

Was Subject to BRONCHITIS Every Winter

Mrs. Wm. Healey, 524 Hill Street, London, Ont., writes: "My daughter, aged fourteen, was subject to bronchitis every winter. She would cough until she was sore from the exertion. Last winter a friend advised me to get a bottle of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got a small bottle to try and was delighted to find that before she had taken half of it her cough was completely relieved. I certainly feel justified in recommending it to those suffering from coughs and colds. Price 35c a bottle, large family size 60c, put up only by The T. Millbrae Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FOR SALE

I offer my farm by private sale at Stanley Bridge up till Feb. 29, consisting of 100 acres of arable land, new home 56x30 pump for barn basement facing the south. Good out buildings and dwellings. 33 acres broken ready for crop.

JAMES E. HISCOTT, Stanley Bridge P. E. I. 2784-2-27-31

FOR SALE

Farm at St. Catharines, 95 acres of land with good buildings in high state of cultivation. Well watered, 70 acres clear, balance covered with old growth Hard and Softwood. Handy school and Churches. This is choice land for potato growing and handy shipping within 2 chains of West River Bridge. Apply to

LAURENCE KICKHAM New Haven. 2418-2-sw-61.

AUCTION SALE

I will sell by Public Auction on the premises at West River on Sat. March 3rd, at 2 p. m. the Manse property consisting of one acre of land, house and barn.

J. A. MacDONALD, Auctioneer. 2787-2-28-41

AUCTION SALE

ON MONDAY, MARCH 5th, 1928 At 12 o'clock, Sharp

Of Farm, Stock, Crop, Implements as follows: Farm consists of 140 acres of choice land, 125 acres clear and in good state of cultivation, comfortable farm buildings, fronting on East River only 5 miles from town, 1 mile from station, close to church and school. Ideal farm for potato growing, will be sold private up to the day of the sale, apply to owner on premises any time; also all my stock, crop, etc. as follows:

STOCK - 2 General Purpose Mares, 2 and 9 years old, 1 Fawn, 6 Head of Cattle, all young, 1 fresh, 5 fresh in April and May, 3 Young Cattle, 2 Calves, 70 Hens.

CROP - 200 bushels White Oats, 6 tons Hay, Straw, 200 bushels Irish Cobbles, 15 bushels Wheat.

ALL FARM IMPLEMENTS IN FIRST CLASS SHAPE - 1 Hay Loader Thrashing Outfit, Seed Drill, Sleighs, Truck Wagon, Driving Wagon, Single and Double Harness, Forks, Shovels, Hoes and lot of articles not mentioned. If stormy sale first fine day.

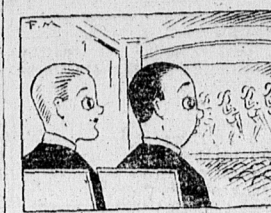

TERMS OF FARM AT SALE, OF STOCK, ETC., 9 months on all sums of $5.00, 6 per cent. off for cash.

Inspection of farm at any time. DUNCAN DARRACH, York, E. R. No. 2. J. A. MacDONALD, Auctioneer. 2-28-41w.

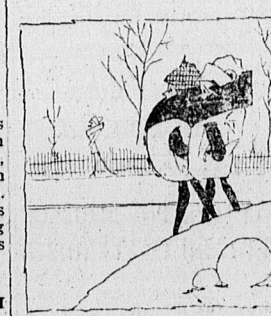

SMILES

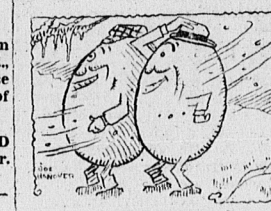

A brass band still announces the big time engagement, but the platinum one ends it.

A CHORUS OF FIFTY "It's a good show—they have chorus of fifty." "True enough—every day fifty."

NOT THE DISPLAY THEY NOTICE "The men must notice she displays very poor sense in the way she dresses." "But it isn't her display of pose sense the men notice, my dear."

THEY WERE USED TO IT Cold Storage Eggs (in blizzard) Well this is fine, bracing weather! "Right!"

NABOB Bob: Why don't you marry me Gladys? I'm as rich as an Indian prince. Gladys: Nay, Bob.

Head Colds Snuff Vicks up nose or melt in cup of hot water, inhale healing vapors. VICKS VAPORUB OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

MISS BROWN OF X. Y. O.

By E. Phillips Oppenheim (Copyright 1927 by E. Phillips Oppenheim)

AT A few minutes after 9 o'clock on the following morning, Miss Brown, who had just finished clearing up after her simple breakfast, was surprised to hear a tap at her door. She answered the summons and found a young man standing, hat in hand, upon the threshold, whom at first she scarcely recognized.

"I hope you haven't forgotten me, Miss Brown?" he said. "My name is Greatson—Eric Greatson, you know. I am Abel Deane's secretary. We danced at the Cosmopolitan one night."

"I remember you now," Miss Brown admitted. "But—"

"Of course, I know I'm intruding, coming at this hour of the morning," he interrupted eagerly, "but I want just one word with you, please. It is most important."

She allowed him to pass into the room a little ungraciously. Although she had only been up an hour, her bed was already made, the window had been opened, and the room itself was the picture of neatness.

Nevertheless, Miss Brown had strict ideas with regard to the reception of visitors.

"It must be only one word, then," she insisted. "Neither my friend nor I receive visitors here. What is it you want, please?"

"I am delighted with his hat, Miss Brown," she said. "I shall tell you what they are—I shall carry them over to the letter, and I don't care a fig about you and your assassins and your underhand way of conducting your affairs. You may mean well yourself—I don't care whether you do or not—but I hate you all."

He turned away. He was a young man of understanding, and he knew that he had as much chance of moving Miss Brown as one of the pyramids.

"I am sorry," he said, simply. "Please remember my last words to you. Any one in the world might do five minutes late in keeping an appointment. I haven't come here for nothing. Please believe that."

"It appears to me," she said, "that you are interfering in a matter which is entirely my own concern. Please do not proceed any further."

"But I've got to," he persisted. "I can assure you I hate my errand. I would have come if there wasn't a grave reason for it. Some one—you, I believe—is going to a bank in South Audley street this morning to fetch away a packet which has been deposited there. I don't want you to go. I am here to stop your going if I can."

Miss Brown's blue eyes were large now with astonishment. She forgot for a moment to be angry. She looked at her visitor incredulously.

"You are here to stop my going to the bank about my own business this morning?" she repeated. "Have you suddenly taken leave of your senses, Mr. Greatson?"

"I daresay I have, to some extent," he groaned, "or I should have let things take their own course, and I've been awake most of the night wondering what to do. I hoped that perhaps you might listen to me if you realized that I was in earnest. Do you believe that I am in earnest, Miss Brown?"

"I dare say you are," she admitted, "but that doesn't make any difference. I shall not tell you whether I am going to the bank or not. I will only tell you this in the hope of getting rid of you at once. If I have already planned to go nothing that you could say would stop me. Do you want me to add that I resent interference from strangers? If I take advice it is from friends."

He looked at her with a pathetic little furrow of the brows.

"You are making me feel," he remarked, "that there is nothing left for me to do but to go down on all fours and crawl out."

"Then why don't you do it?" she asked.

"Because I want, if I can, to convince you that mine isn't just idle interest," he said, earnestly. "Serious harm is likely to happen to you if you go down to the bank this morning on the errand you are contemplating."

"And how do you know of this?" she demanded. "How do you even come to know that I was thinking of going to the bank?"

"I learned it by accident, because I went down to a meeting of one of the sub-committees of our party with a message from Mr. Deane last night," he explained. "The chief wanted Frankland down at the house, and I had to go there to place with a score of 3,419 points; the committee meeting I cannot tell you in detail. I am breaking confidence enough as it is when I beg you, if you value your life, not to leave your room until after 10 this morning. It isn't your affair. It's a cowardly thing to expose you, who are not concerned in any way, to a very real danger."

"I suppose you mean," she said, acerbicly, "that some of your friends and associates are planning some sort of brutality to prevent my carrying out my duty?"

"It isn't your duty," he protested. "It's not your concern. And, as for my associates, I am not responsible for what they do. We have a fight to fight, and it must be fought in the way our chiefs decide."

"Are your friends, then," she asked, "proposing to waylay me? They have assaulted me once before. They know. A nice sort of way to convince me of your sincerity."

"I am sending you back your paper. What is more, you can keep it. I will not sign it."

"Do you think I am going to keep 22 rules for a bit longer? I am when for receiving Tea Commandments? God will give me a mansion in the skies?"

Lesson No. 5 Question: Why should school children receive emulsified cod-liver oil? Answer: Because the strain of the study-period and playground uses up energy, and emulsified cod-liver oil not only provides energy but also protects with its vitamins.

Mothers know the value of SCOTT'S EMULSION

Let a campaign which is supposed to be in the cause of humanity! "Don't gibe, please," he begged. "Well, you can set your mind at rest," she assured him. "I am not going to the bank alone."

He shook his head. "I won't make any difference," she glanced at the clock. "Mr. Greatson," she said, "I have given you as much of my time as I can spare. You are an intruder here. Please leave me."

"Will you promise me this, then," he pleaded, "if you will wait until five minutes past 10 before you leave here?"

"I will make no promise of any sort," she answered. "Whatever my plans may be—and I shall not tell you what they are—I shall carry them over to the letter, and I don't care a fig about you and your assassins and your underhand way of conducting your affairs. You may mean well yourself—I don't care whether you do or not—but I hate you all."

He turned away. He was a young man of understanding, and he knew that he had as much chance of moving Miss Brown as one of the pyramids.

"I am sorry," he said, simply. "Please remember my last words to you. Any one in the world might do five minutes late in keeping an appointment. I haven't come here for nothing. Please believe that."

"It appears to me," she said, "that you are interfering in a matter which is entirely my own concern. Please do not proceed any further."

"But I've got to," he persisted. "I can assure you I hate my errand. I would have come if there wasn't a grave reason for it. Some one—you, I believe—is going to a bank in South Audley street this morning to fetch away a packet which has been deposited there. I don't want you to go. I am here to stop your going if I can."

Miss Brown's blue eyes were large now with astonishment. She forgot for a moment to be angry. She looked at her visitor incredulously.

"You are here to stop my going to the bank about my own business this morning?" she repeated. "Have you suddenly taken leave of your senses, Mr. Greatson?"

"I daresay I have, to some extent," he groaned, "or I should have let things take their own course, and I've been awake most of the night wondering what to do. I hoped that perhaps you might listen to me if you realized that I was in earnest. Do you believe that I am in earnest, Miss Brown?"

"I dare say you are," she admitted, "but that doesn't make any difference. I shall not tell you whether I am going to the bank or not. I will only tell you this in the hope of getting rid of you at once. If I have already planned to go nothing that you could say would stop me. Do you want me to add that I resent interference from strangers? If I take advice it is from friends."

He looked at her with a pathetic little furrow of the brows.

"You are making me feel," he remarked, "that there is nothing left for me to do but to go down on all fours and crawl out."

"Then why don't you do it?" she asked.

"Because I want, if I can, to convince you that mine isn't just idle interest," he said, earnestly. "Serious harm is likely to happen to you if you go down to the bank this morning on the errand you are contemplating."

"And how do you know of this?" she demanded. "How do you even come to know that I was thinking of going to the bank?"

"I learned it by accident, because I went down to a meeting of one of the sub-committees of our party with a message from Mr. Deane last night," he explained. "The chief wanted Frankland down at the house, and I had to go there to place with a score of 3,419 points; the committee meeting I cannot tell you in detail. I am breaking confidence enough as it is when I beg you, if you value your life, not to leave your room until after 10 this morning. It isn't your affair. It's a cowardly thing to expose you, who are not concerned in any way, to a very real danger."

"I suppose you mean," she said, acerbicly, "that some of your friends and associates are planning some sort of brutality to prevent my carrying out my duty?"

"It isn't your duty," he protested. "It's not your concern. And, as for my associates, I am not responsible for what they do. We have a fight to fight, and it must be fought in the way our chiefs decide."

"Are your friends, then," she asked, "proposing to waylay me? They have assaulted me once before. They know. A nice sort of way to convince me of your sincerity."

"I am sending you back your paper. What is more, you can keep it. I will not sign it."

"Do you think I am going to keep 22 rules for a bit longer? I am when for receiving Tea Commandments? God will give me a mansion in the skies?"

Annual Meeting Uigg and Grand View Shipping Club

The annual meeting of the above Live Stock Shipping Club was held in Uigg hall on the 26th of January, 1928 and was perhaps one of the most satisfactory meetings ever held by this live and up-to-date working Association. The attendance was large, notwithstanding the fact that the night was cold and rather unsuitable for travelling, every seat being occupied by an interested farmer. Mr. J. A. MacPherson of Bellevue, Vice-President, occupied the chair, and in his usual capable manner, conducted the proceedings throughout in a most businesslike way.

The President's report showed that seventeen meetings were held during the year, all of which were largely attended. Reference was also made to the change in the system of management effected at a regular meeting of July 12th of last year, when it became a member of the Maritime Live Stock Marketing Board, Inc. of Montreal, N. B. His Board expected that the Secretary's report of market values received would justify the change made at that time.

Mr. W. D. Ross, Secretary, was called upon at this stage of the proceedings, and in response, submitted his business statement for the year. This report which is forthwith attached is most concise, and complete in detail, and should only be a source of gratification and inspiration even to the most optimistic, while the pessimist could do nothing short of going into ecstasies of delight. But there are no pessimists in this Shipping Club.

No. Hogs shipped. Weight. Value No. Lambs shipped. Weight. Value No. Select Hogs. 423 No. T Smooth Hogs. 363 No. T Heavy Hogs. 68 No. Heavy Hogs. 33 No. Sows. 24

No. Top Lambs E. & W. 417 No. Top Lambs Rams. 35 No. 2nd Lambs. 81 No. Sheep. 54

The marketing expense in connection with the above statement amounted to 2 1/2%, this covering charges by Marketing Board of 1%, Secretaries fees 1%, and contingent fund of 1/2%. This would certainly indicate that the most rigid economy was practised in connection with handling the business end of the Clubs activities.

In justifying the move made by the Club, when it associated itself with the Maritime Marketing Board last July, Mr. Ross who kept constantly in touch with the Stock Yard quotations at time of each sale, produced figures to show that sales were consummated by the "Board" at 1 1/2-3c per pound less margin of difference between local prices and Montreal Stock Yard quotations, then had heretofore been the experience of this Club.

The Secretary's report was unanimously and most enthusiastically adopted on motion by R. C. McLeod, seconded by J. A. Gillis.

The following Board of Directors was entrusted with the Club's activities during the year 1928: President—J. A. Gillis, Kinross; Vice-President—J. S. MacPhee, Bellevue; Secretary—W. D. Ross, Orwell; Directors—S. E. McLeod, Uigg; R. C. McLeod, Dundee & Lyndale; Martin Kelly, Newtown; A. N. McPherson, Grandview; J. F. Huntly, Vernon.

Delegate to Annual Meeting—W. D. Ross, Secretary.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presence of J. A. Gillis, representative of the Federal Live Stock Branch, Charlottetown, who in the course of a most interesting address, outlined the policy and aspirations of the Maritime Marketing Board Inc. Mr. Gillis stated in part that the promoters of the Maritime Marketing Board realized that the Live Stock industry in the Maritime Provinces required several fundamental corrections, in order to make it a more profitable phase of agricultural activity to the farmer. He confined his remarks chiefly to swine and sheep production. The type of animal produced, the method of feeding, the year round production, and the system of salesmanship adopted by the farmers was touched upon, special emphasis being placed upon the latter point featured. It made little difference what the type of animal might be, or the degree of perfection attained to, just so long as the obsolete system of individual salesmanship was maintained. Very little could be done towards assuring the producer of receiving his proper share of the consumption of his product. Co-operative marketing was strongly advocated as a means of eliminating unnecessary overhead expenses. It permitted of catering to our local and outside markets with a sufficiently large volume of supply to attempt their finest quotations, and the producer controlled the final disposition of his production by the adoption of this system of salesmanship.

The Maritime Marketing Board, he said, was filling a long felt want in connection with the Live Stock industry of the Maritime Provinces and the success which has so far been attained by the Board would indicate the value that has been placed upon its efforts by the farmers.

Mr. Gillis concluded by appealing for the support of every farmer, and congratulated the people of Uigg and Grandview for the splendid local organization they had in the Uigg Shipping Club and the efficient Secretary they were fortunate in having in charge.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Gillis for attending the meeting and for his encouraging address.

This Discovery Will Benefit Millions "Sick headache, indigestion and constipation have troubled me for years. I tried everything but truthfully your purely vegetable laxative is the best I have ever taken."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS All druggists—25c and 75c red pkgs.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home Has no equal for prompt results. Take but a moment to make. Saves about $2

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is, pine has a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and other ingredients. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pine in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar. This makes 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good, and pleasant—obtain it.

You can feel this tale hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis, and hoarseness.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiaicol, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pine" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. The Pine Co., Toronto, Ont.

PINEX for Coughs

TURNIPS WANTED We wish to secure a few cars of sound table stock turnips. Farmers who can load in car lots in "Bulk" please interview our P.E.I. representative, F. R. Newsom, Charlottetown. Phone 431.

NEWSOM & MacLEOD, Boston. 2691, 2-23-61

"SALADA" TEA

Two hundred years ago a tea like "SALADA" would have cost $50.00 a pound—but such tea was then unknown—today millions enjoy the fragrance and satisfaction of "SALADA" for a small fraction of that cost.

Clearance AUCTION SALE

At Meadow Bank West River

All the stock, crop and implements and household effects of the late William H. Boyle will be sold by Public Auction on the premises on Wednesday, March 7th, 1928 at 12 o'clock noon (sharp).

The farm of the late William H. Boyle comprising 100 acres fronting on West River, 90 acres of which are clear balance in hardwood is also offered for sale. Good buildings close to Church, School and Store. Telephone in house. Beautiful level farm in excellent state of cultivation, well fenced and watered. If not previously sold by private sale this farm will be sold by Public Auction on above date with the stock, crop, etc.

Terms of farm at sale. Of Stock, etc., 9 months credit on approved joint notes on all sums over $1000. If stormy sale will be held first fine day at same hour. For further particulars see handbills. Apply on Premises or to MacKINNON & McNEILL, Solicitors, Charlottetown. Estate of William H. Boyle. A. McDONALD, Auctioneer. 2806-2-23-61

AGRICULTURAL MEETINGS

Agricultural meetings will be held as follows: Middletown Hall, Monday, February 27th, at 7:30 p. m. Central Bedouque, Tuesday, February 28th, at 7:30 p. m. Tryon Public Hall, Wednesday, February 29th, at 7:30 p. m. Hampton Hall, Thursday, March 1st, at 7:30 p. m. Hampton Hall, Friday afternoon, March 2nd, at 2:30 p. m.

and will be addressed by Mr. H. W. Clay of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, and Mr. W. J. Reid, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, on subjects relative to Co-operative Live Stock Shipping, Purchase and Distribution of Fertilizers, Seed Grain and Live Stock Improvement.

FARMERS' WEEK

March 6th, to 9th, inclusive. In Strand Theatre (Market Building). Tuesday, March 6—Provincial Dairymen's Association, 2:30 & 7:30 p. m. Prominent Dairymen will attend.

Wednesday morning, March 7th—Sheep Breeders' Annual Meeting 10 a. m. Wednesday, March 7th—Combined Meeting of Central Farmers Institute and Swine Breeders Association, 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 8th—P. E. I. Co-operative Egg and Poultry Association Meeting, 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., with Banquet for delegates at 6:30 p. m. Friday, March 9th—Guernsey Breeders' Association—Annual Meeting 10 a. m.

Friday, March 9th—Potato Growers Meeting—2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Poultry Show and Seed Fair will be held during Farmers' Week. Farmers should plan to attend all meetings. 2665-2-22-wfm-61

"NOT BY MEAT ALONE"

Leading fox ranchers have demonstrated that, in addition to meat, it is absolutely necessary to feed a liberal supply of IMPERIAL BISCUITS daily during the winter season, in order to keep the bowels regular, and also to ensure the females having an adequate supply of milk during the lactation period.

IMPERIAL COD OIL BISCUITS are made from a formula which has been prepared with these results in view and which reliable tests, extending over a considerable term of years, have proved to be signally successful.

Ranches, which have continued the feeding of IMPERIALS regularly in winter, have had the largest litters of young foxes and also the highest average of pups raised to maturity; in addition, they have practically eliminated the destroying of young by the females.

For assured results feed IMPERIALS throughout all the winter season.

IMPERIALS are sold by leading distributors or direct from the factory.

Imperial Biscuit Co. Ltd. Phone 721 Box 446 Charlottetown P. E. I.

FILL OUT AND MAIL TO THE ORATORY EDITOR CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN. CANADIAN AND INTERNATIONAL ORATORICAL CONTESTS Being conducted in Prince Edward Island by the Charlottetown Guardian. I am a pupil of college or school. I am interested in the Oratorical Contests and I would like to take part in them. On February 1, 1928, I shall be less than 19 years of age. Name Home Address Date of Birth School Grade Teacher's Name

YOUR case of PILES is no different from others, and if others have obtained absolute relief by using PAZO OINTMENT, so can you. Every druggist sells PAZO OINTMENT under a trade name. It is a simple, effective, and safe remedy for Piles. It is a true and reliable remedy for Piles. It is a true and reliable remedy for Piles. It is a true and reliable remedy for Piles.