

BIRTHS

GALLANT.—At Tignish on April 21st, to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gallant, a daughter.

MCRAE.—At the P. E. Island Hospital, May 2nd to Mr. and Mrs. Major McRae, a son, Arthur Gibson. Congratulations.

CLARKIN.—At Charlottetown on May 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Plus Clarkin, (nee Ethel McGuigan) a daughter.

MARRIED

STEWART-CAMERON.—At Trinity Church, St. John, N. B. on March 4th by the Rev. R. A. Armstrong John Ellis Stewart of St. John, and Josephine Cameron of Charlottetown, P. E. I.

PYKE JAMES.—At Methodist Parsonage, April 29th, by the Rev. G. W. F. Glendenning, John Abner James, of Millburn, King's Co., to Miss Ruth Florence Pyke of the same place.

DEATHS

FRASER.—At Alexandria, May 3, 1920, Mrs. W. P. Fraser, aged 76. Funeral from the residence of Mr. Layton McCabe this morning, service starting at 10 o'clock, funeral at 11. Interment: Clyde River cemetery.

SUTHERLAND.—At Ottawa, May 3, Mrs. Robert Sutherland, formerly of Sea View, this province. Funeral Friday at 2 p. m. from her late home at Sea View.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Mrs. Lemul Worth, who died May 2nd, 1911. Gone but not forgotten.

INSERTED BY FAMILY.

Father—"How many people work in your office?" Son (Government employee)—"Oh, about half!"—Bystander.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Senebaugh of Oak Valley wish to thank their many friends for their kindness during the present illness of their daughter Phoebe, and also at the time of the sickness in their home in February last.

Farmers Notice

Commencing March 22nd, we will take delivery of live hogs at the following stations on the following dates, paying the highest market prices.

EVERY TUESDAY: A. M. Wright, Montague; A. D. Martin, Grand View; Berley Drake, Vernon; Harry Jenkins, Hazelbrook; Bert R. Brown, York.

EVERY WEDNESDAY: Everett Wedlock, Hunter River; J. W. Fyfe, Emerald; John Whitehead, Kensington; Louis Muttari & T. H. Smith, Albany.

William Clark, Miscouche, 14th day, March 23rd; Summerside, Wednesday, March 31st and each place fortnightly until further notice.

We take hogs every day at Charlottetown Plant. For information phone office 532; Plant 533.

CANADIAN PACKING CO., LTD. J. M. ROOP, Manager.

Canadian Government Merchant Marine

The S.S. "Canadian Aviator" sailing for Montreal, May 8th will be due here May 11th and sails for St. John's, Newfoundland direct, with horses cattle and sheep on deck and produce underdeck.

In order that we may have regular sailings from Montreal to Charlottetown and St. John's, Newfoundland during this year it is of importance that our merchants and other importers patronize this steamer from Montreal. For all other information as to space and freight rates apply to BUNTAIN BELL & CO., Agents.

Charlottetown April 30th, 1920.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon on Friday, the 21st May 1920 for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mail, on a proposed Contract for four years, 4 times per week on the route "Via Sagre Rural Mail Route No. 5 from the Postmaster General's pleasure. Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms for tenders may be obtained at the Post Office of Montreal and at the office of the Post Office Inspector.

JOHN F. WHEAR, Post Office Inspector, Charlottetown, April 16, 1920.

The Woman Who Loved and Earned

BY JANE PHELPS A Modern Story of Home and Business

HAPPINESS CHAPTER 119.

"I believe that people in ordinary circumstances like us are happier than people with everything in life made easy for them." Robert remarked as we cleared the supper away. "It may take some time to adjust ourselves—as it did us—but when we do find ourselves there isn't so much to distract us in the case of the wealthy men and women who have nothing to do save follow their own sweet will."

"So are Mary and Gardner, Jane and Betty and the boys are always contented as can be. Yes, I guess we are just as happy as people with money. Yet living—if prices keep on going up—is going to be considerable of a problem."

"Prices won't go up indefinitely, Jane. They will go down in the end. I have heard you say women aren't so good at making a good economic nation; it will have to be a man's job."

Robert often talked very seriously about conditions, especially as regarded Capital and Labor. He had come in touch with things since he had taken the management of the store to a degree he never had before. He was broadening, and he took me along with him.

"We must not allow ourselves to be simple machines to make much money at the expense of everything else," he told me. "We will take up a course of reading, and we'll go out as frequently as possible. Good plays, music, lectures, and help people not to get narrow and uninteresting."

I agreed with him. Unless he asked a question, or something particularly funny had transpired during the day, I never mentioned business to him now. He, too, had stopped talking of the store except when he wanted my advice. I still went down with him every Saturday night to trim the windows, as he received extra pay, and more than at first, for doing this. Casually we took that night to play. We dined out somewhere when we had finished, then went to either a play on the motion pictures. Robert had become quite a fan, a movie fan, and I too enjoyed a good picture immensely.

By day we were growing nearer together. Day by day our happiness seemed to increase. It did not seem possible that I could ever have been as unhappy as I was at Mrs. Lane's; or that Robert could have been the listless, discouraged man he was.

Others noticed the change also. "You grow younger every day, both you and me," declared, "Tell Carson and me where that spring is, and we'll go and take a drink. I too I know we look old and jaded beside you two."

"Nonsense! It is just because we are so happy we don't have time to be anything but happy," I said, although I was pleased. I had argued over Robert's looks in the old days; over the graying of his hair at the temples, which was noticeable only for its becomingness. His spirits had risen also. He was more open like the gay, insouciant fellow I had fallen in love with and married, than he had been since the first few months of our married life. I too had grown brighter, readier to enter into his plans, and felt ages younger because of my changed attitude.

"You're too optimistic!" Jane declared, at another time. "I used to think you were just the opposite. But I don't know anyone so contentedly cheerful as you two."

"We had our first lesson, Jane. It was a hard one, and I don't think we shall forget it. We were more unhappy than any of you knew. We have to make up for that lost time, foolishly lost of course, because we might have prevented it—I might."

The Woman Who Loved and Earned

BY JANE PHELPS A Modern Story of Home and Business

HAPPINESS CHAPTER 119.

"I believe that people in ordinary circumstances like us are happier than people with everything in life made easy for them." Robert remarked as we cleared the supper away. "It may take some time to adjust ourselves—as it did us—but when we do find ourselves there isn't so much to distract us in the case of the wealthy men and women who have nothing to do save follow their own sweet will."

"So are Mary and Gardner, Jane and Betty and the boys are always contented as can be. Yes, I guess we are just as happy as people with money. Yet living—if prices keep on going up—is going to be considerable of a problem."

"Prices won't go up indefinitely, Jane. They will go down in the end. I have heard you say women aren't so good at making a good economic nation; it will have to be a man's job."

Robert often talked very seriously about conditions, especially as regarded Capital and Labor. He had come in touch with things since he had taken the management of the store to a degree he never had before. He was broadening, and he took me along with him.

"We must not allow ourselves to be simple machines to make much money at the expense of everything else," he told me. "We will take up a course of reading, and we'll go out as frequently as possible. Good plays, music, lectures, and help people not to get narrow and uninteresting."

I agreed with him. Unless he asked a question, or something particularly funny had transpired during the day, I never mentioned business to him now. He, too, had stopped talking of the store except when he wanted my advice. I still went down with him every Saturday night to trim the windows, as he received extra pay, and more than at first, for doing this. Casually we took that night to play. We dined out somewhere when we had finished, then went to either a play on the motion pictures. Robert had become quite a fan, a movie fan, and I too enjoyed a good picture immensely.

By day we were growing nearer together. Day by day our happiness seemed to increase. It did not seem possible that I could ever have been as unhappy as I was at Mrs. Lane's; or that Robert could have been the listless, discouraged man he was.

Others noticed the change also. "You grow younger every day, both you and me," declared, "Tell Carson and me where that spring is, and we'll go and take a drink. I too I know we look old and jaded beside you two."

"Nonsense! It is just because we are so happy we don't have time to be anything but happy," I said, although I was pleased. I had argued over Robert's looks in the old days; over the graying of his hair at the temples, which was noticeable only for its becomingness. His spirits had risen also. He was more open like the gay, insouciant fellow I had fallen in love with and married, than he had been since the first few months of our married life. I too had grown brighter, readier to enter into his plans, and felt ages younger because of my changed attitude.

"You're too optimistic!" Jane declared, at another time. "I used to think you were just the opposite. But I don't know anyone so contentedly cheerful as you two."

"We had our first lesson, Jane. It was a hard one, and I don't think we shall forget it. We were more unhappy than any of you knew. We have to make up for that lost time, foolishly lost of course, because we might have prevented it—I might."

"Better late than never!" Robert said, his arm stealing about my waist. Then after Jane had gone he drew me to him and said: "My wonderful, darling wife! What would have become of me if I had lost you as I deserved to!"

HINTS FOR The Motorist

BY ALBERT L. CLOUGH

BRAKE-BAND ADJUSTMENTS (Continued)

The Band When Contracted, Must Be Equally Throughout

In practically all external brakes the ends of the band, when in the released position, are held a fixed distance apart by a spring and when the brake is applied the two ends of the band are both moved and are drawn together by a sort of toggle action. This constitutes a double-acting brake actuator equally well to resist forward and reverse motion. As the lining wears, a greater movement of the toggle-joint is required to contract the band upon the drum effectively and when too great a movement is called for the brake ceases to act.

The shortening of the distance between the ends of the band, by slightly shortening the fulcrum-pin of the toggle-joint and this is generally accomplished by screwing a pin up carried upon a nut in the fulcrum-pin. Before making this adjustment the pull-rod end is usually disconnected in order to leave the brake mechanism free and the setting is made so that the toggle again assumes the same position that it occupied before wear took place, thus assuming full brake application. Since both ends of the band should grip the drum equally in order to insure full contact of the lining and perfect double-acting qualities there is quite often a second adjustment, by which the position of the fulcrum-pin can be so altered as to change the relative clearance of the upper and lower halves of the band with the drum.

A necessary precaution in adjusting the brakes is to make sure that the rear spring is not too tight and that the axle housing for otherwise operating the brake lever or pedal may only shift the axle forward and produce no retarding effect.

neater together. Day by day our happiness seemed to increase. It did not seem possible that I could ever have been as unhappy as I was at Mrs. Lane's; or that Robert could have been the listless, discouraged man he was.

Others noticed the change also. "You grow younger every day, both you and me," declared, "Tell Carson and me where that spring is, and we'll go and take a drink. I too I know we look old and jaded beside you two."

"Nonsense! It is just because we are so happy we don't have time to be anything but happy," I said, although I was pleased. I had argued over Robert's looks in the old days; over the graying of his hair at the temples, which was noticeable only for its becomingness. His spirits had risen also. He was more open like the gay, insouciant fellow I had fallen in love with and married, than he had been since the first few months of our married life. I too had grown brighter, readier to enter into his plans, and felt ages younger because of my changed attitude.

"You're too optimistic!" Jane declared, at another time. "I used to think you were just the opposite. But I don't know anyone so contentedly cheerful as you two."

"We had our first lesson, Jane. It was a hard one, and I don't think we shall forget it. We were more unhappy than any of you knew. We have to make up for that lost time, foolishly lost of course, because we might have prevented it—I might."

"Better late than never!" Robert said, his arm stealing about my waist. Then after Jane had gone he drew me to him and said: "My wonderful, darling wife! What would have become of me if I had lost you as I deserved to!"

"You couldn't lose me, dear—never!" Yet just for a second when flashed across my mind what Marion Hoy had told me, and I shivered as I thought I had come nearer losing him, than he me.

Tomorrow—Gerry Wins

LOSS OF APPETITE

Pimples and Other Eruptions Mental and Physical Weariness

They are all common at this time of year, and are all indications that the blood is wanting in the power to defend the body against infectious and contagious diseases, because they are all indications that it needs cleansing, enriching and vitalizing.

It is important to give them attention—it is in fact hazardous to neglect them. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today and begin taking it at once, regularly after eating and if convenient in a little hot water.

Remember, this medicine has given satisfaction to three generations, for the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. It builds up the whole system. It makes food taste good.

For a gentle laxative or an active cathartic, take Hood's Pills. You will like them.

CREDIT STRINGENCY UNRELIEVED BY GOLD MOVEMENT

Although the extent of the recent movement of gold to this country is not apparent it cannot be expected to afford a basis of relief from the present credit stringency. The National Bank of Commerce in New York says in its monthly review of the money market published in the May number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly. After referring to the recent issues of 7 per cent. bonds and equipment trust certificates by the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads and the recessions in the prices of other bonds, including Liberty issues, the review says: "Meanwhile it is well recognized that a tremendous volume of financing, railroad, corporate and foreign, is waiting a favorable market. The difficulty is that there is not available sufficient new capital to meet the requirements of the situation."

Commercial activity has continued during the month, but a feeling of hesitancy still prevails. Although credit is still available only for essential lines, the volume is sufficient for legitimate business. It is questionable, however, whether the limitation of credit has checked commercial speculation as effectively as it has checked speculation in securities. This is due to the fact that the purchasing power of the country continues on so high a level that demand in many lines is still in excess of supply. Although the retail trade reported the heaviest Easter trade known, increasing uncertainty is felt as to advance business. Imported goods are appearing on the market in larger quantities, but it is doubtful as to whether they will be available in quantities sufficient to affect the market greatly. Uncertainty as to the price future is also shown by hesitation on the part of manufacturers in making future commitments for raw materials. Although a gradual recession of prices would have a beneficial effect upon the many industries now retarded by high costs, no marked lowering of prices can be anticipated, while present high production costs prevail.

"Production and distribution continue to be seriously handicapped by unsatisfactory transportation. Building activity, while it has not yet even approximated a point where it can offer much relief in the present dwelling and office shortage, has made a very appreciable gain.

"Thus far over large areas the weather has not been as favorable for farm work as it should be, but it is yet so early that yields will not necessarily be adversely affected. The cotton crop has been retarded by cold weather. The appearance of the pink bellworm in Texas and Louisiana will probably necessitate some reduction in acreage. Seeding of spring wheat is proceeding satisfactorily in most of the producing regions."

An Indianapolis lawyer, who handles many divorce cases in the county courts, was approached by a man who complained bringing divorce proceedings against his wife. "I want to find out if I have grounds for a divorce," he informed the attorney on entering his office.

"Are you married?" the lawyer asked.

"Why, no, of course," responded the client.

"Then you have grounds," the attorney said.

A CATTLE FOOD FROM SEA-WEED

(U. S. Consular Report)

The exigencies of war have caused a number of attempts, more or less successful, to utilize Denmark's natural resources, and among the inventions reported is a process for producing a cattle food from seaweed. Several methods have already been proposed for producing such a food, more especially from seawrack, fucus verticillatus. This plant is abundant all over the world, but it has until now been impossible to transform it to a digestible state, and it also contains certain mineral substances which spoil the taste. The present process is described as follows:

The plant is thoroughly washed to get rid of the salt, then it is treated with steam, preferably under rather high pressure, which causes the cells to burst and allows the protoplasm to come out. This mass is placed under high pressure and formed into cakes, which are dried in a vacuum and ground into a coarse powder. The juice of the mass is boiled in a vacuum to a high grade of concentration, which causes the salts to crystallize, and they are separated from the juice by means of a centrifugal separator. The juice is then mixed with the powder, and the mixture is pressed into pieces of suitable size. The analysis of the food is as follows:

Water, 5 per cent; protein 13.12 per cent; fat, 1.07 per cent; digestible carbohydrate, 66.76 per cent; cellulose, 9 per cent; mineral salts, 5.03 per cent.

The analysis would seem to show this food to be nourishing and the cattle are said to eat it very willingly. It can be mixed with oil cake.

"Now, Willie," said a generous father, as he and his little son were gazing into a tailor's shop window. "I am going to buy you a new pair of trousers, and you shall choose them. Which pair do you want?"

After a moment's hesitation the little boy said: "Please, father, may I have that pair marked 'Cannot be beaten'?"

Poisoned By Gas While in a Well

FRANK CARLSON FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Man Who Suffered All Summer Claims That His New Lease of Health is Due to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Livingston, Sask., May 3rd. (Special)—Most enthusiastic about the benefit he has received from using Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mr. Frank Carlson, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"I was gassed in a well on my farm 25 feet deep," Mr. Carlson says. "I was nearly dead. I was treated for a whole summer for my trouble, but did not get better."

"Then I read in a little almanac about Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had no idea they might benefit me, but was willing to try anything. To my surprise the improvement in my general health was so great, and my kidneys were so much better, that I feel like advising everybody to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable them to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for sick kidneys.

RATTRAY'S LA MARITANA

3 for 25c Rich Mild and Fragrant

Shore Farm for Sale

About 7 miles from Charlottetown on the East River 80 acres of land with buildings, also 25 acres very near. Land in good state of cultivation, well fenced with woven wire, mussel mud and sea-weed in front of farm. For further information apply to P. A. Farquharson, Prowse Block, Charlottetown, Phone 655, or Bartlett McKinley, Frost & Wood, Charlottetown, Phone 99. 7364-3-23METueThstf.

PURE BRED LIVE STOCK FOR SALE

Table with columns: Name, Address, Breed, Age. Lists various livestock for sale including Shorthorn Bulls, Ayrshire Cows, etc.

Department of Agriculture

2524-1-16METues1mo.

RECEIVER'S SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Case: Charles H. Kinch vs. Charles Rattenbury, Charles Henry Benoit, Lillian Rattenbury. To be sold at Public Auction at the County Court House, Halifax, N. S., on Saturday, the 22nd, day of May, A. D., 1920, at 12 o'clock noon. The Tern Schooner "BEAVER" now lying at anchor in Dartmouth Cove, Halifax Harbor. The following are the particulars of the said schooner: 192 Tons Nett Tonnage, built in New Brunswick in 1890. Length 117 ft. 8 in. Depth 9 ft. 2 in. Gasoline Engine for Hoisting. Complete suit of sails, in good order, part newly new. Sold by order of His Lordship Mr. Justice Fitzgerald, Vice Chancellor of the Court in Chancery for the Province of Prince Edward Island, the sale to be confirmed by said Court. TERMS OF SALE—25 per cent. at time of sale, balance on delivery of Bill of Sale. JAMES HALL, Sheriff, Agent for the Receiver. 8495-4271stst171.

The Percheron Stallion D. O. C. (4112)

Prominent farmers in the following districts realizing the great value of the excellent type of draft coats sired by the celebrated Percheron Stallion D. O. C. (4112) have requested the owners to extend the services of this celebrated stallion to their districts. The season will be made as follows: Leaving the manager's stables at Mount Carmel on Tuesday, May 11th, for J. D. McLellan's, Grand River, at noon; thence to James McIntyre's, Bayside, over night; Wednesday, leave James McIntyre's, through Arlington by Port Hill Road, at or near A. R. Gorrill's, Northam, at noon; thence by Northam Station to L. J. McDonald's, Richmond, over night; Thursday morning leave L. J. McDonald's, Richmond, in the evening for Mount Carmel where he will remain at owner's stable till the following Monday, the 17th of May. Monday, May 17, leave manager's stable at Mount Carmel, thence to Urban Gillis's, Miscouche, at noon; thence to Bert Lyle's, North St. Eleonors, for supper; thence to Wm. B. McNeill's stable, Summerside, over night; Tuesday, May 18th, thence to Stanley Perry's, St. Nicholas, at noon; thence to manager's stable at Mount Carmel where he will remain the rest of the week. This route will be continued fortnightly, health and weather permitting. DANIEL S. GALLANT, Manager. 8598-5-11thst71.

LIVE HOGS WANTED

We are ready now to receive live hogs, paying as follows, delivered at our packing house, Charlottetown:— 150-275 18 cents 275 up, 16 cents Brood sows, any weight, 14 cents all good quality, well fattened. Delivery may be made on any day except Saturday. Light hogs, under 150 lbs., are of very little use for packing purposes, and as the chief profit from feeding comes in the last few weeks of finishing, it is respectfully suggested that farmers hold any small hogs, under 150 lbs., until of weight and quality more profitable for all concerned. But should it be necessary to dispose of any such under-weights they will be received at market value, proportionate to above prices. We also buy at various points throughout the Island and full information can be obtained from our local representatives. DAVIS & FRASER, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Tomorrow—Gerry Wins AUCTION AT ELMSDALE

After having disposed of my farm I will sell by public auction on my premises, at Elmsdale, on TUESDAY, MAY 11 At 1 o'clock p. m. the following stock, implements and household effects.

1 mare (with foal) 6 yrs. old; 1 mare (with foal) 16 yrs. old; 5 cows (with calf); 1 cow fresh; 2 (2 yr.) oxen; 1 year-old ox; 2 year-old heifers; 3 ewes and lambs; 1 brood sow; 1 pr. ducks, 5 pure bred Rhode Island Red hens; and conneral; 7 other hens; 1 truck wagon, pole and shafts; 1 box sleigh; 1 express wagon; 1 wood box; 1 trotting sleigh; 1 Deering binder; 1 hay rake (new); 1 broad cast seeder; 1 gang plough; 1 plough, Frost & Wood No. 30; 1 plough, Frost & Wood No. 16 (new); 1 set spring tooth harrows; 1 set iron harrows; 1 grindstone. 1 set fanners; 1 hay fork, rope and blocks; cart saddle and breeching; 1 work harness; 3 work collars; 2 driving collars; 3 sets work harness; 1 set driving harness; 2 pr. leather traces (new); 1 pr. double reins; 1 set surcingles, forks, shovels and hoes; 100 bush. oats, quantity of hay, straw, firewood, scantling, other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms made known at sale. SIMPSON S. CROCKETT, 8630-5-4 (1st31). 8526-4-28 wsmTue. 41.

Auction Sale of Choice Furniture

I will sell for Mrs. Joseph Clark, at her home, Malpeque Road, Gay Town, on Thursday, May 6th, commencing at 1.30 o'clock p. m., all her furniture and household effects comprising parlor, dining room, bed room and kitchen furniture, rugs, mats, carpets, dishes, glassware, range stove and every thing good and in splendid repair. Mrs. Clark having sold her property everything will be sold. Come early and bid often.

BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer. 8593-5-11th41.

Use Cuticura to Keep Your Hair From Falling

How many times have barbers given this advice to men who are losing their hair because of dandruff and scalp irritation. At night rub Cuticura Ointment into the scalp. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. A clean, healthy scalp means good hair.

DOMINION OF CANADA PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND In the Probate Court 10th George Fifth, A. D. 1920

In Re Estate of Malcolm Lamont, late of Montague, in King's County, in the said Province, deceased. By His Honour Aeneas A. Macdonald, Surrogate Judge of Probate, etc., etc.

To the Sheriff of the County of King's County or any Constable or literate person within said County. Greeting:

Whereas upon reading the petition on file of William R. Lamont and Daniel McDonald executors of the last will and testament of the said Malcolm Lamont, deceased praying that a citation be issued for the purpose hereinafter set forth, you are therefore hereby required to cite all persons interested in the said estate to be and appear before me at a Probate Court to be held in the Court House in Charlottetown, Queen's County, in the said Province, on Thursday the thirteenth day of May next, coming, at the hour of eleven o'clock forenoon of the said day to show cause if any they can why the Accounts of the said Estate should not be passed and the Estate closed as prayed for in said petition and on motion of Donald McKinnon, Esq., Proctor for said petitioners. And I do hereby order that a true copy hereof be forthwith published in some newspaper published in Prince Edward Island once in each week for at least four consecutive weeks from the date hereof and that a true copy hereof be forthwith posted in the following public places, respectively, namely, in the hall of the Court House in Georgetown in King's County, in front of the store of M. E. McDonald and in front of the store of Poole & Thompson, Limited, both in Montague aforesaid so that all persons interested in the said Estate as aforesaid may have due notice thereof.

Given under my Hand and the Seal of the said Court this eighth day of April, A. D. 1920 and in the tenth year of His Majesty's reign. (Sgd. AENEAS A. MACDONALD, Judge of Probate. 3204-4-13METues1.

Dominion of Canada Province of Prince Edward Island In The Probate Court 10th George V., A. D. 1920

In re estate of Charles R. McLellan late of Summerside, in Prince Edward Island, in the said Province, deceased, praying that a citation may be issued for the purpose hereinafter set forth: You are therefore hereby required to cite all persons interested in the said estate to be and appear before me at a Probate Court to be held in the Court House in Summerside, in Prince County, in the said Province, on Wednesday, the 19th day of May next, coming, at the hour of 10.30 o'clock forenoon of the same day to show cause if any they can why the Accounts of the said estate should not be passed and the estate closed as prayed for in said petition, and on motion of A. E. Arsenault, Esquire, Proctor for said petitioner.

And I do hereby order that a true copy hereof be forthwith published in some newspaper published in Prince Edward Island once in each week for at least four consecutive weeks from the date hereof, and that a true copy hereof be forthwith posted in the following public places, respectively, namely, in the hall of the Court House, in Summerside, and in the hall of the Probate Office, in Summerside, and in a post office Water Street at or near the railway station in Summerside so that all persons interested in the said estate as aforesaid may have due notice thereof.

Given under my hand and Seal of the said Court this seventeenth day of April, A. D. 1920, and in the tenth year of His Majesty's reign. (Sgd) AENEAS A. MACDONALD, Judge of Probate. 8348-4-20Tues41.

MAIL CONTRACT SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon on Friday, the 21st May 1920 for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mail, on a proposed Contract for four years, 4 times per week on the route "Via Sagre Rural Mail Route No. 5 from the Postmaster General's pleasure. Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms for tenders may be obtained at the Post Office of Montreal and at the office of the Post Office Inspector.