

Woman's Realm/Social and Personal/Fashions/Literature

KIDSKIN

BIG POCKETS

See The Fine
FUR COATS
 Demonstrated Here By
Holt Renfrew & Co.
 Today, October 22nd.
 Monday, October 24th.

You are cordially invited to call and inspect the outstanding ideas in fine furs presented here today and on Monday.

A representative of Holt Renfrew & Co., will be in charge . . . do not miss this opportunity.

MOORE & McLEOD invited

Cook's Corner

FRIED CAULIFLOWER

1 medium head cauliflower, broken in flowerets
 2 egg yolks
 1/4 cup milk

1/2 cup flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Cook cauliflower in boiling, salted water until just tender, about 15 minutes. Drain well. Beat egg yolks until light, add milk, then stir in flour and salt. Beat batter until smooth. Dip each floweret in the batter then drop into hot fat, 300 degrees F., and fry until brown. Serve plain or with a sauce. Yield: six servings.

THE MOST WONDERFUL BABY IN THE WORLD is Yours!

Made especially for Canadian Babies...

AYLMER BABY FOODS
 ARE RECOMMENDED BY CANADIAN DOCTORS

Aylmer Baby Foods were developed in Canada... with the aid of Canadian Doctors and Nutrition Experts... especially to meet the needs of Canadian babies. Your Baby will like the fresh, mild flavor and extra smoothness of Aylmer Baby Foods.

AYLMER
 BABY FOODS

So Good To Taste

So Good for Baby

YOUR BABY DESERVES AYLMER QUALITY

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

BENZEDRINE SULFATE RELIEVES DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

I have written several times about the great value of Benzedrine Sulfate in the treatment of both alcoholism and overweight. In alcoholism this drug causes distaste for alcohol and at the same time gives the alcoholic a physical and mental boost. In overweight, Benzedrine Sulfate takes away the appetite for food and at the same time gives the overweight a physical lift that helps to carry him over to the next meal. Because of its lifting or boosting qualities it was only natural that research workers should try the effect of Benzedrine Sulfate on patients who were greatly depressed. Instead of simply giving them a quieting or sleep producing drug. In "Diseases of the Nervous System," Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, Psychopathic Hospital, Iowa City, Ia., states that while opium usually quieted and relaxed depressed patients, there was much drowsiness, so that the patient was not really himself or a real part of his surroundings. He therefore decided to add Benzedrine Sulfate to the opium. The result of adding Benzedrine Sulfate decreased the drowsiness; the effect of the two drugs was to prolong the effect. This combination of the sodium amylal and Benzedrine Sulfate administered daily by mouth or injected into a vein was frequently of great help in aiding the depressed patient. The discomfort of the moderate or severe illness was greatly relieved while the patient was waiting to be admitted to hospital. Even while waiting to be admitted to hospital, as many as 23 per cent recovered and needed no further treatment. Many wildly depressed patients were up and about on their feet instead of being confined to bed while undergoing this combination of drugs. While about on their feet, these patients were treated by routine psychiatric methods instead of undergoing the convulsive or shock method of treatment. Benzedrine is a wonderful drug, when we realize how it lifts the alcoholic and depressed individual when he or she greatly needs a lift.

The Stars Say

By Genevieve Keable

For Tuesday, October 25

WHILE the general trend of events may be read as favoring the public, business and private relations and objectives, yet the purely personal element seems to engage major attention. Romance, love affairs, social and cultural functions, domestic and intimate consideration may relegate other interests into the background. Pleasure, charm, and idealism, home and all activities concerning such, may encounter opposition, with undertones of intrigue, subtlety, enmity.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may feel disposed to concentrate interest and activities on affairs of a purely personal, social or domestic character, with undisturbed and intriguing factors in this direction. While the faculties, forces, energies and talents may be centered on the pursuit of pleasure, romance, ideals or kindred matters in the realm of the practical and objective, yet there may be certain frustrations, impediments, or stubborn opposition, either at the "hands of fate" or from tangible source such as elders, superiors, or teachers. A child born on this day may be genuinely charming, probably impractical, governed by ideals rather than facts.

Morning Smile

More Publicity

Movie Star: "I've decided to demand a new trial."
 Interviewer: "But why? You won the case."
 Movie Star: "I know, but I'm not satisfied with the publicity."

So It Would

A recruit was being given an intelligence test in the army. "What would happen if one of your ears was cut off by a bayonet?" asked the examiner. "I couldn't hear so well."
 "What would happen if your other ear was cut off?" "I couldn't see."
 "What do you mean?" "My hat would fall down over my eyes."

How Can I!!!

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prepare invisible ink?
 A. An invisible ink may be mixed by using one teaspoonful of white sugar dissolved in 1/2-cupful of boiling water, or use sweet milk. Write with this in the ordinary manner. Holding to the fire will turn the ink brown so that it may be read, the heating affecting the saccharine matter.
 Q. How can I lighten the handle

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

High-Pressure Tactics

Mother's Sales Talk Makes Man Suspect Girl Is No Bargain

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been keeping company for some time with a girl who is, I think, about as fine as they come. However, her mother is constantly praising her daughter to me. To hear the old girl rave one would think her daughter was a Fairy Princess and I the luckiest fellow in the world. All this overvaluation is beginning to get under my skin and make me wonder if everything is O. K. with the girl and if she is as good as she looks to me.

What is your opinion?

PUZZLED MAN

ANSWER: I daresay the girl is all your fondest fancy paints her, and the only trouble is that she is afflicted with a stupid and tasteless mother who hurts her daughter instead of helping her by over-valuation. There are many women who hold it to be a mother's duty to be her daughter's press agent. Let some eligible youth come around and show a glimmering of interest in Mamie and the first time mother gets his ear she will tell him not only how many suitors she has, but what an angel she is. Mother doesn't really think she has a fault in her world, if she has one, it is just being too sweet and amiable and unselfish.

TOO MUCH PRAISE

The dear child is always thinking about everybody but herself, and just never gets angry or impatient, and so domestic and economical. Why, would you believe it, she just picked up the goods for that dress she has on for a few cents and made it herself. And she just has a natural turn for cooking, and he really must try a piece of the cake that she baked this morning. And the young man, who is perhaps himself a salesman, and who knows that the poorer the article you have to sell, the more encomiums you have to lavish on it, begins to be suspicious of the real merits of the girl.

Why, if Mamie really is so desirable, does her mother have to cry her up to the skies? Why, if so many other men want her, should she be so anxious to sell the girl to him? Why, if the girl is really the light of her home and the prop of her age, is mother so anxiously to get rid of her? And he can't know that it is just because mother knows that Mamie is in love with him. She wants to enhance Mamie's value in his eyes and she hasn't sense enough to see that she is lowering it instead of raising it.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a friend of whom I am very fond and who is a friend to open the eyes of a wife who has purposely blinded herself to her husband's sidestepping. For in her heart every woman knows when her husband is unfaithful to her. She may not know the precise moment, nor the actual individual girl with whom he is philandering, but she knows with a woman's unerring intuition that her husband is not a woman so dull but who knows when her husband ceases to love her. No woman so dumb but what she can read by a thousand signs when her husband begins to be interested in another woman.

But even when a woman knows within herself that her husband is faithless to her she does not want to be told because it somehow saves her face to think that nobody else knows that she is a neglected wife. She doesn't feel she has to take any step in the way of a divorce or leaving him, as she is often driven into doing by public opinion. So, for your friend's sake, don't tell her. Let her live in her fool's paradise as long as she can if she really does love, and, if she does know, respect her pretense of ignorance.

DEAR MISS DIX: My wife and I feel that we should get a divorce as we can no longer get along together. The only thing that keeps us from separating is having to break the news to our 14-year-old boy.

ANSWER: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

TROUBLED

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DOROTHY DIX

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

of an umbrella that has become loosened?
 A. Fill the hole in the handle with powdered resin, heat the rod, and press it firmly into the hole; then lay it aside for a while to set.
 Q. How can I boil an egg that is cracked?
 A. Add a little vinegar to the water that is used for boiling, and the white of the egg will not boil out.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

DEAR MISS DIX: I should think parents would find it extremely difficult to explain to a child why they were breaking up his home and taking away from him the love and guidance of a father or mother. You will need a pretty good alibi to convince him that because you and your wife won't control your tempers, he should be thrown out on the world to be a miserable little half-orphan.

Lonely Parade

By Fannie Hurst

"Tut" she said with her heart in her throat as they entered the library. Seated beside Baldwin before the going fireplace, Leonore rose, her eyes rushing past Sierra to Oliver. Before she could speak, he made a mock grimace by blowing out one cheek.

"Ollie, is it still aching? You must see a dentist."
 "I've just come from Dr. Winn. I'm all fixed up now, and shall creek softly of ether for you through dinner."

She turned to Sierra, the luster gone from her face. "Hullo, Sierra, and congratulations!"
 "Why congratulations?" she asked, crossing the fireplace to place a light kiss above her father's eyebrow.

"Why congratulations?" repeated Leonore, reseating herself and keeping her gaze carefully averted from Oliver. "Isn't it cause for congratulation that the newspaper carried an article about your plan for a girls' hotel, or it is club or boarding house? In any event, it was a big spread about your 'project,' I believe they called it, 'Hullo, Sierra, and congratulations!"

"That was a week ago, Leonore." "Yes, but your father just showed it to me tonight. I think you women are just wonderful nowadays. Imagine a hotel for working girls. Only, dear Sierra, what will working girls do with one?"

"If you were to see them as I see them, Leonore, cooped up in airless hall bedrooms, the victims of bad mental and physical hygiene, you would know soon enough."
 "But, dear, don't working girls live with their families?"

"Alas, thousands do, in tenements as dark and airless as hall bedrooms. But our concern is with the girl on her own, who hasn't even the tenement home as background. Father, a little later I'd like to talk to you about an idea for floating bonds, which has been suggested by the reality people."

"Getting beyond your depth, girl?"
 "No, Father! You see—"
 "And, Sierra, it is true that Elsie Tweed is taking Kilty on to do her new house at Cape May?"
 "It's not quite certain yet. You know Elsie. But it looks as if she might."

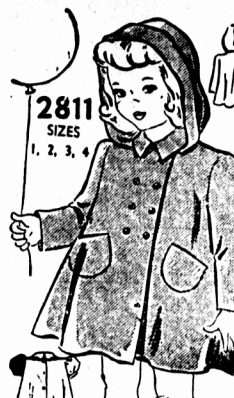

Keeping her offended eyes carefully averted from her stepson, Leonore pursued, unheeding, "Elsie is an awful tightwad. One miss on the part of Kits, even an inexpensive one, can cost her the royal favor."
 (Continued on Page 8)

Needlecraft

FOR THE HOME

COAT AND DRESS DUO

The companion coat and dress... a wonderful choice for every little girl's wardrobe! The pocket edition coat buttons up high, has a warm hood on its shoulders; the puff sleeve frock features a panel treatment, scalloped Peter Pan collar. (Both in one pattern.)
 No. 2811 is cut in sizes 1, 2, 3, 4. Size 2 coat and hood, 1 3/4 yards 54-inch; dress, 1 1/2 yards 35-inch. Send 25 cents for each Pattern which includes complete sewing guide. Print your Name, Address and Style Number plainly. Be sure to state size you want. Include postal unit, or zone number in your address.
 Address: Pattern Department, The Charlottetown Guardian, Pattern No. 2811

2811

SIZES 1, 2, 3, 4

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ Province _____

Household

Scrapbook

By Roberta Lea

Bronze Paint

If applying gold or bronze paint to metal surfaces, prepare the surface first by painting with a metal primer. Then mix the bronze powder with a special bronzing liquid or with a mixture of one part benzine to two parts of spar varnish. Apply with a brush as with regular paint.

Poached Eggs

The spreading of eggs while poaching can be prevented if the boiling water is stirred in one direction and the egg dropped in the middle of the swirl.

Indelible Pencil

Marks made by indelible pencil may be removed from clothing by soaking the spot in denatured alcohol before washing.

ECZEMA?

RELIEVE PROMPTLY! Cuticura is scientifically medicated. Soothes itchy promptly—helps heal. Buy today sure!

CUTICURA SOAP & OINTMENT

Dear, it's time you knew about Parado!

Wise Mothers advise their daughters to take Parado, and thus save needless suffering due to periodic pains. Scientifically compounded from 4 ingredients, Parado helps relieve pain quickly—with no disagreeable after-effects. Excellent for headaches, too. The name "Dr. Chase's PARADOL" is your assurance.

DR. CHASE'S PARADOL

Quick Relief from Pain

TIMING... THE KEY to a perfect permanent every time!

Rayve's Dial-a-Wave tells you exactly how long to leave waving lotion on your hair for the wave you want!

End "Guesswork Timing" with

Rayve...the new HOME PERMANENT

SO FAST YET SO SURE! Results are always perfect... because your Rayve Number on the Dial-a-Wave is your instant guide to individual timing instructions in the direction booklet. You're sure to get just the amount of curl you want to... in the shortest possible time for your kind of hair.

LONGER LASTING, MORE NATURAL! Rayve's gentler-acting creme formula leaves your hair satin-soft, frizz-free... from the first day. Yet when you follow your Rayve Number, you know your wave will stay in till your hair grows out!

COMPLETE RAYVE KIT $2.50

REFILL KIT $1.25

Use with any plastic curlers. Both kits contain the Dial-a-Wave!

FROM THE FAMOUS PEPSODENT LABORATORIES