K. of C. Team Are Victims Of Seventh Inning Uprising

Scoring two runs in the last half of the seventh on Wallie Shepherd's double to centerfield and then adding another before Umpire Leth Jay called the game, Kinsmen last night chalked up the opening victory of the City Junior League when they defeated the Knights of Columbus team 8-5.

Leading 2-1 going into the bottom half of the third, Knights saw their opponents go into the lead with a two-run rally in that frame and then open up a 5-2 gap with another brace of runs in the fourth. Blanked throughout the third, fourth and fifth, the losers got one of their runs back in the sixth and knotted the count at 5-5 in the top half of the seventh.

Only to have the draw short-lived as a double and single, a wild pitch and a passed batsman gave the winners their all-important three runs in the seventh.

Both hurlers, Ready of the winners and Beagan of the losers were stingy with hits, the former giving up but four and the latter six but errors plus the moundmen's lack of control played a big part in the scoring by both teams.

GOLF
(Jimmy Walker, Charlottetown Golf Pro.)

DOWNSWING

It has often been said that the left side controls both the backswing and downswing, at least the left side starts the club in motion in the backswing and also initiates the first movement of the downswing. So the player should be careful of the left side action during both these phases of the swing.

Slow motion pictures show that most of the long and consistent hitters in golf start the downswing with the left shoulder and hip leading the hands and that the left hip returns to the ground almost immediately the hands start to move. This sets up the left side for the hands to uncock against at the point of impact which is the position from which the swing was started.

This left side control holds true in all the sports from the drive down through the medium length clubs to the short pitch and chip shots. This control is felt mainly through the left hand and arm all the way from the top of the swing down through to the hitting area when the right hand automatically comes in and supplies the punch. Care must be taken that the right hand is not forced into the shot when close to the ball as this usually results in a smothered shot or a sharp hook.

The arms are kept fairly close to the body during the downswing with the right elbow almost touching the clothing as the hands are led down to the ball.

A few of the leading players do not use a full backswing for their drives depending on powerful hands and wrists for their distance. These players are usually athletes who have starred in other sports mainly hockey and baseball. A golfer using the slightly shortened backswing with notable success is Pete Kelly former Marlinton, N. B. and Prince Edward Island golf champion.

Ike Williams Wins In Fourth Round

NEW YORK, June 20—(AP)—Ike Williams tonight exploded all his dynamite in the fourth round to knock out Tippy Larkin in a fight at Madison Square Garden.

Williams, lightweight champion of the National Boxing Association, weighed 136 1/4 lbs. Larkin, junior welterweight titleholder, weighed 4 3/4 pounds more at 141.

Red Sox Defeat R.C.A.F. In Game At Summerside

The Red Sox defeated the R.C.A.F. last night at the High School diamond in Summerside by a score of 6 to 1. Powell, winning pitcher, allowed only two hits and struck out eleven. The game was fast and rugged all through. A nice double play was completed by the Red Sox infield, catching both runners by about ten feet.—S.

The Back Stretch

John. It stood until the 1920's when it was lowered by Bud Hal 2.09 1-2, owned by the late Lemuel Acker of Halifax and driven by Billy Hood. Mr. Caldwell was a native of Nova Scotia and the oldest Master Mason in Massachusetts. Our Montreal correspondent who furnished the item states that races have been rained out in Quebec but he hopes that better weather will be arriving soon.

Another clipping has reference to the La Chute, P. Q. fair which is one of the biggest in Canada. The judge said at its conclusion: "We have seen some of the world's finest horses in this show." He awarded 24 first ribbons out of 26 possible to the horses owned by Gilbert Arnold of Arnoldwood Farm, Grenville, Que. in the heavy horse judging.

The sympathy of all horsemen will go out to Rupe Allen of Halifax in the loss of his well known trotter Teddy Hanover 2:09 1-2. Teddy raced on the Nova Scotia circuit and at Charlottetown in the 2:18 class trot Old Home Week won the first heat in 2:18 1-2. George Mac winning the next in 2:20. High Tide the third in 2:17. Then the three heat winners went out and High Tide finished first, George Mac second, Teddy Hanover third. Other horses in that race were Beaverdale, Kelly's Nightmare, Buddy Moko, Eva Worthy—a real good field of trotters.

We are pleased to present to our horsemen friends the complete list of entries in the Victoria Driving Club Stakes. These are for purses of $350.00 with nomination fee added and should average from $500. to $800. Over 90 per cent of the original entries came through to the finish. Great credit must be given to Secretary A. B. Cutcliffe for the immense amount of time and effort he has put into securing entries and doing the clerical work in connection with them.

Rovers And Legion Clash Tomorrow In City League Game

At present tied for the league lead, Rovers and Legion meet at the Park diamond tomorrow afternoon in a crucial City Baseball League encounter that should go a long way in deciding just which squad are to be top dogs when the first section is completed.

Break'g men in two previous meetings, both camps were confident of emerging the winners in tomorrow's tussle and while manager Freddie Whalen hasn't divulged his pitching choice, it is likely that manager Had McInnis of the Legion will send his ace portside "Lefty" McAlee to the hill in an attempt to subdue the Rovers' bats for the second straight time.

The game will get underway at 2:30 sharp.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF SPORTING SUPPLIES

OTTAWA, June 20—(CP)—Foreign Trade, Trade Department publication for manufacturers and exporters, today gave this bird's-eye view of some summer sporting supplies:

Fishing tackle—some 60 Canadian firms producing fishing tackle of one kind or another.

Tennis balls—in good supply. Canada now produces balls of pre-war quality with natural rubber centres.

Tennis, badminton and squash racquets—in good supply.

Badminton shuttlecocks—in fair supply.

Whoever was right in the argument about the long fly that hit the oil truck at the high school grounds Monday evening, the game should have gone on. Tell the umpire what you think of him, if you must; play the game under protest if you are not satisfied; but keep on playing at all costs. When you refuse to continue you are not taking a snap at the opposing team, or the umpire; you are hitting the fan behind the screen who is footing the bills, and that should never happen. Pandemonium can be pretty fierce at best, but you are certainly asking for trouble when you cut off his entertainment without consulting him. How long would the theatre manager last if he stopped a show occasionally with two or three reels to go? Wednesday evening's game was the best played one of the season and some of the fans expressed keen disappointment at its untimely end.

Harness racing enthusiasts who went their way to the Summerside Trotting Park July 1st and 2nd will find a lot of improvements effected there. The management, Gaudet and Guergis, are to be congratulated for the transformation they have made in the track itself and in the surroundings in general.

Seven games have been played in the Summerside Baseball League and no one has pulled out a home run to date. While it is going to be pretty difficult to hit for the circuit at the high school diamond, just to add a bit of interest why doesn't some merchant offer a prize of some kind to the player who hits the first home run. There would be some lusty old cuts at the apple, we wager, in an endeavour to gain the prize.

One of the most attractive features of baseball is the sudden way in which situations can change. There was a striking example in the last game between the Legion and Kinsmen. It was the sixth inning. The Kinsmen were at bat, the score was six to nil against them, but there were Kinsmen perched on second and third base, only one was out and Gay was at bat. He lined a beautiful drive towards a hole between third and short and the runners were on their way. For a breathless split second it looked like two runs for the Kinsmen, but Underwood, Legion third baseman, flashed from nowhere, caught the line drive and without slackening his speed ran to second base completing the double play unassisted. It is such plays as this that make baseball the game it is.
