MAN'S SEAT UNOCCUPIED AT LIBERAL RALLY

The widely advertised appearance of Hon. J. L. Ralston Dominion Finance Minister at a Liberal meeting at the Sirand Theatre Thursday night where Mr. Ralston spoke for an hour and ten minutes on behalf of the Liberal party, was a surprise to many of the candidates, Messrs. Douglas and Macmillan.

The majority of the seats in the first two rows in the hall remained unoccupied during the meeting.

Mr. Ralston was there at any time much enthusiasm shown by way of applause.

The candidates and Hon. J. P. McInyre, who followed Mr. Ralston on the platform.

Dr. I. J. Yeo, president of the Queens County Liberal Association, presided.

The address of Mr. Douglas, the first speaker was practically a repetition of his previous radio speeches. He stressed the alleged advantages of the U. S. trade agreement, commended the Government's war effort and lauded Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

He was courteous to those whose words could always be trusted.

Mr. McInyre Answered

Limited to fifteen minutes, Hon. Mr. McInyre, who followed Mr. Ralston, pointed out that he could hardly get across in that time.

By giving the King Government's record he said he had the Bennett Government in perspective.

"Did that Government give satisfaction?" he asked in rhetorical tones. "Yes," came an equally vigorous vocalized answer.

Black surprise was registered in the faces of assembled stalwarts on the platform.

Dr. C. W. Macmillan asked Mr. McInyre after a pained silence, "Then you shouldn't have put it out."

He boasted that in this Province the Liberal Party had the support of the majority of the people.

He quoted from Dr. Manion's book "The Last Adventure" and said Dr. Manion had formerly supported the Liberal Party.

He predicted the Liberals would win the same speech as ever with four representatives from this Province.

Dr. Macmillan

Dr. C. W. Macmillan said the campaign would go on as a historic event because it was the most momentous election since confederation and because it had been characterized by a number of new and evasive of the real issues of the part of government critics.

The winning of the war should be the result of only one consideration, he said.

He defended the Government's war efforts at some length.

He returned to the connection with the Duncan Commission and Fisheries Commission in regard to the latter industry he said the present cabinet of objects in the British market is not lifted and if new markets are not found, the Government would be in a very tight position.

The Liberal candidate did not state on whose authority this election campaign was being made.

HON. MR. RALSTON

Mr. Ralston confessed it was the first meeting he had ever attended in Charlottetown. He had had a strenuous time during the last few days. "You people can work a man when you get him, and I have had my share of that," he said.

He mentioned the meetings at Summerside, Tisbury, St. Louis, Alberton and O'Leary, and I am afraid I am going to have to impose on you very heavily in the same speech that I made on those occasions."

He asked his audience to imagine how "bored and fed up" they would have been in the present three months of parliamentary debate. Premier King, he maintained, had done "a wise and courageous thing" in dissolving Parliament.

He complained of Dr. Manion's strong language in criticizing the Government, also of the promises he was making to the electors.

The issues in the present campaign, he said, are: (1) Who can best influence all parts of Canada to pull together, and (2) Who can best use the united strength of the party to make the most vigorous effort in connection with the prosecution of the war.

He lauded Mackenzie King's "brilliantness" in getting increased defense appropriations before the war started. Mr. King had achieved national unity, he said, by "conciliation, patience and tolerance." Messrs. Lapointe, Cardin, Power and Michaud were eulogized for their participation in the Quebec election campaign. Dr. Manion had not done so, he said, "raised his voice" on that occasion.

Looking over the list of National Government candidates, Mr. Ralston said he "failed to see any difference" between those who would have been nominated had the name National Government never been invented. The contents of a package could not be changed by altering the label, he said, "and you have got to have something more than a christening ceremony before you can regenerate a man and change his politics."

Says Opposition Necessary

In English, he said "they talk about National Government, but how many Liberals and Labor men are supporters of National Government at the present time? There is a bright situation here of Opposition and Government. There was necessary, he continued, in order (1) to ensure to the government in power a sufficient majority in the House of Commons, and (2) that there may be "a check and curb of Opposition criticism and enquiry so

Dr. Macdonald Scores Heavily At Souris Meeting

Liberal Candidate For King's On The Run As Campaign Nears Close.

An overwhelming triumph for the National Government candidate, Dr. A. A. Macdonald, was scored at the Souris meeting on Wednesday night. Standing room was at a premium in the large hall as the electors gathered from miles around to hear the issues discussed. The chairman was Mr. T. J. Kieckhafer.

The Liberal candidate Dr. T. V. Grant had fought all night as the electors hurriedly asked questions at him. He became peevish at one of his questioners and demanded that the man be ejected and went on a "sit down strike" to enforce his demands. During his rebuttal speech most of the large crowd were wending their way home and only a handful remained in the hall. Those who remained were watching a "small riot" which had broken out at the back of the building.

Mr. F. MacPhee M. L. A., spoke in support of the National Government candidate while Senator John E. Sinclair supported the Liberal.
