"THE LATE GEORGE APLEY" AT CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE

WINDSOR, Ont. - (CP) - A thief with an eye for sartorial elegance restricted his haul of theft to part of a morning suit, several pairs of well-cut trousers, a gold stick-pin, a watch and a few other items when he burgled a home here recently.

CHAIN LETTERS AGAIN OWEN SOUND, Ont. - (CP) - "Good luck" chain letters are going the rounds in this Bruce Peninsula town. Authorities are afraid the post office may be swamped with the worthless missives, which call on the recipient to send out five copies or be plagued by bad luck.

LESS TIME, MORE WORK For the first 17 weeks following the introduction of the five-day week in Britain in May, 1947, 875,300 tons more coal were produced than in the same period in 1946.

As all who have read the prize-winning story or who have seen the successful Broadway stage adaptation must know, "The Late George Apley" tells the story of a staid Boston family for whom the spotting of the year's first robin in the Commons is an event of unsurpassable excitement. But even in the town where the Cabots speak only to the Lodges, romance cannot be stifled. And when the impetuous daughter of the almost professionally conservative Mr. Apley falls in love with a so-called radical professor (practically a "foreigner" since he wasn't born in Boston), ornithology is forgotten while the family enjoys its orris.

Ronald Colman's portrayal is sheer delight. As the staid, prim and circumspect George Apley, to whom sex is, if anything, merely a word to be consigned to its proper place in the dictionary, he provides the most engaging performance of his career. Moviegoers will not soon forget his frantic joust with the world outside his own of birds and bees.

Death Sunday Of Wilfred Gallant Of Summerside

The death occurred on Sunday night at his home on East Street, Summerside of Wilfred Gallant in his 56th year. He had been convalescing after a serious operation which he underwent during December and although his condition during the past few weeks did not improve his sudden death came as a great shock to a large number of friends in Summerside.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Gallant, Summerside, and a valued employee of James Arthur and Co. A lifelong resident of the town, he took an active part during his life in many of the social and sport activities in Summerside. He was an active supporter of hockey in past years and was at one time a valued member of the Crystal Rink Hockey Club. Possessed of a fine singing voice he was for some years associated with St. Paul's Choir and will be remembered by an older generation as a popular entertainer in the old Happyland Theatre where he delighted audiences as a singer of popular songs of the day.

He is survived by his wife, the former Nellie Gallant of Wellington, five daughters, Mrs. Harold Arsenault, Isabel, Howland, Mrs. George Peters, Inez, Summerside, Elaine, Della and Phyllis at home and two sons, Robert and Allan at home. He was predeceased by two other sons, Hubert and Harold.

Also surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Arthur and Renée of Summerside, Mrs. Herbert A. Spray, Inez, Keyport, N.J., Mrs. H. W. Young, Euphemia, Jersey City, and Mrs. Stanley Dawson, Della, Summerside.

The funeral will be held from his late residence at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning to St. Paul's Church and St. Paul's Cemetery in Summerside.-S.

Stresses Need Of Fisheries To Further Aid

Suggestions for improvement of conditions in the fisheries industry were made in the Legislature last week by Mr. Joseph H. Richard, one of the Liberal members for the First District of Prince, in speaking on the draft act.

The fishermen of his district, Mr. Richard said, are handicapped by lack of refrigeration. There is a time in the months of July and August when bait is not obtainable. The fishermen have to land their gear and look for employment elsewhere. "If we had two central plants, at Summerside and Charlottetown, especially for bait, or brine freezers in every little harbor and fishing centre, I think it would do away with a lot of this trouble. A lot of fish we have to import from Nova Scotia and elsewhere could be landed here at our plants, and we would be buying from our own people."

This Province requires trade and industry, Mr. Richard emphasized. The people in his district depend not so much on farming as fishing. They were however, interested in developing the processing of vegetables and small fruits. If central plants for this purpose could be established at Summerside and O'Leary, this would give employment and would benefit a great many people.

On the question of immigration, Mr. Richard thought the present time inopportune for an extended policy in this connection. "Our Province has a surplus of labour at the present time," he said. "We have men at the employment offices every day looking for work, and what we have to get here is more industries."

Rural Electrification Electrification, he said, is greatly needed in the rural areas. In First Prince, there are two plants in operation, Mr. Gordon's at Alberton and Mr. Champion's at O'Leary. In the latter case, if assistance could be obtained, Mr. Champion could extend his line to a distance of about three miles, which would connect with the main highway. The line would then be ready for the power when it goes through. The people of Unionville are very much in its favor, and will invest a certain amount of money in the project, but they would like also to get assistance from the Government.

Mr. Richard emphasized the need for obtaining markets for Island fish, and urged the establishment of a Marketing Board. "In the Spring, when the fishing season opens," he said, "we have a lot of fish that is practically of no use. It has to be salted in barrels, and it is then not good for human consumption. If this fish were canned properly, inspected and shipped to European countries it would provide a badly needed outlet."

He urged every member to give support to the proposal to establish a ferry service between West Point and Buctouche.

Sport Echoes from Prince County

In the last issue of our column we said that it would probably be a toss-up between West Kent and Summerside High as far as the interscholastic championship contention was concerned. We've seen another game between these two school teams and we'd like to retract that statement. The way we see it now, if it's a toss-up it will probably be one of those "head," Summerside High wins, tall, West Kent loses" things. Certainly the two teams that battled it out at the Crystal Rink Friday night didn't appear to be very evenly matched. Granted that the local goals were very very good and that the visiting goalie was having himself an off night as the best of goalers sometimes do, the Prince County school boys were still ahead of their rivals by a fairly large margin. Their smooth passing plays as they swept over the blue-line looked as good, if not better, than anything we've seen in the Crystal Rink this winter. Those boys in a couple of years are going to be members of the best team Summerside has had in a decade if they are still in the Prince County capital by that time.

The West Kent boys, however, have a reputation for fighting their way back into the argument after everybody has given them up. That's what they did against Queen Square this year, and if our memory serves us right, in one or two past years as well. If we have to reverse our opinion once more we'll probably be known as the "whirling dervish" of sport prophecy but we'll take a chance anyway. Summerside High looks to us to be the coming champions of ice hockey in interscholastic circles for the year 1948! There, we have said it. Please bear in mind that we didn't say water polo. If the championships are held after the robins begin to give their mating calls, you can consider this prophecy as null and void.

The Summerside All-Stars lost to St. Dunstan's at the Charlottetown Forum last Friday night, but they won back quite a bit of their lost respect from the Charlottetown fans. They were a much different band of pucksters than the crew that lost to the fast university sextet by the overwhelming score of 15 to 0. They're not as good as the St. Dunstan's team. We admit that. But they were never as bad as that lop-sided score would seem to indicate. As they stand now they are capable of putting up an interesting argument against any one team that Charlottetown has today. When and if Charlottetown puts all their teams together into one All-Star aggregation, that's something else again, but the local boys will still be in there punching. We have a feeling that the Island intermediate finals will be an epic struggle.

We understand the Summerside Flying Hearts, leaders in the South Shore League, folded their wings and walked off the Bedeque ice recently. Tut, tut, Flying Hearts!

All sport fans in Summerside will be waiting anxiously for reports from Calgary where our Summerside curling entry is to be in action against Canada's best this week. The results will be broadcast over CBA. It must be remembered that an Island entry has never done better than winning three games out of nine in the MacDonald Brier Cup competition. More than once they have lost all nine matches so we must not expect too much of the Hayes-skipped rink. Teams from Southern and Northern Ontario are represented and the other eight provinces make up the total of ten.

We'd like to pay a little tribute to the defence work of Junior Waite of the Summerside High School and Kinsmen Juvenile teams here. Like Lou Gehrig whose value was overshadowed because he was playing on the same team as the great Babe Ruth, Waite's performance has not been talked about because he is teamed with the brilliant Bobby Gay. But Junior is doing a first-rate job behind the blue-line and Friday night, in addition to his defensive chores got himself a goal and two assists.

Carl Woodside who sniped two of the four goals scored against the St. Dunstan's team Friday night is another player whose ability is sometimes underestimated. Some of the so-called experts thought that Woodside couldn't make the All-Star team at the beginning of the year, but Carl has been one of the most valuable forwards on the team all season. It's regrettable to say that Woodside seems to enjoy sitting beside the fellow with the stopwatch, and the fans like to play that phase of his playing up, forgetting often that he gets his share of scores and is a good defensive player when he sticks to hockey. After all, the bad men of hockey are by no means always the least effective. "Mooney" Gallant, the only player on the Summerside team who visits the timbers more often than Woodside, is another extremely effective player, as was Red Horner on the old Maple Leafs, and as is Jack Stewart of the present day Detroit Red Wings.
