Division. Your President being re-elected Record Secretary on the Diocesan Board.

Chief among our social functions was bowling, which was reorganized last fall and an active committee placed in charge. Several teams were formed and there was lively competition. We are now rolling our third schedule.

We conducted two Bridge Parties last fall which were very much enjoyed socially and besides helped to increase our funds.

Although it has been a strenuous time to realize any great amount of money, still we feel we were fortunate in being able to meet our obligations.

We still continue to contribute to the support of the aged lady in the Sacred Heart Home.

We gave our usual donations to National Sisters of Service, Budget and Scholarship and also paid our National and Diocesan Taxes.

We gave a donation for the Christmas Tree to the Social Service Department of the Charlottetown Hospital.

When Monsignor Maurice McDonald was appointed Parish Priest of Tracadie, we co-operated with other societies in giving him a dining-room ensemble.

We gave Mass Cards to deceased relatives of our members.

The different committees have all been faithful in fulfilling their duties to the satisfaction of all.

Tonight you will elect a new board of officers and I would ask in their behalf, the same loyal support, as has been given me by the outgoing officers, as it is the whole-hearted assistance that goes to make a success in any and all undertakings.

Before concluding, I wish to thank very heartily the Executive and each and every member who worked so well with me and gave me their splendid support and co-operation in all our activities in my term of office.

I would also like to extend the National President, Mrs. W. J. McIntyre and to the Senior Sub-Division our heartfelt thanks for their many kindnesses to us at all times, and also to the Holy Name Club who have been most obliging and courteous to us while bowling on their alleys, also to our Chaplain, Rev. H. O'Hanley who has been most faithful since his appointment as Chaplain of this Sub-Division.

Faithfully yours,
MARGARET DOUGAN

The President then called on His Excellency to say a few words, who expressed great pleasure at being present and at the work done by this sub-division. He urged each and every member to continue their interests in the work the League has been doing and made suggestions which pointed to the way for even greater action.

Addresses were also given by Rev. Father O'Hanley and Mrs. McIntyre, who expressed themselves as being much pleased at the splendid work done and asked to make a drive for membership, so that more girls, would have an opportunity of sharing in the great work the Junior League was doing and capable of doing.

The election of officers for 1933 then took place which resulted as follows:—

President, Miss Rose Gaudet.
1st Vice President, Miss Lillian McAleer.
2nd Vice President, Miss Kathleen Hughes.
3rd Vice President, Miss P. Gaudet.
Treasurer, Miss Evelyn Connors.
Recording Secretary, Miss Nora Murray.
Corresponding Secretary, Miss Gertrude Coady.
Councillors, Misses George Flynn Florence Hogan, Katie McKenna, Mary McFarlane, Melvina Richard, Rita McFarlane.

The new officers were then installed. Mrs. McIntyre congratulating them on their election.

A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring President for her unselfish devotion to League interests during her term of office.

Miss Gaudet thanked all present for the confidence placed in her by electing her President and said she would do all in her power to further the interests of the sub-division.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

RELIEVING DISTRESS IN CALGARY

In 1932 $19,511.57 was expended by The Salvation Army on relief in Calgary (says the "Morning Albertan"). The Army supplied more than 20,000 meals to nearly 4,000 men during the year.

The Army also supplied 1,105 men with 3,691 beds, free of charge, or an average of slightly more than three per man, and supplied 3,907 men with 20,723 meals, or an average of slightly more than five meals per man.

During the year 2,268 people were given 19,713 garments and pieces of furniture, an average of eight pieces per individual. Families given food totalled 194, comprising 776 people.
