WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off—
Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

CANADIAN MUSEUM ON SPOT WHERE MERCER FELL AT YPRES

BRUSSELS, Sept. 30.—The Minister of the Interior declared in the Chamber of Deputies that in concert with the British authorities, it had been judged desirable to keep the Cloth Market, Cathedral, and adjacent houses at Ypres in their present state. The Government had agreed to the request of Canada that the emplacement where General Mercer fell should be allotted to it with a view to the erection of a museum on the spot. The ground would be expropriated, falling a friendly arrangement with the owner.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBERT W. BROWN

At the home of his son-in-law, Conductor Geo. S. Tanton, of St. Amands, on September 22nd Robert W. Brown at the age of 88 years passed peacefully into rest. He is survived by a widow and two sons and one daughter in whose home the aged parents have received the most kindly and loving attention. For many years he had been a member of the Baptist Church in this city. In early life he did not have the opportunity to secure an education but at the advanced age of seventy learned to read and has since then read his Bible through seventeen times. In the absence of the pastor the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Glendinning of the First Methodist Church.

JAMES McQUARRIE

There passed peacefully away at his home on Park Street, on Sept. 13th, James McQuarrie aged 80 years. For several years he had been confined to his house or just able to get to the door for a few days in summer. He is survived by his wife who has tenderly cared for him through his long illness. He was a member of the Baptist Church in this city and until failing health made it impossible he was a regular attendant at the services. Although long deprived of the privilege of attending the services he maintained his interest in the welfare of the Church until the last. In the absence of the pastor from the city the funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. R. Bell, of North River.

JAS. WARREN HOWATT.

Who departed this life, Sept. 13th, in his eighty-fourth year. Born at Tryon West in the home where he resided till death removed him. He was a strong robust man in his younger days and enjoyed good health till the past two years when he began to fail. He was genial and hospitable to his home always ready and willing to assist materially in every good cause. An industrious and prosperous farmer, a kind and loving father and husband, and is survived by an invalid widow, four sons and three daughters, namely Mrs. J. H. Lee, Boston; Mrs. Frank Howatt, Cape Traverse; Mrs. Minie Knight, Tryon; Harry, Arlington, Mass.; John, Albro, Bruce, of Tryon, the latter the homestead. Mr. Howatt bore his last sickness with a spirit of resignation to the Master's will and passed peacefully away. The service at the house and grave was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hubley, assisted by Rev. Mr. MacKay, the remains were followed by a large concourse of friends and relatives to the Tryon Cemetery, where interment took place. The pall bearers being: Russell Howatt, Louis Howatt, Samuel Holland, Howley Leard, Stelford Mullin, Smith Leard.

MERIT IN DORSETS.

One of the most interesting of the many problems that command the attention of an agricultural journal field-man is to note the degree of success or failure that attends the advent of the business man in the livestock breeding game. It was the writer's privilege a short time ago to make a critical survey of the splendid flock of horned Dorset sheep, owned by Mr. W. J. Elliott, of Kingsville, Ont. Mr. Elliott took to sheep breeding because of an innate love of the breed, and as a mind-diverger from the arduous duties incidental to the principalship of Kingsville Public School. He chose Dorsets, because in them he saw a proficiency of production equalled by no other breed, and firmly believing that "like begets like," he selected as breeding ewes only those that were twins, and whether that had anything to do with it or not, every one of those ewes has twins this year, sired by an imported Falmore-bred ram that has to his credit second prize at Toronto. For this fall's service Mr. Elliott secured an exceptionally nice-balanced Tranquility-bred lamb. He is three-quarter-bred in the blood of that famous strain, and his remarkable merit should prove a splendid success on the big, well-bred ewes. In Mr. Elliott's advertisement he is offering a number of right nice ram-lambs, some of them making the phenomenal growth of 88 pounds when 87 days old.

years, but he was always able to be about his work, and nothing serious was thought of until Sunday, September 14th, when he became alarmingly ill. On Tuesday, Sept. 16th, Dr. Ross was summoned from Charlottetown, and on Thursday he was taken to the P. E. I. Hospital, where all that medical aid and tender care could do was done for him, but of no avail, for God had willed it otherwise, and his spirit passed to the Great Beyond on Sunday, Sept. 21.

From his early boyhood he had been a prosperous fisherman, and for the past three years he had conducted a business for the Gorton Pew Fisheries Co., at Basin Head, which duties he capably performed until about two weeks previous to his death. It can well be said that Mr. Robertson's friends were many and his enemies few.

There are left to mourn the irreplaceable loss the following sons and daughters—Lester, of Red Point; James of Kingsboro; Jack, Willie, Eddie, Alvin, Fulton and Robbie at home, Mrs. Harry Bruce of Red Point; Olive and Hilda at home, and Lydia of Kingsboro; also four brothers and two sisters.

The funeral, which took place on Monday, was very largely attended, testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held by both old and young. A very impressive funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. MacWalker. The six oldest sons of the deceased acted as pall-bearers. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.
