MONTAGUE, SOURIS and KING'S COUNTY

...It pays to buy in this Province. T. P. Riely, Dundas, is making preparations to erect a new dwelling house.

The Guardian regrets to report the continued illness of Mrs. Charles Clay, Dundas.

A pie-social will be held in St. Margaret's hall on Thursday, Feb. 23. Proceeds in aid of hall.

An Alliston correspondent has sent in a budget of unsigned news items which awaits his name.

The Baptist bazaar and entertainment held in the Town Hall, Georgetown, on the 16th inst., was a grand success. The proceeds were beyond expectations.

A correspondent from Montague says:—The farmers of this vicinity are busily engaged sowing their spring seed. Edward Hackett and Sam McLeod spent Sunday in Montague Head. Dan A. McPherson paid a visit to Montague Head. Alex. Bruce is doing a rushing business in his old blacksmith shop.

Quite a number of the young people are confined to their homes with measles. Miss Barbara Bruce paid a visit to Victoria Cross. Dan McDonald and Dan McLean paid a visit to Valleyfield recently. Alex. J. McLean is busily engaged working in his sawmill. The mail-carrier, Jim Mark, has proved to be the right man in the right place. He is very prompt and obliging. The school in Montague Head has been closed for the last two weeks and our teacher, Miss Eva Moore, is spending her vacation with her parents in the Union Road. We are glad to see Eddie Reid back from Valleyfield. Miss Mary McLeod is visiting friends in Victoria Cross. Murdoch Munroe is busily engaged in sawing his winter wood with his new gasoline engine and hopes to make a great success in the future.

A Dundas correspondent writes:—Dr. J. A. Beaton, V.S., is having a busy season in his profession. The cold weather and hard roads have made a brisk season for our two street blacksmiths, Jas. McDonald and E. C. Turner, and for the shoemaker, Angus Beaton. The social and entertainment held under the auspices of Dalmeny Orange Lodge on the 9th of this month was, we think, satisfactory to the brethren of the Lodge and to the audience. L.J. Wigington presided and the program was as follows: Opening remarks, Chairman; chorus, "Maple Leaf Forever"; recitation, Arthur Ross; trio, "Old Black Joe"; recitation, Charles H. Howlett; speech, selected oration, John Bright's Speech on the Crimean War, George B. Currie; chorus, "Going Back to Dixie"; recitation, Arthur Ross; solo, Miss Ida Turner; recitation, Russett; Hunter's song, "Hunting Tower"; Miss Sadie McLeod and Walter Burdette (encores); speech on the life and works of Robert Burns, George E. Saville; song, "Oft in the Stilly Night"; recitation, George B. Currie; song, Herbert McLeod and Walter Burdette; recitation, Arthur Ross; reading, Malcolm Livingston; recitation, Walter Burdette; song, chorus, "Auld Lang Syne." At the close of the entertainment Cassius Clay proceeded to sell the baskets, which he did in a successful way, securing prices up to five dollars. The total receipts amounted to over $72.

Wallace McLeod of Albion Cross gave several selections on his graphophone, which added not a little to the enjoyment of the evening. The Misses Sadie and Emma McLeod were the organists. Malcolm Livingston has purchased the farm of Michael McDonald. We would like to see more young men follow Mr. Livingston's example, instead of devoting their energies and talents towards building up other parts of the world. The reciprocity agreement now before Parliament is generally conceded to be a good thing in this section of the Province. Archibald Gay is spending the winter here, after an absence of six months. Mr. Gay looks hale and hearty. We regret to hear that Dr. D.E. Morris has been ill, but we understand he is still able to continue his practice. W. J. Nicholson is, we have learned, planning to enlarge his barn next summer. Mr. Nicholson is one of our leading horsemen and his orchid is a credit to himself and to the community. We believe the marriage fever (if we may call it so) is not so high as it was a while ago, but we think the Rev. W. N. McLeod has likely married more couples than any other country minister in the Province during the past year, as he has married as many as three couples in one day.

"SLEEPLESSNESS."

Thousands of people all over this land toss night after night on a sleepless pillow. The eyes do not close in the refreshing slumber that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right.

Some are troubled with weak and smothering spells; others palpitation of the heart; others have their nerves unajined, but whatever the cause—it comes entirely from a derangement of either the heart or nerves, or both. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing slumber. They do this by their invigorating effect on the heart and nerves and will tone up the whole system to perfect condition.

Mr. H. Jewel, Keswick, Ont., writes: "I am glad to have the pleasure of telling you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I would have weak spells, seemed to lose my breath, and would have to get up in the night as I could not sleep. I tried many medicines but found nothing good until I used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took three boxes and it is three years ago that I did so, and I haven't been troubled since."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are, per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DR. PANTCHENKO AND DE LASSY FOUND GUILTY

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, Feb. 17—The sensational trial of Count Patrick Obrien De Lassy, Dr. Pantchenko and Mme. Muraviev, charged with the murder of Count Vassili Bouturlin came to an end last night, when a verdict of guilty was returned by the jury in the case of De Lassy and Pantchenko and not guilty in the case of the woman.

De Lassy was sentenced to penal servitude for life and Pantchenko to fifteen years imprisonment.

The jury noted extenuating circumstances in Pantchenko's favor which accounts for the lighter punishment meted out to him.

The trial aroused enormous interest and developed some startling testimony. Prior to the beginning of the proceedings Pantchenko made a confession in which he accused De Lassy of hiring him to poison Count Vassili who was heir to General Bouturlin's millions. De Lassy's wife is the daughter of General Bouturlin and the removal of Vassili would naturally mean that the General's great estate would go to his daughter.

On the witness stand Pantchenko denied the confession and made so many erratic statements that he came to be thought practically insane. Much evidence was adduced, however, to show that he and De Lassy had very intimate dealings together. At the end of the trial De Lassy was quite overcome. He attempted to make a speech to the jury but ended abruptly by saying: "I cannot talk. I leave the fate of myself and relatives to your minds and your hearts."

Pantchenko in an incoherent speech said that he did not repudiate his confession but wished to specify the degree of his guilt. He said that the question now was whether a Russian physician was capable of such a dastardly crime and to this he proudly answered No.

Petrovavlovsky, he declared, wishing fame, was the author of the poisoning story and a newspaper helped him. "De Lassy did exhort me to poison Bouturlin," continued Pantchenko and thinking that I had accidentally poisoned him I told the magistrate so. But this confession seemed too little for him. He continually drummed into my ears "confess, confess" and suggested various poisons. Finally, in a weak moment I told myself that if the truth doesn't serve then I will lie. I mentioned toxin. The magistrate then said "now we are going to be friends. Muraviev refused to say anything. The jury retired and remained out for three hours."

Mme. Muraviev refused to say anything. The jury retired and remained out for three hours.

A JACK THE HUGGER

AMHERST, Feb. 17—For sometime complaints have come to us from different sections of the town of a middle aged man respectably dressed who was in the habit of waylaying young girls says the news, and making improper advances to them. One rather serious case was reported to us last week and similarly actions from Lower Victoria Street and Russel Street.

On Tuesday night last, a young girl between twelve and thirteen, living on one of our quiet residential streets, went on an errand to a neighbor's house and on her way home she was accosted by a man who took her forcibly by the arm and dragged her several blocks. A woman appearing on the scene he let the girl go after making her promise to meet him on the following night. The girl, who lives with her aunt, reported the case and a trap was set for the man the following evening. The girl was sent out to keep the appointment and shortly after the man appeared and walked away with her. They were followed up Spring Street and the man was taken in charge by the friends of the girl and he was taken to her home and a police officer sent for. The man was then taken to the lock up and he turned out to be rather a well known citizen with a wife and several children. On the streets of his wife, the friends of the girl decided not to press any charge against him, but the police may be depended on to keep a sharp eye on him in the future.

oning story and a newspaper helped him. "De Lassy did exhort me to poison Bouturlin," continued Pantchenko and thinking that I had accidentally poisoned him I told the magistrate so. But this confession seemed too little for him. He continually drummed into my ears "confess, confess" and suggested various poisons. Finally, in a weak moment I told myself that if the truth doesn't serve then I will lie. I mentioned toxin. The magistrate then said "now we are going to be friends. Muraviev refused to say anything. The jury retired and remained out for three hours."

Mme. Muraviev refused to say anything. The jury retired and remained out for three hours.

Blood Humors

It is important that you should now rid your blood of those impure, poisonous, effete matters that have accumulated in it during the winter. The secret of the unequalled and really wonderful success of

as a remedy for Blood Humors is the fact that it combines, not simply sarsaparilla, but the utmost remedial values of more than twenty ingredients,—Roots, Barks and Herbs,—known to have extraordinary efficacy in purifying the blood and building up the whole system. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, no "just as good" medicine. Get Hood's today. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

Chronicle Publishing Co. Bonds

While it is possible to buy the bonds of recently merged corporations, and untried industrial companies on a six per cent. basis, it is unusual to be afforded an opportunity of buying the bonds of a concern that has made good in every sense of the word, upon such advantageous terms. Our offering of Chronicle Publishing Co six per cent. Bonds affords investors an opportunity of investing their money in a concern which really began business in 1842, and now publishes one weekly and two daily newspapers. These bonds are secured by a first mortgage upon assets valued at nearly four times the amount of the bond issue. While the bond issue calls for $5,000 a year for interest, the average annual net earnings of the Company, after making liberal allowances for depreciation, etc., were more than four and a half times this amount. The earnings for 1910 were the largest in the history of the business. Price 100 and interest yielding a full six per cent. on the money invested.
