FIRST GUN FIRED TODAY IN VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Prince Edward Islanders attention! We can and must stand shoulder to shoulder with the other Provinces of the Dominion in doing our duty, by helping the Government finance Canada's share in crushing the German menace. Each Province should be looked upon as a Reserve Depot in this great war and the best message of encouragement we can send the boys at the front, is that we are prepared to back them up to the full limit of our resources.

The success of the Victory Loan is vital to the well being of every man, woman and child in the Dominion. In subscribing for Victory Bonds, however, no one is asked to make any sacrifice, but merely to loan all the money he or she can command, to the Government. It is an investment with the best security and with the high interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent. Let everyone in P. E. I. take an active interest not only in subscribing for Victory Bonds themselves but in persuading others to invest as well. The voluntary co-operation of all citizens is asked for, as the campaign lasts only a few weeks and the Provincial Executive are anxious that no person in the Province shall be able to say they were not given an opportunity to invest in Victory Bonds. Canada has sounded a call to all citizens that the war may be carried on to victory and lasting peace. Every $50.00 Victory Bond sold is a step nearer to peace. This is a war in which resources are a determining factor as well as men. Everyone can help win the war—buy Victory Bonds. All can help avert hard times—buy Victory Bonds. Make your money fight—buy Victory Bonds.

MANY SURPRISES IN THE GUARDIAN'S CAMPAIGN STANDING

Some Of The Candidates Made Quite A Jump
In Their Vote Count.

Another announcement of the standing of the candidates will be published in the Thursday issue of the Guardian, so it will be a good idea for some of the candidates to send in their subscriptions so that their names will be among the leaders when that list is published.

A number of new aspirants have entered the field, and some of those that were down in the list have mounted several rungs up the ladder of success.

Not Too Late.

A number of men and women are anxious to enroll and become candidates, but they fear it is too late to win a prize. One lady said she never liked to go into anything in which there was a probability of being defeated and she feared the campaign had been running too long for her. No greater mistake could be made than to think it ever too late to enter the campaign, for if you are a hustler you will need more than half or a third as much time as some other people. If you have a large number of friends, either here or elsewhere, and you will let them know you intend going into the campaign in earnest and you want their assistance, you will be pretty apt to receive all the aid you need. So if you have been waiting too much time had elapsed, make yourself easy on that point and enroll today and go to work with the leaders and even outclass them. Up to this time no great amount of work has been done by any candidate, but things are beginning to warm up and if you want to be in the race be certain to enroll immediately.

Those candidates that have started their campaign for votes and have not obtained the instant co-operation of their friends, as they expected, should not be discouraged in this, the very beginning of the race. They will begin to find if they carefully look over the list of the ones near the top, that those are the candidates who visit or write the campaign department the most often and talk over the prospect and get advice and suggestions from the campaign manager.

Stick-to-it-iveness properly applied, is the word to let sink into your efforts and the results will be manifold before the campaign is many days old.

CAN BE REGISTERED

The Prime Minister of Canada has issued the new instructions in connection with the Victory Bonds.

These will be of much benefit to small investors.

He has decided to grant the privilege of registration of all bonds.

That is to say, that bonds of all denominations, including $50 bond, may be registered, as to principal and as to principal and interest.

In previous loans the privilege of registration was necessarily confined to bonds of the larger denominations, such as $1,000 bonds or more.

Bonds of the lower denominations were issued as bearer bonds, with coupons attached, and while carrying equal benefits as to principal and interest, were liable to being lost by the owners.

KERENSKY HAS ARRIVED AT GENERAL HEADQUARTERS

He Has 200,000 Who are Devoted to Him. Cossacks and Maximalists Mastering the Bolsheviki in Street Battle.

(Canadian Press Despatch) PARIS, Nov. 11.—Premier Kerensky, who escaped from Petrograd on the night of November 6 in an automobile ambulance, and who arrived safely at general headquarters, now has 200,000 men devoted to him, according to a wireless message from Haparanda, Sweden, which escaped the Leninite censorship. The wireless despatch says the latest news from Petrograd is that Cossacks, aided by Maximalists, are mastering the Bolsheviki in a street battle.

(Canadian Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 11.—Premier Kerensky's troops have occupied the wireless station, according to a wireless despatch sent from Petrograd by the Committee for saving the country and the revolution. The rebels are said to be retiring in disordered mobs on Petrograd. BOLSHEVIKI MOVEMENT NEARING COLLAPSE. Premier Kerensky is said to be approaching Petrograd and to have established communication with loyal forces, which already are engaged in attacks on the Bolsheviki in the capital. A wireless despatch from Russia says the collapse of the Bolsheviki movement is only matter of days or even hours.

The revolt against the Bolsheviki in Petrograd is increasing. In Moscow the Red Guard has been defeated. Premier Kerensky will approach Petrograd towards evening today.

PASSCHENDAELE NOW SECURE

(Canadian Press Despatch) BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN BELGIUM, Nov. 11.—The British carried out yesterday, a small but important operation north and northwest of Passchendaele, whereby the salients about Passchendaele and Goeburg were widened, giving the British a firm grip on their conquest positions on the northern crest of the ridge. The advance was over a 2,500 yard front, and the extreme depth reached was about eight hundred yards. The attack was carried out with the precision which has marked all the recent British moves in Flanders. At an early hour, it was reported that not only had the objectives been reached, but some of the men had even gone beyond them northward, along the ridge.

Two positions north of Mosselmarkt were still holding out at latest reports, although the British were reported to have pushed beyond both those places, leaving them to be mopped up by the reserves. North of Goeburg, there were several strong concentrated positions, and fighting was proceeding between the British and the defenders, who were holding out stubbornly. Here also the British advanced line was beyond all these strongholds. One point had been stormed and captured twice by the British and twice they had withdrawn before counter-attacks before noon.

NO ATTEMPT BY GERMANS TO RETAKE PASSCHENDAELE. (Canadian Press Despatch) LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Germans have made no attempt to capture the ground yesterday by the British on the Flanders front, says the statement issued today. The statement follows: "A heavy rain has fallen during the night. The enemy's artillery has been active against our positions at Passchendaele and the ground captured by the British and the British have no further infantry action has taken place. We carried out a successful raid last night northwest of Warmenton."

VIOLENT ATTACK BY GERMANS REPULSED. PARIS, Nov. 11.—A German attack in the Vosges near Hartmannsweilerkopf, resulted in a violent engagement last night. The War Office announces that the Germans were repulsed completely. Another attack at Reichenkrook also was without success.

FRENCH REPEL ATTACKS AT OISE CANAL. (Canadian Press Despatch) PARIS, November 10.—The official announcement by the War Office tonight on the campaign reads: "The artillery fighting was quite active in the region of the Oise Canal. On the right bank of the Meuse there was spirited infantry fighting. After several counter attacks our troops re-established their positions. The cannonade was intermittent on the rest of the front."

BRITISH BATTERIES NOW WITH ITALIANS

(Canadian Press Despatch) ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS, November 10.—British batteries have taken their position along the front line, prepared to give support to the heroic services heretofore chiefly borne by the Italian rear guards in the effort to stay the Austro-German advance. The reformation of the Italian army along the established positions is progressing, in good order, and there has been material change in the situation from the past day or two. The agreement for a central military council for the entire Western front for the first time recognizes and incorporates the Italian as part of the Western front, thus determining the Italian front as a separate entity. It also established separate control, in which not only the French but the British have a voice in the Italian campaign, but Italy has a voice in the French and British campaign.

Italian Press Cries For Speedy Succor

ROME, Nov. 8.—Commenting on Italy's needs in the present critical situation, the Popolo Romano urges sufficient help from the United States. If help is to come for that source now, it says, is resisting and will resist, but she must have assistance, and that, in certain lines in order to be effective, as without grain and coal, abundantly supplied, she cannot win.

The newspaper declares that Italy's bread question has never been understood abroad. Her population, it points out, lives largely upon bread, and she needs 17,000,000 quarters of wheat to supply this demand. It also urges that 100,000 tons of shipping in addition to the present supply is not enough. "It is time that the Allies quit making such mistakes as at the Dardanelles and in the Balkans," it adds, "and finally understands the importance of Italy's front."

Alluding to the seriousness of the threat against Italy, David Lubin, representative of the United States, at the International Institute of Agriculture, said today:

"Perhaps it will prove a good thing, that the Austro-German invasion certainly has stirred up the patriotism of Italians as I never dreamed it possible. Also it will show the Allies the need of haste to combat the Austro-German plans to defeat Italy separately now that Russia is not to be relied upon and also before the United States troops arrived in the spring. It is an important fact that the Austrians and Germans are horribly short of food for the civilian population and that they must attack and naturally have done so at the weakest point."

G.T.P. STEAMER ASHORE ISLAND SOLDIERS IN CASUALTY LIST

(Canadian Press Despatch) A PACIFIC PORT, Nov. 11.—The Grand Trunk Pacific steamer, Prince John is ashore, according to reports here today.

40TH ANNIVERSARY OF GRACE CHURCH

Very interesting and profitable were the services held in connection with the 40th anniversary of Grace Church yesterday. The preacher for the occasion was Rev. M. H. Barraclough, B. A. of Moncton. Large congregations were present both morning and evening. In the morning service the text was Phil. 4:13. "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." In choice, eloquent and forceful language he portrayed the possibility of service when linked by a living faith to the divine power of the Almighty.

The subject for evening was "Somewhere in France." The text, taken from John 15:13-14: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends, ye are my friends." The self-sacrificing spirit displayed by those who at the call of King and country, have gone to "Somewhere in France" was dealt upon. The necessity for the censoriousness of those who are ship which gives those who are anxious about their loved ones of much unrest, and at times resentment was defended. For the comfort of those whose loved ones have made the Supreme Sacrifice, the magnificence of their service, the sublimity of their death and the greatness of the cause in which they fell were dealt upon. Drawing lessons from the service rendered by these noble ones the speaker spoke of the mother in the home—the teacher in the school—the medical practitioner in his round of ministry—the toiler amongst the worthy poor and exhorted his hearers to have a kind appreciation of their efforts and a more sympathetic attitude toward them. In a truly eloquent peroration he urged his hearers to come into a living relationship with the Christ, which will make live the well-spring of their lives, love of God and love of their fellow creatures.

Rev. Mr. Barraclough, whose sermons were so much enjoyed yesterday will lecture in the Church this evening at 8 o'clock, on South Africa. The lecture will be illustrated with upwards of one hundred views. There should be a full house.

DEATH ON THE FIRING LINE WORTH IT A THOUSAND TIMES

As an illustration of the lofty sentiments possessed by men who die on the European battlefields in the war for democracy and a reminder for Canadians who may be backward in contributing to Canada's Victory Loan we are publishing the last letter written by Captain Tupper of the Canadian Scottish Sixteenth Battalion to his father, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, before his death at the battle of Vimy Ridge last April. The soldier writes: "My Dear Father—I am writing one of these 'in case' letters for the third time, and of course I hope you will never have to read it. If you are reading it now, you will know that your youngest son 'went under' as proud as Punch on the most glorious day of his life. I am taking my company over the top for a mile in the biggest push that has ever been launched in the world, and I trust that it is going to be the greatest factor towards peace.

"Dad, you can't imagine the wonderful feeling; a man feels something like this: Well, if I am going to die, this is worth it a thousand times. I have been over two or three times before, but never with a company of my own.

"Think of it—a hundred and fifty officers and men who go through hell if need be.

DO NOT BE SORRY.

"I don't want any of you dear people to be sorry for me, although of course you will, in a way. You will miss me, but you will be proud of me, mind you. I know what I am up against and that the odds are against me. . . . I am not going in the way I did the first time—just for sheer devilment and curiosity. I have seen this game for two years and I still like it, and feel that my place is here.

"So much for that. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for all your loving kindnesses to me. This war has done wonders to me and makes me realize lots of things I would not have done otherwise. I could write a book about it, but you know what I mean, dad.

"Goodbye, dear father and mother, and all of you. Again I say that I am proud to be where I am now."

WARNING TO DEFAULTERS

After November 10th, all men in Class One, who failed to Report for Service, or claim exemption, are absentees, without leave. The status of such defaulters and those who have complied with the requirements of the Proclamation of October 12th, is entirely different. It is permitted for such defaulters to first surrender themselves to the civil or military authorities and afterwards claim exemption, through the District Officer Commanding, providing they have not been convicted under the Military Service Act. They will, however, serve with the respective units to which they are attached pending the disposition of their claim. Absentees may be arrested with or without a warrant. Leniency will be shown by those in authority to absentees who voluntarily surrender themselves and are placed in civil or military custody in as much as they will not be prosecuted under the Act. Men who are arrested by the Civil Police will be handed over to the military authorities and will be dealt with according to the regulations. It is not the desire of the Registrar to deal harshly with men who have failed to report for Service or claim exemption, but ring-leaders in contumacy, and those who seek to evade their responsibilities are most urgently needed to save the honour of Canada, will be arrested and dealt with according to the exigencies of their respective cases. If any persons have unintentionally neglected to report for service or claim exemption by the night of November 10th it will be necessary to surrender themselves to the military or civil authorities at once to avoid prosecution. On the other hand men who have not reported for service or claimed exemption and who will not surrender themselves voluntarily to the authorities, will if convicted under the Military Service Act, be refused permission to claim exemption after such conviction.

HOW MANY PLEASE?

This is the first day of Canada's Victory Loan.

Presently a Victory Loan canvasser will be calling on YOU.

Don't tell him to come back again. That mean one LESS visit he can make on other people.

Do not hesitate, wondering whether you will buy Victory Bonds or not.

All you need decide is this: "HOW MANY?"

If you cannot wait for the canvasser, come down town and place your application with any of the bond brokers. Make it a big one. Remember you may pay by instalments.
