CLERMONT ACES TAKE SPRING VALLEY 3-2

Clermont Aces, paced by James (Chubby) Mill, took a hard-fought close game from the Spring Valley Arrows 3-2 before a large number of fans in Kensington on Friday night.

The boys skated onto a smooth, fast sheet of ice and from the opening whistle were in high gear all the way. About midway through the first period Heckbert and Profit combined on a nice passing play which sent Chubby to the net. The Aces' sniper made no mistake. In the second period "Chubby" Mill soled through the whole Spring Valley team to score in the 11th minute. Chubby's goal was in front of the gang and the Aces' sniper made no mistake.

In the third period the Aces' sniper made no mistake. The boys skated onto a smooth, fast sheet of ice and from the opening whistle were in high gear all the way. About midway through the first period Heckbert and Profit combined on a nice passing play which sent Chubby to the net. The Aces' sniper made no mistake.

PRE-EASTER SERVICES—The pre-Easter services being held every night this week in the Presbyterian Church, began last evening at 8 o'clock.

Much interest was manifested in the message brought by the Rev. Mr. Ooms, B. A., who is the minister in St. Andrew's Church, New Glasgow, N. S. Mr. Ooms took as his subject the transfiguration of Jesus Christ, which he called "The Greatest Spectacle of the Ages". The message was preceded by a hearty worship service of singing. The services continue all week through Friday, at 8 o'clock.

Befriends Hitch Hiker, Loses Car

SYDNEY, N. S., April 4.—(CP)—It may be quite awhile before D. P. MacPherson picks up another hitch-hiker. MacPherson picked up the stranger while motoring here from North Sydney. He stopped on a city street, for a visit and when he returned he found the hitch-hiker and car gone.

Later, police in Sydney Mines, about 15 miles from here and on the other side of North Sydney, found the car undamaged.

NOTES

The first star of the game is undoubtedly the Arrows goalie, D. McInnis, who was sensational on numerous plays turning back the Aces' attack when they were right on his doorstep.

The second star goes to the star forward of the Aces, "Chubby" Mill, who scored the winning goal in the 11th minute.

The third star goes to H. Champion, the clever centre player of the Arrows who played a marvellous game on the rink line and back-checked well all night.

A large number of strangers were in attendance and many are wondering how best does it.

The referees did a nice job, ruling with an iron hand.

Many fans are wondering why Evelyn and Co. haunt the time's box.

BROODER STOVES—We

with the previous speaker in a plea for united effort on the part of sectors.

Outlook for rural teachers was "becoming darker and darker," he declared, referring to salary figures quoted by President MacDonald in his report.

Discussing deductions from teachers' salaries because of small attendance the speaker recalled Supervisor MacPhee had a few years ago recommended making the R.C.M.P. truant officers' salaries thing had been done about it however. Nevertheless last year the R.C.M.P. were sent out collecting dog tax, Mr. Reid recalled, amid applause from fellow teachers.

When he started teaching Supervisors were able to visit schools in their district three times a year. Now because of a reduction in the number of Supervisors only two visits were possible each year.

The speaker saw more educational opportunities in the future.

Large Units, Solution

Mr. Francis McAvin declared "we can't do much with the curriculum under the present system of administration." The views of the majority of teachers was that they couldn't see where anything could be omitted and that left no room to add anything. At the same time it was a matter of true curriculum was overcrowded at present. The solution to the problem he saw in larger units of administration. It would enable schools to get up in larger centres where optional subjects could be taught in grades nine and ten and higher grades.

EXECUTIVE REPORT

Following was the text of President J. Reginald MacDonald's annual report at the opening session of the teachers' convention yesterday.

"Let me first express my sincere appreciation of the honor conferred on me last year when you chose me as president of this Federation.

"The past year has been, I am sure, a busy one for us all, with perhaps, little to show in the way of improved teaching conditions. I am confident, however, with the attention education is receiving in these days, with the gradually improving conditions of our people, and with the great adult education movement so fast spreading throughout the country, that our teachers will soon be receiving that measure of justice so long overdue and our boys and girls will be enjoying in a fuller measure those educational opportunities so long denied them.

Executive Activities

"During the past year the members of the Executive have endeavored, to the best of their ability, to carry on the work of the Federation in the interests of the teachers as a whole.

"The Week Committee was sent to the secretaries of all the schools in the province, stressing the importance of adequate supplements for our teachers.

"We are deeply indebted to Mr. George Dewar, who has undertaken to edit a space in the "Guardian" for the "Educational Horizon." This should prove of great value in keeping our educational problems before the public.

"Education week was observed in general throughout the province. A report by the chairman of the Education Week Committee appeared in the program.

"In the matter of unpaid supplements, legal assistance was obtained for many teachers, resulting in some teachers receiving their long overdue pay.

Take Needs To Ottawa

The Provincial Government should use the need for increased teacher salaries as a pressing further claim to Ottawa. Any increased subsidies, Mr. Reid maintained.

Despite reductions in average salaries paid teachers in the past eight years, the individual teachers were continuing to improve their academic and professional standing.

Mr. George Dewar, New Perth, selected to speak on "tenure" declared that he could not be asked any question of tenure in any school for no one could be expected to remain in a profession for which there was not proper reward.

Federation Magazine

"Coincident with my entrance into the teaching service, weary of existence the one thing which above all others is, I believe, necessary in keeping the teachers informed on general educational topics and Federation news. I refer to the Federation Magazine edited by Mr. Wynn. Incidentally, we are the only province today without such. I would therefore urge the members of the incoming Executive to give this matter their serious consideration at an early date. From the standpoint of accuracy, it might be argued that we could not afford it, but considering the advantages which would accrue and the good it would assuredly bring, this should not offer a serious obstacle. The question is: how do we afford to be without it?"

Urges Clarification Of CBC Policy

(By The Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, April 4.—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's policy on the use of private networks and the broadcasting of personal opinion should be clarified for the future, George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, told the House of Commons Radio Committee today.

Presenting his side of the controversy which developed when C.B.C. denied him network facilities for his broadcasts three months ago, Mr. McCullagh emphasized that the appearance of personal opinion should be clarified for the future, George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, told the House of Commons Radio Committee today.

Hines Freed On $35,000 Bail

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—An decision holding the recent conviction of James J. Hines was debatable upon material points was the opinion of the Supreme Court, freed the Tammany District political leader in $35,000 bail pending appeal of his case by the appellate courts.

The bond was postponed immediately and the grey-haired Hines was released from prison after 12 days in custody.

Hines is under sentence of from four to eight years on conviction of acting as a political agent for the old "Dutch Schultz" policy racket.

National Research Council Announces Scholarship Awards

The National Research Council announced that 41 awards of scholarship have been made for 1939-40. These scholarships form part of the means by which the Council stimulates postgraduate training and scientific research in Canada. The successful candidates this year are drawn from 14 Canadian universities. One of the candidates will study dairy bacteriology at the National Institute for Research in Dairying at Shinfield near Reading, England; all of the others will carry on postgraduate research at Canadian universities. Three holders of special scholarships will be in training at the National Research Laboratories in Ottawa where they will acquire experience in the study of industrial and commercial problems. Two of these scholarships have a value of $2,000 each; the other one is worth $750; four fellowships at $750 each and 34 studentships at $650 each are tenable at the universities.

Of the successful candidates awarded to work in the field of chemistry, 8 in physics, 2 in geology and 1 in engineering. In the biological sciences 2 will work in bacteriology, 1 in entomology, 1 in plant biochemistry, 1 in zoology and 3 in biochemistry.

In addition to the fellowships and studentships announced above provision has been made for a number of bursaries at $250 which are to be held under co-operative arrangements between the National Research Council and the universities in which the graduate students will be enrolled. Particulars of these further awards will be announced at a later date.
