In Memoriam

MR. THEOPHILUS MILTON
WOOD
"Friend after friend departs who has not lost a friend"

On Thursday night March 2nd, 1939, there passed to his everlasting restward the soul of our beloved brother and friend Theophilus Wood.

A large concourse of people attended the funeral and filled the Church to overflowing where Rev.
Mr. Ross, at the house, spoke feeling words of comfort to the bereaved and his host of friends and neighbors.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, March 5th, and owing to the illness of Mrs. Wood, there were two services, one at the home and later in Pownal United Church.

Both services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. D. K. Ross. Special musical features were a hymn sung at his mother's funeral thirty-five years ago, and a solo, a special favorite of the deceased and his family, "The Old Rugged Cross", which was rendered by Mr. J. A. Moore; Mrs. M. W. Wood was the accompanist.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. W.
H. Drake, Peter MacKenzie, James MacEachern, S.L. Boswell, Venan-ches Curdley and A.D. Brehaut.

NEW LONDON'S OLDEST RES-IDENT PASSES.—In the passing of John W. Cann, on March 23rd, New London has lost its oldest resident.
Mr. Cann was 98 years of age and was born at Wheatley River. He moved to Freeport when a young man. He later married Mary C.
Duggan of Sea View, and moved to Long River where he lived till a few years ago when he went to live with his sons, Percy and Russell.
Mr. Cann was a mason by trade and his work will stand as a monument to his skill and workmanship.
A man of powerful physique he was able to carry on his trade long after he passed his 90th year, and maintained all his faculties to the very last. Mr. Cann was a prominent Liberal and took an active part in every election campaign, on the platform he was courteous to his opponents but his good memory and ready repartee made it interesting for all parties. He leaves to mourn four sons, Percy of Kensington; Russell of the Fountain Road, and two daughters, Mrs. M. E. Duggan, house of Moors Mills, N. B.; and Eldon of Kinderley, Sask. Three daughters, Bessie, Mrs. Guy Russell, and Mrs. M. E. Duggan, and a son, Mr. E. Duggan, of the house of Moors Mills, N. B.; and Bell of Graham's Road, who was too ill to attend the funeral. The funeral services were held on Sunday last noon and were conducted by his Minister, Rev. Mr. Denton, of New London, in the Geddie Memorial Church. A very large number of friends attended to pay a last tribute of respect to their old neighbor.
The pall bearers were Messrs. Fred Folland, John Burgoyne, Leigh McAllister, John Burgoyne, David Olive Rowley, 1st Charlottetown, (Basilica), Miss Flo. Howatt, 1st Charlottetown, (Basilica), Mr.
Burt Duffy, 8th Charlottetown (M.
H. R.), Mr. T. Fitzgerald, 3rd Charlottetown, (St. James), Mr. Art Brown, 1st Charlottetown (Basilica), Mr. R. H. King, 13th Charlottetown, (M. H. R.), Mr. E. Doyle, 1st Charlottetown, (Basilica), Mr. V.
King, 12th Charlottetown, (Yacht Club).

We welcome Lone Scout Edwin Henry of Keppoon into our Great Brotherhood and hope the Lone Patrol may soon be established in the neighborhood. Mr. J. L.
Ouran is acting as friend and advisor to the Lone Scout.

I have been requested by a number of our citizens to ask the merchants to close their respective places of business at 9.15 P.M. Saturday in order to give the employees an opportunity of seeing the Hockey Match which starts at 8.30. It is reasonable, I would ask the merchants to close their businesses accordingly, which trust will be in the interests of all.

Gossip And Humour

Rev. J. Valdemar Moldenhaver, First Presbyterian Church, New York.

It must be confessed that carelessness in spreading hurtful gossip is by no means absent in Christian circles. The Christian should ever have this before his mind: The obligation to strict truthfulness, not as easy to fulfil as some might imagine.

The obligation to Christian charity, which would prevent the spreading of that which is unkind and hurtful.

The obligation to edification, which is so frequently insisted upon in the New Testament. Idle speech which is objectionable and in its own nature foolish, is unworthy of our high calling in Christ Jesus.

Recall Christ's admonition that every idle word must be accounted for, which is a warning to keep close guard over our tongues, else we be instrumental in wrecking someone's reputation.

Although it sounds exaggerated to say that trivial talk will deserve great punishment, there must be something in it, for it is part of Holy Scripture, the word of God.

The original Greek text of the different passages in which the word "jesting" is occasionally employed in an evil sense in the Greek writers, similar to that which we conceive St. Paul had in mind.

But the usual word for vulgar buffoonery on himself and others, who hung about the altars.

Yet there is need for the Christian, while exercising a healthy, invigorating freedom of speech which permits those happy turns of sensitivity in a playful sense (that is usually associated with the word used by St. Paul for "jesting") to bear in mind that levity in sacred things may become habitual and inflict great injury on himself and others.

We are reminded in the Book of Ecclesiastes that there is a time to laugh. That seems to mean that God has appointed to men seasons of mirth and of sadness. But it is true that the Christian must use care both on the subjects and in the objects of his humorous sallies.

Below is a list of answers to Sir Edward Beatty's Proposal:

The proposal favors unification of the C. N. R. and the C. P. R., and claimed that 75,000,000 dollars would be saved. What direction are we to do, so this is what would have to be done.

1. To scrap 2216 miles of the C.
N. R. main line. This would increase 961 miles C. N. R. Branch Lines. As against this he says he is willing to close down 744 miles of main line track and 981 miles of branch line track on the C. P. R.
3,308 miles Canadian National to be scrapped but only 1706 miles C. P.
R.

2. That the C. N. R. Locomotive and Car Shops at Moncton, St.
Malo, Montreal, Leaside, London, Stratford, Fort Rouge, Transcona, Edmonton and St. Alban's would be closed, dismantled or merged with the nearest C. P. R. shops. He also says to bear in mind that the C. N. R. has 5,061 miles he wants to abandon where depots, freight sheds, express and ticket and telegraph offices would be scrapped.

What would be the result? C. N.
R. Revenues would drop like an anvil down a well. The Beatty scheme to mutilate the main line of the C. N. R. would guarantee this. But more, the country would lose ten millions of dollars as the result of the dislocation of industry and business and the highest transportation costs that industry business and the farmers would have to bear after their railway facilities had been taken away.

Once Sir Edward's plan was put into effect the drain upon the Dominion taxpayers would be increased. Important thriving communities would be plunged into bankruptcy.
The C. N. R. deficit would be bigger.

For remember that Sir Edward stipulates that the share of revenue going to each system under his scheme be determined by the traffic on their original properties and lines. His scheme would cut the heart out of the C. N. R. and make it impossible for it to ever reach the 1928-28 average of over $200 millions revenue a year.

THE MARCH WIND
Left by my warming breeze For Spring is come, that you will By grassy lawns and leas.

Blow winds of March, not vainly blow
You all know well not vain.
For fields must bare of drifting snow
And winds must bring us rain.

Till 'length will come the robin's song
And wake us up at morn;
All followed by the singing throng The "Winds of March" have borne.

And soft I tell the flowers awake
And whisper, Spring has come I'll blow about and too will shake
The rafters of your home.

Some morn you'll wake to find no snow

And soft I tell the flowers awake
And whisper, Spring has come
I'll blow about and too will shake
The rafters of your home.
