BORING FOR OIL ON P. E. ISLAND.—The Halifax Sunday Leader says: An interesting ceremony took place near Charlottetown the other day. An American syndicate, the Dougherty interests, started boring for oil. They have an idea that they will strike it. If they do, Prince Edward Island will be famous for more things than big potatoes and handsome women. Governor's Island, where the boring is being done, is a small island situated outside Charlottetown harbor. The syndicate started operations with appropriate ceremonial. They invited the business men and the politicians and the big officials to witness the opening of the enterprise, for they had previously assembled a big plant on the island and with bands playing and flags flying the borer started in to bore and the syndicate expect it to bore for some time before it strikes oil, and if they are right in their calculations the boring will be followed by a gusher and the gusher by a big boom and the tight little province will be placed on the map good and solid. I hope the expectations of the big syndicate will be realized. If they are it is going to be a great day for "the island." Incidentally it will be a big day for the Maritimes. And by the same token another big company is preparing to start boring down Lake Ainslie way next spring. If they strike any gushers down there the coal mines will have to look to their laurels. "I.C.R." is prepared to put in an oil stove. Paying from $10.00 to $12.00 a ton for soft coal is not making him rich.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

The Central Royalty Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Roper, Willow Farm, on December 3rd.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the opening ode. Roll call was answered by the tendering of Christmas suggestions.

After the adoption of minutes and the transaction of routine business the following interesting program was rendered: Piano solo by Nadine Roper. Songs by Sinclair Meagison, Russell Roper and Leon Harvey.

Instrumental duet, by Mrs. Alexander Agnew and Nadine Roper. Recitation by Mrs. Fred Delory of Georgetown.

Reading by Mrs. John Spencer. The President, Mrs. Hammond Harper then explained that as the Institute was losing one of its members, viz. Mrs. Alex. Agnew, the members could not let her go without some little remembrance and appreciation.

Mrs. Harper then read an address and the Secretary, Mrs. J. F. Roper, presented Mrs. Agnew with a valuable gold pin. A similar address and presentation were also prepared for Mrs. Earl Williams, who was expected to be present but who was unable to attend.

The address to Mrs. Agnew was as follows: Dear Mrs. Agnew—The members of Central Royalty Women's Institute very much regret to learn that you, your husband and little family are leaving our community.

We shall miss you at our meetings where you were always willing to help entertain us with your music and other talents. We feel that we cannot let you leave without trying to show our regard in some tangible way. Please accept this small gift as a token of our love and esteem.

Canadian Pacific Compartment - Observation Sleepers

A most attractive feature of Canadian Pacific services between Saint John and Montreal is provided by the Compartment Observation sleepers which are now running on train 15, leaving Saint John at four o'clock in the afternoon and on train 16 leaving Montreal at seven o'clock in the morning. Each of these cars contains one drawing-room, three compartments, a large observation room and an observation platform, the latter of course being always placed at the rear end of the train. The observation room which is fitted with large windows, giving a practically unobstructed view on three sides, is intended as a lounge for the benefit of all sleeping car passengers on the train. It is supplied with the latest magazines, as well as with stationery and a writing desk. Each compartment contains one lower and one upper berth, and all toilet facilities, much like a drawing-room. Patrons travelling alone or in parties of two, who are unable to secure a drawing-room, will find a compartment most convenient, as well as distinctly lower in price. Needless to say, the whole car is fitted up to the best Canadian Pacific standard, thus ensuring
