A SUCCESSFUL RUSE.

The late A. M. Simpson, the oldest Oddfellow in the world, who died during the winter at Staunton, Va., aged 85 years, was the subject discussion recently among a group of Oddfellows of Lynchburg, says the Atlanta Journal. "Mr. Simpson," said one, "was full of interesting experiences. I remember an experience of his about a theatre hat. He went one January on a junket to New York and naturally, the first evening in the metropolis, he visited a theatre. In those days women weren't compelled to take off their hats in the theatre; they could do as they pleased. "Well, Mr. Simpson sat in his orchestra chair, enjoying the play famously, when a woman in a two-foot hat plumped down in the seat in front of him. "She sighed. He sat, so to speak, on tiptoe. He craned his neck to the right and to the left. But in vain. Now that this woman was come he could see nothing of the stage. He saw only two black ostrich plumes, a bunch of grapes, a humming bird, and a bow of pink satin ribbon—from behind this mass the voices of the players came. "Mr. Simpson was a modest man, but after a good deal of silent suffering and a good deal of bashful hesitation, he leaned forward, touched the woman in front of him, and said in the politest tone: "Madam, will you kindly take off your hat?" "The woman ignored him—ignored him absolutely. He said, a little louder: "Will you please take off that big hat, madam? I can see nothing behind it." "She turned, gave him a scornful, withering look, and settled back in her former position again. "Madam," said Mr. Simpson very firmly, "if you do not remove that hat some thing most unpleasant will happen." "The woman ignored him again. "Mr. Simpson reached down under the seat, got his own hat, and put it on. Instantly, from all parts of the house, there came a loud and ferocious chorus: "Here take off that hat." "Hats off." "Hats off down in front." "Take off your hat." "The woman removed her hat instantly. At the same instant Mr. Simpson, chuckling, removed his own. Then the uproar ceased."

NORWAY THINKS OF A REPUBLIC

Important Events Predicted There Within Next Few Days.

LONDON, June 6.—(Special).—The Copenhagen correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says, "It is believed here that Norway intends to establish a Republic and that important events may be expected within the next few days." It is the general opinion that a dissolution between Norway and Sweden is inevitable, but it cannot occur without removing the existing Norwegian legal power. Before many days the Storting will have adopted reasonable resolutions which will mean the instant dethronement of the King.

Cormier, hotel and barn, just completed. T. S. Richard, general store: Fortunately it was a calm morning, otherwise nearly the whole business part of the town would have been swept away. CONDOLENCE.

To Bro. Archibald McKinnon, Victoria. Dear Sir and Brother. The members of Prince Arthur L. O. L. No. 1328 wish at this time to express their deepest sympathy for you in your sore loss and bereavement in the death of your beloved and devoted wife who has been summoned from earth to Heaven once more reminding us that in the midst of life we are in death. We would point you at this season of suffering and grief to the Man of Sorrows, who is acquainted with grief and give you not the consolation of despair but call you back to the busy scenes of life when your strong manhood and faith in God will show that the Creator has permitted this sore stroke in love and wisdom. We realize how helpless human sympathy is to bring relief to the stricken heart and we therefore commend you to Him who shares all our afflictions and sorrows praying that He may strengthen and sustain you until the day of the happy reunion in a brighter and better world. Signed on behalf of Lodge. JAMES WADDELL, D. S. McQUARRIE, GRISP MOORE, Committee.

REASON NO 32 WHY YOU SHOULD USE Red Rose Tea

Because of its Flavor. Why do you buy certain varieties of fruit and vegetables? Is it not because you like the flavor of some better than others? Flavor is the special quality which stamps one brand of food product as superior to another, and is the quality that always commands the highest price.

The delicate, fragrant flavor of Red Rose Tea is the result of scientific study and methods on the tea plantations, and in the tea testing and blending rooms.

It has what might be called a fruity taste—a rich, ripe flavor that is very pleasing to the palate—a taste you won't forget.

The Blue Label is recommended.

HARVARD'S HEAD TALKS ON DRAWING

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14.—President Elliott, of Harvard, declares drawing should be the most important study in public schools after the first rudiments of reading, writing and ciphering have been taught. His view is regarded as radical. At the opening of the Albright Art Gallery last night President Elliott was the orator and in the course of his address said:—

"The best place to inculcate the love of the beautiful is the schoolroom. To the rising generation the most effective lessons can be given, and from the schools millions of children will carry the lessons to millions of homes. After reading, spelling, writing and ciphering with small numbers and in simple operations, drawing should be the most important, common school subject. All children should learn how lines straight and curved and lights and shades form pictures and may be made to express symmetry and beauty. All children should acquire by use of pencil and brush, power of observation and exactness in copying and should learn through their own work what the elements of beauty are. It is monstrous that the common school should give much time to compound numbers, bank discount and stenography, and little time to drawing. It is monstrous that the school which prepares for college should give four or five hours a week for two years to Greek, and no time at all to drawing. The main object in every school should be, not to provide the children with means of earning a livelihood, but to show them how to live a happy and worthy life, inspired by ideals which exalt and dignify both labor and leisure. To see beauty and to love it is to possess large securities for such a life."

Instant Relief from Asthma.

Whenever you feel a coughing spell coming on, light a small quantity of Chester's Cure and inhale the smoke. The relief is instant. The vapor soothes the membranes, loosens the expectoration, prevents the horrible choking sensation. After you've used CHESTER'S CURE a few times, you'll notice the asthmatic attacks are less severe and farther apart. You'll find you rest easier, and probably sleep through the entire night without a coughing spell. Then you know Chester's Cure is doing you good, and will cure you if used faithfully. That's the testimony of hundreds cured by it. 50c and $1. If your druggist can't supply you, write us. Agents: THE LEEMING, MILLS CO. LTD., MONTREAL.
